DIGGING VICTIMS FROM QUAKE-WRECKED HOMES

Toll of Dead and Injured in Italian Disaster is Mounting Up to Appalling Figure.

Rome, Jan. 15.—Constantly shifting estimates based on reports that continue to trickle in, now place the death toll from Wednesday's earthquake at 20,000 and the injured at a number in excess of 335,000.

Hundreds, possibly thousands, of victims are still buried alive, imprisoned by the wreckage of their homes, while rescuers from every walk of life struggle desperately to dig them out.

King Aids in Work.
King Victor Emmanuel, who returned to Rome from Avezzano last night, personally superintended the release of a number of such unfortunate.

The king reached the capital in his private car, to which were attached three coaches bearing forty wounded. These, like the other hundreds who are slowly reaching Rome, were distributed about the hospitals, regular and extraordinary, in the city.

Pope Benedict this morning offered to the mayor of Rome the use of the hospital of Santa Marta, which he visited yesterday. The offer was gratefully accepted, and its 300 beds serve as a relief of the difficult situation.

Populations Wiped Out.

The principal loss of life and probably the chief property damage, appears to have been in Avezzano and the town of Sora, fifteen miles away. Both these municipalities were destroyed and their populations virtually wiped out. The latest reports place the number of dead in Avezzano at 10,000 and in Sora at 4,000. In at least sixty other towns affected more than 6,000 have been killed. From these towns came the majority of the injured. In Avezzano and Sora almost every one was killed.

The situation in Avezzano is increasingly grave because of the destruction of the aqueduct system and the consequent shutting off of the water supply. Communication is slowly being re-established and two hastily improvised hospitals and one refuge camp have been set up.

United States Embassy Helps.

The refugee forces have been augmented by the staff of the United States embassy at Rome, dispatched to Avezzano in automobiles by Ambassador Fage. The secretaries and attaches carried supplies of clothing and provisions for the sufferers.

Reports from Switzerland show that the quake was felt among the Alps and caused destructive avalanches there.

As in the Messina catastrophe it is believed that it will be weeks before the loss of life can be known or the property losses accurately compiled. The work of recovering bodies is proceeding slowly.

Confirms Gravity of Situation.

Minister of Public Works Cuffelli is in Avezzano where he has organized the work of rescue. He spent last night in a railroad car at the station. Today he began a tour of investigation to ascertain actual conditions in the country around Avezzano.

When the king was in Avezzano yesterday he was indefatigable in his efforts to encourage and help his people. He climbed over the ruins and gave words of praise to the rescuers. On several different occasions he urged the people to represent anything like an objection for himself, he spoke to the wounded and promised them assistance. He witnessed the extrication of a young girl still alive, gave directions for her succor and the next moment was sending telegraphic orders for the dispatch of further help and provisions to Avezzano.

Describes His Sensations.

Some of the survivors at Avezzano have not even yet sufficiently recovered from the shock of their experiences to tell a connected story of the visitation. One man who was taken yesterday

FORCED BACK ACROSS RIVER

Germans Under Von Kluck Drive French to Shelter Beyond Aisne.

FLOODS AND SNOW HAMPER FIGHTING

Activity North of Soissons is First Since Last September.

London, Jan. 15.—The violent German attack to the north of Soissons under the direction of General von Kluck which, coupled with a flood stage of the river has forced the French back across the Aisne, is the most striking news of the last 24 hours from the seat of war. The Germans have been gaining in this locality for several days, but they had not recovered all of the ground lost by them. This engagement north of Soissons is the first notable fighting in the vicinity since last September, when the British army, which subsequently was transferred to Belgium, was successful in crossing the Aisne.

Snow in the Vosges mountains and floods in Flanders still prevent any extensive operations on the eastern or the western wings and to British observers appears as though the Soissons district had been selected for the point where, with reinforcements and first line troops, the Germans are planning to display once more the hammering tactics so familiar during the autumn. On the other hand some war experts argue that the operations at Soissons may be undertaken to compel the allies to lessen the pressure in Alsace.

The British claim to have won a marked success several days ago near La Bassée when they drove the Germans from strongly entrenched positions, gaining one mile in distance and inflicting severe losses on their antagonists.

There has been no change of importance in the eastern arena of the war.

Italy has been momentarily distracted from thoughts of war by the devastating earthquake of January 13. The assertion is still being made in London that the allies confidently expect Italy to join them in due course.

OCCUPY SIX VILLAGES.

Berlin Reports on German Successes in France.

Berlin, Jan. 15.—(By Wireless to London).—The German official statement on the progress of the war, in its reference today to the engagements north of Soissons in France, says the north bank of the river Aisne in this vicinity has been cleared of French troops, and it mentions six villages north and north-east of Soissons which have been occupied by German troops. The French suffered heavily and retired to the south of the Aisne under the fire of the German heavy artillery.

LODGE PUTS BLAME WHOLLY ON CONGRESS

Says Defense of Country is Imperfect, Unbalanced and Deficient.

Washington, Jan. 15.—In urging upon the senate the need of a commission to report upon the military preparedness, or for a permanent council of national defense, Senator Lodge today declared that the defense of the country "is not only imperfect and unbalanced but that it has grave and in some instances fatal deficiencies." He designated what he termed many of the defects and said they were "almost wholly due to congress."

An adequate national defense, the senator said, could be obtained without additional expenditure. "Out of your needless army posts, navy yards and stations," he advised the senate. "Lay aside for a few years appropriations for public building and river and harbor improvements where they are not needed. Drop all the expenditures which are designed for spots where votes are being thickened, and you will have money enough to provide for a sufficient army and an adequate navy without adding to the burden of taxation."

He warned that the ocean barrier that defended the country in 1776 and in 1812 had been destroyed by steam and electricity. Unarmed, unready, untrained, the nation stands an invitation to aggression and attack, he said. Senator Lodge asserted that not only the regular army but the militia was highly defective, adding that the Panama canal was "miserably and most inadequately protected" against being blown up and blocked for months by a bomb or spies of a hostile nation. He said the recommendation of Secretary Garrison for a 25,000 increase in men was very moderate.

CABINET WILL HOLD NIGHT MEETINGS NOW

Washington, Jan. 15.—President Wilson has broken another precedent and will hold night cabinet meetings. Beginning tonight the cabinet will meet in the president's study every Friday at 8 p. m. for informal discussion of the government's business.

After the adjournment of the last session of congress the president abandoned the custom of holding two cabinet meetings each week and the cabinet assembled only on Tuesday morning. He has now decided, however, that it will be advantageous for the cabinet members to meet informally once a week and take up department business and general policies.

It was said at the white house that there was no other significance to this arrangement.

OPPOSITIONS ARE HEARD.

Mass Grain Inspection Bill Draws Fire from Many Quarters.

Washington, Jan. 15.—Opponents of the mass grain inspection bill were heard today by the senate agriculture committee. The bill, which would require inspection of all grain shipped from the United States, drew fire from many quarters.

AUBURN MAN PRESENTS IT

FOLLOWS RALSTON MESSAGE CLOSELY

Another Would Repeal Lake County Salary Raise Measure.

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 15.—The appearance of the administration's anti-lobby bill prepared by Senator Glenn VanAuken, of Auburn, and the introduction of a bill by Democratic Leader Vannoy to follow the governor's recommendations and repeal the Lake county salary increase bill, which was responsible for the legislative investigation into the proceedings of the 1913 general assembly by the Marion county grand jury were the more important of seven measures introduced into the upper house today before adjournment was taken until Monday afternoon.

The anti-lobby bill which has been promised all week was rushed along this morning so that it could get into the hands of the committee before the senate would adjourn until next week. Senator VanAuken had not yet completed the draft when the roll call for the introduction of bills was called for and was given unanimous consent to introduce it just before the senate adjourned.

What It Provides.

The bill is a lengthy one and follows very closely the recommendations of the governor in his message on the subject. The bill provides for the registration with the secretary of state of any person, firm or corporation employed as a "legislative counsel," "legislative agent" or lobbyist. The paid lobbyist would be issued a card of identification giving his name, nature of his employment and the matters of legislation in which he is interested upon the payment of a registration fee of two dollars. A statement containing a record of all expenses paid or incurred is required to be filed thirty days after the close of the session by the secretary of state.

Foreign corporations would be compelled to give a $1,000 bond with the secretary of state before they would be issued a lobby permit. The bill further provides that it shall be unlawful for any public official, either elective or appointive, to receive any compensation for lobbying. This same rule would apply to newspaper men and other parties having access to the floor of the senate.

A fine of not less than $200 or more than $1,000 and a prison sentence of not less than three months or more than one year are provided as penalties for the act.

2:00 p. m.—Meeting for boys and girls. Dr. Lyon will speak upon "The Building of a Life."

7:30 p. m.—Song service led by Mr. Jones.

8:00 p. m.—Sermon by Dr. Lyon.

Dr. Milford H. Lyon gave the invitation Thursday night to all who wished to lead better lives to come forward one day earlier in a campaign than ever before in the history of his evangelistic work.

One hundred and fifty-one responded, shook hands with the evangelist and signed cards.

It was the most wonderful sight ever seen in the city of Fort Wayne. Men, women, girls and boys rushed forward, some crying, some smiling and others with an expression of determination.

Persuasion was not necessary. For nearly two weeks Dr. Lyon has been preaching the word of God, personal workers have been active outside the meeting and the entire city has been aroused as never before. Hundreds more are under conviction who did not take the step Thursday night.

"Isn't this glorious!" exclaimed Dr. Lyon. People stood on seats. There was handclapping and applause as different ones marched bravely down the aisle, many from the extreme rear of the tabernacle, to take a stand for Christ.

An Inspiring Scene.

Perhaps the most inspiring scene of the entire meeting was when the high school boys went forward, followed by the high school girls. They came so fast that it was all that Dr. Lyon could do to shake hands with them all.

Tired almost to exhaustion, Dr. Lyon seemed to regain his strength as the people pressed forward. Eight rows of seats in the middle section were vacated for the new converts and these were soon filled. Then about the same number of seats in the section to the west were vacated and these, too, were filled in no time.

Came as a Surprise.

Members of his party did not know that the evangelist intended to give the invitation. Perhaps Dr. Lyon didn't know it himself until he had almost finished his sermon. Something told him that the time was at hand and as he expressed it Jesus seemed to take the meeting right out of his hands.

"This is not man's work, but God's work," he said. "Seems to me Jesus has taken this meeting out of my hands."

At the close of one of the most appealing sermons he has delivered, Dr. Lyon suddenly asked: "Who will be the first?"

First Convert.

The words had scarcely been spoken when a young woman, with tears trickling down her cheeks, marched forward. For some time she stood before the platform before the evangelist noticed her. "God bless you!" the evangelist shouted when he saw her standing there before him, the first to take the step in what bids fair to be one of the greatest religious campaigns in Indiana.

Soon others followed. Then came a steady stream that continued for several minutes. Kneeling on one knee Dr. Lyon leaned far over the platform and shook hands with every new convert. Rev. Pitzer, Mrs. Lyon and other members of the party cleared the benches and directed the converts to their seats. They came so fast that it was all they could do to take care of them.

Among those who came forward it was noticeable that there were many who had been in the city for some time. The list, as a matter of fact, included those in almost every walk of life.

Converts Take Pledge.

Dr. Lyon had the converts to kneel and repeat after him: "I do receive Jesus, the Son of God, as my Lord and Savior."

"May they never doubt that," Dr. Lyon prayed. "Ours shall be a great work."

SOME FLASHES FROM DR. LYON'S SERMONS

Real salvation is not simply in going to church.

Religion never saved anybody. A man might be as religious as the devil and go where the devil goes.

Many things are important that are not essential.

Going to church doesn't any more make you a Christian than going to a stable makes you a horse or going to a garage makes you an automobile.

Many folks have joined church just the same as they join a club or lodge.

Whenever a person is born again the after-going won't bother them.

If you are born but once you will die twice, but if you are born twice you will die but once.

Regeneration cannot be explained; it must be experienced.

When a person means business he'll go anywhere or do anything that's reasonable to show his faith in Jesus.

The kind of religion you can get without knowing it, you are apt to lose without knowing it.

Many folks don't seem to know whether they are saved or not. When a man gets really in love he knows it.

Hearing is Held Before Representative of Inter-State Commission.

Royal T. McKenna, of Washington, D. C., a representative of the interstate commerce commission, heard the testimony in a number of cases in the court room at the federal building, Friday.

"The interstate commerce commission is giving Fort Wayne and surrounding territory more attention than ever before," Mr. McKenna stated. "This is the second hearing we have held here within a month." Mr. McKenna is a nephew of Justice Joseph McKenna, of the United States supreme court.

Among the cases heard was one brought by the Miller Manufacturing company against the Baltimore & Ohio Railway company, the Baltimore & Ohio Southwestern Railway company and the St. Louis Merchants' Bridge Terminal Railway company. The case involves six carload shipments of wooden tent pins from Hicksville, Ohio, to St. Louis for the transportation of which charges appear to have been collected at the fifth class rate of 17 cents per 100 pounds. The complaint charges the tent pins are entitled to lumber rating.

Testimony in the case brought by the Union City Hoop and Lumber company against the Cleveland, Cincinnati, Chicago and St. Louis Railway company, involving shipments of logs from Rockford, Ohio, to Union City was heard. The case brought by the Crook Son & Co., the allegations being similar to those in the case brought by the Miller Manufacturing company, also was heard.

Among those slated to go, according to the mayor, who is himself under indictment, are Robert Lloyd, patrolman; Harry Forbeck, engineer's office; Enno Harms, city hall custodian; and Claude Patton, cemetery superintendent. It is understood that the pay checks of the men have been made out up to the day of arraignment and that unless they resign they will be removed.

Ralston had accepted the invitation to speak in Fort Wayne at the opening of the new Palace theater on January 25. He will be here as the guest of the Commercial club.

A committee composed of Charles L. Biederwolf, Guy Colerick and Maurice Niezer called on the Governor Friday, personally, and extended the invitation to him to speak at the opening of the new playhouse.

POPE BENEDICT DID NOT LEAVE VATICAN

Rome, Jan. 15.—Some of the newspapers announce that Pope Benedict in visiting the wounded at the Santa Maria hospital, left the vatican, thus interrupting the traditional imprisonment of the pope always adhered to by Pope Pius IX. and Pius X. after the fall of the temporal power, meaning thus to protest against the occupation of Rome.

In reality the pontiff, did not leave the vatican, but passing through the apostolic palace inside of St. Peter's he reached the hospital without touching Italian soil. His predecessor did the same thing when he visited the wounded brought to Santa Maria hospital after the earthquake in Messina.

For those beginning the Christian life the following pledge is taken: "I do receive Jesus Christ, the Son of God as my personal Savior, and I now confess Him as my Lord and Master." For those coming back to Christ the following pledge is taken: "I do now renew my covenant with Christ, and propose henceforth to do His will." For those identifying themselves with Christian activity in this city the following pledge is taken: "I intend to bring my church membership to this city and I desire to be useful here in Christian service."

Several Delegations.

More than half of the tabernacle was reserved Thursday night for special delegations, among them being the high school, W. C. T. U., the men of the Presbyterian and Grace Reformed churches, the International Business college, and the Fort Wayne Bible Training school. Various alumni associations also were represented. As each delegation marched into the tabernacle there was tremendous cheering.

With Morton Williams as yell leader, who was called to the platform by Mr. Jones, the members of the high school gave their entire list of yells that fairly caused the walls of the building to shake. Each class also gave its individual yell. Students of the International Business college gave yell after yell. The students of the Fort Wayne Bible Training school had a yell. Even the men of the Presbyterian and Grace Reformed churches and the W. C. T. U. yelled.

Dr. Lyon Pleased.

Dr. Lyon smiled from ear to ear and was immensely pleased. Such demonstrations are seldom seen. The evangelist had a word for each delegation. After the yelling Mr. Jones had the audience to sing "The Old Time Religion."

The parade of the men of the Presbyterian and Grace Reformed churches extended for three blocks. Students of the International Business college sang alone "Jesus Will Sustain You." Suddenly the students of the high school burst forth with a yell something like this: "Hail, hail the gang's all here. Hurrah for Dr. Lyon." This was repeated a number of times.

Pointing to Morton Williams as he was directing the yell Dr. Lyon said: "That fellow ought to be an evangelist." All the senior boys wore red flannel shirts and white neckties, red and white being their class colors.

The Great Essential.

Dr. Lyon spoke Thursday night on "The Great Essential," declared by many to be the greatest sermon he has delivered. He spoke from the text: "Ye Must Be Born Again," which he characterized as the great essential.

terized as the great essential if one wishes to reach the kingdom of heaven.

"If you are to be saved you need new life from God," he said. But regeneration is not merely information. Regeneration is, as evidenced by the word itself, a reforming or remodeling of what one already has. It is the bringing in of a new power and life. Merely turning over a new leaf is not salvation.

Dr. Lyon declared that religion never saved anybody.

"A man might be as religious as the devil and go where the devil goes," he continued.

The world says man is good enough as he is, but the gospel says to be saved it is necessary to have new life and new power.

Conversion of a Drayman.

A drayman who had been a very wicked and profane man, was converted in a meeting recently.

"Some nights afterward he came up to me at the close of the service and shook my hand very earnestly," Dr. Lyon said. "Oh said he, 'this being a Christian is great. Even my own horses know that I am saved. Formerly when I hitched them up, one would get his foot over the wagon tongue or step on the neckrope. I would strike and kick him and swear. But I don't do it any more, and they look at me so surprised and pleased.'"

"Going to church doesn't any more make you a Christian than going to a stable makes you a horse or going to a garage makes an automobile of you," Dr. Lyon declared.

The evangelist said he realized it was harder for a rich man to be a Christian than a poor man.

"You may have everything else, but if you haven't Jesus, Son of God, as your personal Savior, God says you haven't life."

Matter of Life or Death.

Dr. Lyon said it was not a matter of good or bad, or good or better, but that it is a matter of life or death.

Thin People Can Increase Weight

Thin men and women who would like to increase their weight with 10 or 15 pounds of healthy "fleshy flesh" should try eating a little Sargol with their meals for a while and note results. Here is a good test worth trying. First weigh yourself and measure yourself. Then take Sargol—one tablet with every meal—for two weeks. Then weigh and measure again. It isn't a question of how you look or feel or what your friends say and think. The scales and the tape measure will tell their own story, and most any thin man or woman can easily add from five to eight pounds in the first fourteen days by following this simple direction. And best of all, the new flesh stays put.

Sargol does not of itself make fat, but mixing with your food, it turns the fats, sugars and starches of what you have eaten, into rich, ripe fat producing nourishment for the tissues and blood—prepares it in an easily assimilated form which the blood can readily accept. All this nourishment new power from your body as waste. But Sargol stops the waste and does it quickly and makes the fat-producing processes of the body same as when you are eating new develop pounds and pounds of healthy flesh between your arm and bone. Sargol is a safe, pleasant, potent and powerful.

At the close of the service a meeting of the women appointed by the pastors was held on the platform. On Friday night the evangelist will speak on the "Wages of Sin," which is regarded as one of his masterpieces. Meetings for men and women will be held on Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Many folks join the church, he continued, just as they join a club or lodge.

The evangelist advocated the celebration of the spiritual birthday as well as the physical birthday. As a matter of fact, the spiritual birthday is of much more importance.

"If you are born but once you will die twice, but if you are born twice you will die but once," he said.

Dr. Lyon declared he could no more explain the second birth than he could the first. The whole thing is a mystery.

"You quibble about the new birth, why don't you quibble about electricity?" he asked.

Every person must have their own experience in being born again. "Regeneration cannot be explained, it must be experienced," he said. "If you meet the conditions for regeneration, you may be sure that God will give the results."

If a person will do what he thinks a Christian ought to do he'll not have to wait very long to have the assurance that he is a Christian, according to Dr. Lyon.

When a man gets really in love he knows it, Dr. Lyon said. He declared the same was true in religion.

The evangelist said he had found that being a church member in Fort Wayne doesn't mean anything.

At the close of his sermon he asked all who know they are saved to hold up their hands. Several hands were extended. Then he asked all who believed in Jesus Christ as the Son of God, to hold up their hands. More hands were extended than on the first proposition.

Wonderful Prayer.

Before beginning his sermon Thursday night Dr. Lyon offered a most wonderful prayer. He did not forget anybody. He prayed for the doctors, not to look upon the human body as a mere piece of meat, the students, lawyers, editors, bankers, barbers, railroad men, mail clerks, telephone girls, teachers, pastors, reporters, members of the chorus and others.

National W. C. T. U. day was observed at the tabernacle. Dr. Lyon said there were three things that keep the liquor business alive as follows: Avarice, appetite and apathy.

"God speed the day when we'll have this nation free of the blight and curse of the liquor business," he said.

In speaking to the high school students Dr. Lyon said: "If these young people were consecrated to Christ we could turn this city upside down or right side up."

He said it always makes him glad to have the students come. He likes the enthusiasm they cause.

Christians Should Be Happy.

Mr. Jones sang as a solo: "Jesus."

The song service was necessarily short on account of the yelling. Mr. Jones led one song with his trap and drums.

When Dr. Lyon gave his own college yell the students applauded for some time.

At the close of the service a meeting of the women appointed by the pastors was held on the platform. On Friday night the evangelist will speak on the "Wages of Sin," which is regarded as one of his masterpieces. Meetings for men and women will be held on Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Mrs. Barr spoke about twenty minutes. The music was in charge of Mr. and Mrs. Loren O. Jones. Several meetings were held in the schools Thursday morning, conducted by members of the Lyon party.

Many Lost Articles.

There are a number of lost articles of different description that have been turned in to the office at the west side of the platform. These articles and all other things that may be lost during the campaign, if found and turned in may be had by calling upon F. N. Palmer, local custodian of the tabernacle, at any hour after ten o'clock in the morning.

PLANS TO WED BY PROXY.

Colorado Girl to Become Bride of Resident of Java.

Colorado Springs, Jan. 15.—Miss Eugenia Campbell, daughter of Mary J. Campbell, of Colorado Springs, and Jan Pieter Scholossen, of Semarang, Java, will be married by proxy Wednesday.

The father of the groom to be is a wealthy oil magnate in Java. In September, 1913, Miss Campbell was thrown unceremoniously into Scholossen's lap when a train came to a sudden stop. Apologies and an engagement followed.

The proxy wedding was set for last September, but was postponed because of the war. A ring for 200 years an heirloom in the Scholossen family, will be used in the ceremony here.

WARD OF HOWARD COUNTY.
Attorney General's Opinion as to Baby Born at Girls' School.

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 15.—A child born while the mother is an inmate of a state institution is a ward of the county where the mother had her legal residence before commitment, according to an opinion by Attorney General Milburn. The ruling was in the case of a baby born in the girls' reform school in Indianapolis, to which the mother was committed from Howard county. The child is in the Marion County Orphans' home.

Mr. Milburn rules that the child should be a ward of the Howard county court, and that on application of officials of the reform school the court must provide for the child's maintenance. Dr. Kenosha Sessions, head of the reform school, asked the attorney general for a ruling in the case, saying that

Marion county in the past has been called on to provide for children born under similar circumstances. Several children have been committed to Marion county institutions who properly belong in other county institutions, it is said, and the ruling will clear the way for the children to be placed under the jurisdiction of courts which properly have responsibility for their maintenance.

PLEASANT SMILE IS PASSPORT IN WAR-TORN INTERIOR OF MEXICO.

San Francisco, Cal., Jan. 15.—Armed with riding crops and the universal pass-word of a woman's smile, three young society favorites of Chicago and New York were marooned here for a few days on their way to wildest Mexico in quest of thrilling adventure. They are Mrs. O. L. Hunter and her sister, Miss Claire White of Chicago, and Mrs. Frances B. Tait of New York. For some years they have made annual trips to Mexico.

Here are some of the thrillers they expect to experience: Hunting big game, yachting and swimming. Riding within sight of battles, possibly. Mule-team trips across the deserts. Night rides through the Yaqui Indian country. And they haven't one single fire-arm in their baggage!

SISTER RUTH CALLS COLONY LIFE PURE
Wife Comes to Defense of Accused Benton Harbor Leader.

Portland, Ore., Jan. 15.—"There never was a worse lie told. Benjamin of the Israelite House of David is pure as the driven snow. He is the Seventh Angel as predicted in the Scriptures."

Irving Smith and Sister Ruth, His Wife.

At the Benton Harbor colony we live pure and undefiled. This spoke Irving Smith, brother of Benjamin, leader of the House of David colony at Benton Harbor, concerning which two women made grave charges directed at the head of the cult.

Irving Smith and Sister Ruth, his wife, carry on the evangel of the House of David here. "We simply live as brothers and sisters," explained Sister Ruth, married to Irving Smith under strange rites. "We agreed before marriage to live that sort of a life, since we know that only through the 'virgin law' can the body be preserved."

"I have lived in the same house with Mary and Benjamin for the past eight years, and I personally know that there is nothing that even tends toward immorality."

"He lives and teaches the virgin law. I was married at the colony of my own free will. I know there is no compulsion about these marriages. 'These women,' she said, referring to those who have made charges against Benjamin and some of his followers, 'say people of our faith are forced to live apart after marriage. That is agreed to before marriage, a life of celibacy.'"

"The true believers," added Irving Smith, "will be chosen from the world's population, and they will know the secret of life eternal in the flesh."

LIKE A DRAGON FLY BEING SNOW-BALLED
Writer Pictures Scene as Germans Shell French Aeroplane.

London, Jan. 15.—An English officer at the front writes home the following interesting letter about war in the air: The prettiest thing of the whole lot to watch, if you aren't an aviator, is the Germans shelling one of our aeroplanes. They have a special anti-aeroplane gun, which must, I think, be mounted on a motor carriage, as it is very mobile, and which obviously can be fired at any angle from the horizontal to straight up in the air. It must work on the skyrocket principle, as it lets go a regular string of shells, and considering the tremendous difficulties of the target the Germans are amazingly skillful with it. They use a fuse which can be set to burst at a fixed height above the ground. When they spot an aeroplane they first burst three or four shells with different lengths of fuse, to discover its height.

Having got that they loose off in rapid succession anything up to a dozen shells, all bursting at the same height. If they are lucky they burst all around the machine; they hope that even if they do not actually hit it the explosions will make air pockets which, disturbing its balance, will make it fall. I don't know what it feels like to be an aeroplane pilot, but it is quite fascinating to watch from a safe place on the ground. You see an aeroplane, looking for all the world like a dragon-fly up in the sky. As you watch it a lump of cotton-wool suddenly appears somewhere behind it, then another and another. These are the German shells, bursting. They hang in the air looking just like snowballs in the distance, or lumps of cotton-wool if you are close, and then they very slowly spread out and gradually disappear. Meanwhile fresh shells keep bursting, and it looks exactly like a dragon-fly being snowballed.

Psalm 151:1-5.

- 1 Lord, who shall abide in thy tabernacle? who shall dwell in thy holy hill?
- 2 He that walketh uprightly, and worketh righteousness, and speaketh the truth in his heart.
- 3 He that backbiteth not with his tongue, nor doeth evil to his neighbour, nor taketh up a reproach against his neighbour.
- 4 In whose eyes a vile person is contemned; but he honoureth them that fear the Lord. He that sweareth to his own hurt, and changeth not.

Uncle Sam Behind It.

That the government of the United States is really behind the inquiry into alleged election frauds at Terre Haute, and similar action which is to be taken regarding charges from Evansville, Indianapolis and Danville, Ill., is now definitely known.

"When the federal law is violated, the violators must be punished." This sentence is taken from the letter written by the department of justice to United States District Attorney Dailey, at Indianapolis. It also appears in a letter from the department to United States District Attorney Karch, at Danville, Ill.

It is the administration's slogan with respect to frauds committed at elections at which candidates for United States senator and representative in the congress were voted for. The meaning of the declaration is, according to the department of justice, that the department will stand behind the United States district attorneys who undertake the ferreting out of election frauds and the prosecution of violators of the law.

The public is to be congratulated on the fact that the federal department of justice has so promptly and so definitely gotten behind the effort to purify elections.

The board of public safety has ordered the drafting for passage by the city council of an ordinance that will empower the city authorities to put a stop to theatrical performances of an indecent or immoral character in Fort Wayne. It is an ordinance that cannot be made too strong or enforced too rigidly. In many cities good results are being secured through the appointment of a board of censorship which is empowered to at any time close any theatrical performance or any moving picture presentation which is calculated to either give offense or exert a harmful influence upon those who may patronize it.

One of the cases on trial in the local courts during the present week offered another opportunity for the rallying of the particular species of human degenerate that feasts on salacious details of frailty and misdoing, and they packed the room where the hearing was held, eagerly drinking in every word of the off-color and malodorous mess. It is not only striking evidence of depravity but requires brazen effrontery of the monumental sort to flock to an affair of this kind. After all, however, there's no accounting for tastes.

A most interesting advance step in education has been taken at the Jefferson school, where pupils maintain a miniature grocery at which they are taught the modus operandi of correct buying, making the computation for their purchases, study food values, the sources of foods and economy in making their money do the greatest amount of service. The fact that the work is made "play" for them in no wise detracts from its value, and we think the departure is intensely practical and wholly commendable.

Those who have entertained the belief that it would be impossible to awaken positive and general interest in a union evangelistic movement in Fort Wayne should pay a visit to the Lyon tabernacle prepared to make a quick and decisive change of opinion, for they will change it without a doubt. With the great building literally packed each evening, hundreds unable to gain admission nightly, and the effort still in but its second week, it is clearly evident that Fort Wayne wanted the evangelistic campaign.

Dr. J. N. Hurty, secretary of the state board of health, is coming to Fort Wayne again next Monday evening to discuss the prolongation of life through public health agencies. You may not always agree with Dr. Hurty, but it must be admitted that his speeches have in them to a very marked degree that which has come to be known as "the punch." He is always worth hearing.

ANOTHER ROUSING MEETING FOR MEN

Dr. Lyon Speaks on Subject of "A Noble Deed" at the Court House.

Another rousing meeting was held at 8 o'clock Friday in the assembly room of the court house, the room being small to accommodate those desiring to hear Dr. Lyon. A special service was rendered by the Hayden choir and the audience sang "Showers of Blessing" and "When the Roll is Called." Dr. Lyon spoke on the subject of "A Noble Deed" and his message was well received.

First verse, "Sir, we would see Jesus." From the incident as recorded in John's gospel of the Greeks coming up to the temple to worship, the evangelist applied some practical lessons.

"The chief reason that so many get no blessing when they go to the house of God is that they do not go after blessing," Dr. Lyon declared. The one reason that keeps so many from seeking Jesus is sin.

"How is the world to see Jesus?" Dr. Lyon asked. "Largely through you and me, if they ever see Him at all. Comparatively few people read the Bible, but they do read our lives. Folks do not so much doubt the historic Christ as they doubt the representation of Him in the lives of His professed followers."

Makes Dramatic Close.

In closing Dr. Lyon said: "There are those who in Heaven that come off as if they had been in the world, and those who in the world that come off as if they had been in Heaven."

all we want to see Jesus. The glory of his face will give us joy throughout eternity, but unless you see Jesus here by the eye of faith, you never will see Him hereafter."

The next noon-day meeting for men will be held at the court house, Tuesday.

Mrs. Amanda E. Dailey Dies Following a Stroke of Apoplexy.

Mrs. Amanda Elizabeth Dailey, widow of Thomas Dailey, who died in 1875, died Friday morning at the St. Joseph hospital where she was removed three days ago after she had suffered a stroke of apoplexy at her home at 722 West DeWald street. Death came at the age of 75 years.

Mrs. Dailey was a life-long resident of Fort Wayne and was born in 1841, in the house that stood in the middle of the Apple Orchard, which was located when Lakeside now stands. She was well known to many Fort Wayne people who will all be grieved to learn of her demise. She had been in the best of health and had regularly been attending the Lyon tabernacle meetings and expected to go that evening when she sustained the stroke.

She was a devoted member of the Calvary United Brethren church and active in all of its affairs and is survived by one stepson—Thomas Dailey, and two sons, Eph. P. Dailey, of Nelson street, and John H. Dailey, of Broadway.

REV. GUSTAV DOEGE ARRIVES IN CITY

New Pastor of Trinity German Lutheran Church to Be Installed Sunday.

Rev. Gustave Doege, the new minister of the Trinity German Lutheran church, arrived in the city Friday afternoon at 3:45 o'clock over the Pennsylvania and was met at the depot by a committee from the church of which Herman Witte was chairman and accompanied the pastor and his family to their new home in Bloomington.

The congregation had made all preparations for his arrival and all that the minister and his family had to do was to enter the house and make themselves at home. Members of the congregation, upon the arrival of the car a few days ago which contained all of Rev. Doege's household furniture began at once to move them into the parsonage.

Rev. Doege, who accepted the call of the local congregation, comes from Fremont, South Dakota, where for several years he was in charge of a large congregation. He will be installed next Sunday morning at 10 o'clock by Prof. Louis Dorn, of the Concordia College, who has had charge of the affairs of the congregation since the resignation of Rev. Paul Stoeppleworth.

The congregation has decided to make the pastor feel as comfortable as possible and the real reception and celebration in honor of his coming to their church will be held Sunday, January 21. All arrangements for this affair have not yet been completed, however, it promises to be an extensive affair.

GIRLS! LOTS OF BEAUTIFUL HAIR NO DANDRUFF-25 CENT DANDERINE

Hair coming out? If dry, thin, faded, bring back its color and lustre.

Within ten minutes after an application of Danderine you cannot find a single trace of dandruff or falling hair, and your scalp will not itch, but what will please you most will be after a few weeks' use, when you see new hair, fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair—growing all over the scalp.

A little Danderine immediately doubles the beauty of your hair. No difference how dull, faded, brittle and scraggy, just moisten a cloth with Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. The effect is amazing—your hair will be light, fluffy and wavy, and have an appearance of abundance; an incomparable lustre, softness and luxuriance.

Get a 25 cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter, and prove that your hair is as pretty and soft as any—that it has been neglected or injured by careless treatment—that's all—you surely can have beautiful hair and lots of it if you will just try a little Danderine.—Adv.

Mrs. John M. Landenberger gave a kaffee klatsch this afternoon in honor of her aunt, Mrs. Kate Dettman, of Jackson, Mich., who has been visiting her sisters and friends here for a fortnight. As Mrs. Dettman plans to return home tomorrow the afternoon affair was in the nature of a farewell. There were fourteen guests and Mrs. Landenberger served a supper of perfect cuisine. The rooms had beautiful pink roses for decoration and the affair was wholly delightful.

AREA DEVASTATED BY EARTHQUAKE

DIGGING VICTIMS FROM

day from a ruins said: "I had a sensation as though some one was forcing me to dance. Then I was thrown to the ground, and the roof and the walls fell upon my head. Even after I was half buried the earth seemed to heave and grow hot."

A priest was saying mass in a church when he felt the first shock. He rushed under an arch of the building and this saved his life. His acolytes were struck down and killed. The shocks destroyed the aqueduct system of Avezzano and there is today no water in the town.

It is reported that a statue of the virgin Mary forty feet high which stood on the shore of Lake Fucino, has been thrown into the water. There is considerable danger that the drained land in this vicinity will be flooded.

Boy Gave First News.

A wagoner's apprentice, a boy of 13 years, was the first person to give the news of Avezzano to the outside world. He succeeded in getting back into the town a few minutes after the first shock. He found a railroad employee and persuaded this man, with his help to rig up a telegraph instrument in a freight car and connect it with a wire that was still intact. On the instrument the railroad man, who is an operator, soon got Rome. The two together then sent the first news of the disaster.

The pope offered to the mayor of Rome the use of the hospital of Santa Marta, with 300 beds. The mayor accepted this offer at once.

Automobiles Carry Relief.

There has been organized in Rome a private expedition to send out automobiles loaded with relief. Over 300 machines already have left for Avezzano. They carried blankets, medicines, food and cordials. Among the members of the Italian nobility active in relief work are Prince Borghese, Prince Colonna, Prince Altiery and Prince Potenzi.

The pope is anxious about the fate of Monsignor Jannotta, bishop of Sorra, from whom nothing has been heard. Recent reports of casualties set forth that there were seventy victims of the earthquake at Castelliri; 37 dead and 170 wounded at Isola and ten dead at Capolacetro. At this last mentioned place the casualties are almost all among the relatives of the local priest.

NEWS IS COMING SLOWLY.

But New Disaster Will Closely Approach That at Messina.

Rome, Jan. 15.—News from the earthquake stricken districts of Italy still comes in slowly but enough is known to show that the disaster closely approaches that which befell Messina six years ago. Estimates of the killed and injured vary from 25,000 to 50,000 and it probably will be days before exact figures are available.

Avezzano, sixty miles east of Rome and Sorra, fifteen miles south of Avezzano were the worst sufferers, so far as loss of life is concerned but about sixty towns and villages in all suffered either total demolition or serious damage.

Reports today from the north say the shock was felt as far as the Swiss frontier and that in the Alps in that region there were numerous avalanches, the result of the earthquake. This would make it appear that the earthquake extended throughout the entire length of Italy with the exception of the extreme southern end.

The Italian government and people have quickly responded to the call for help from the stricken people. Thousands of troops have been sent to the scene and the work of rescue and relief is going on night and day. Supplies of food, clothing, blankets and medicines have been dispatched by train where possible and by motor cars where the railroads are blocked. The central committee of the Red Cross was quick to act, having ordered all of its members to join in the relief work at the scene of the disaster. Troops have been sent by the government wherever needed and they were ordered to assist in excavating the ruins, to build wooden huts for survivors, transport the injured and guard property. King Victor Emmanuel, according to advices reaching here, is tireless in his endeavors in the rescue work.

Messages reaching here from along the line from Rome to Tivoli, Carcoli and Avezzano say that everywhere the king passes the people rush to greet him to express their gratitude. The king, it is stated, asked all to abandon unnecessary formalities and desist from inappropriate demonstrations. His only wish, he says, is to visit the wounded and express to them his sympathy and to ascertain what is possible to be done to relieve so much misery.

Having heard that means of transportation are still lacking the king has ordered that all the automobiles at the royal palace be immediately dispatched for use in the stricken districts. In his travels, whenever he reaches a telegraph station, the king sends messages to Queen Helena, who wishes to hear all details of the disaster.

Pope Deeply Grieved.

Pope Benedict is deeply grieved over the misfortune which has befallen the Italian people. He showed his deep interest and sympathy by an unusual visit to the Santa Marta hospital, where forty-one persons, injured during the earthquake, are receiving treatment.

His holiness spoke to each single one of the patients, asking for particulars of the disaster and inquiring about their families. He consoled them by saying that he would entrust to the clergy the task of seeking their relatives and by imparting to all the apostolic benediction.

The American ambassador, Thomas N. Page, called at the ministry of the interior yesterday to express the sympathy of America over the disaster which has befallen Italy. He intimated a desire to send members of the embassy to the earthquake district to give such aid as they could, if there was no objection. He was informed that the Italian government would much appreciate such sympathetic initiative and soon thereafter the ambassador dispatched an automobile with Second Secretary Norval Richardson, Lieutenant Commander Charles Train, the naval attaché, and Private Secretaries John Harrison and Marion Sims Wyeth. They started for the Avezzano district with supplies, especially blankets, which they will distribute. The party expects to return to Rome by Friday night.

Ambassador Page Active.

Ambassador Page is ready to appoint an American relief committee, while Mrs. Page will appoint a committee of ladies, if necessary, to aid in the Italian work of relief.

Avezzano presents a scene of wreck and desolation, according to advices received from that place. Practically every building in the town is in ruins and nearly all its people are dead or injured. Many are still alive, buried under the debris, and the rescuers are working night and day in an endeavor to reach them.

Late advices say that about five hundred bodies have been recovered and that hundreds of injured have been taken from the ruins. Nearly all the civil officials of Avezzano, including the mayor, lost their lives.

Similar conditions exist in the towns and villages around Avezzano, Magliano, to the north and Pescara, to the east, are practically in ruins. Among the missing in the last named place is Monsignor Bagnoli, the bishop of Pescara. Cold and snow are adding to the sufferings of the survivors. The lamentations of the people, according to correspondents who have passed through the disaster, are pitiful and they are begging to be taken to places where it is possible to care for them.

CLEAR TO SWISS FRONTIER.

Genoa, Jan. 15.—(Via Paris, 1:35 a. m.)—News which has reached here from Como and Chiasso indicate that the earthquake was felt in the Italian valley clear to the Swiss frontier. Telegraph and telephone lines were generally down in that district, but it has been ascertained that no loss of life is reported there. Little news that has come through from the frontier reports that the Alps trembled during the shock and detached numerous avalanches, as the snow on the summits was very deep. From Courmayeur, Italy, through telegraphs, an avalanche was seen falling from Mount Blanc. A party of Italian troops who returned to Aosta, report that they felt the shock and saw avalanches fall from Mount Ross.

A message from Innsbruck states that in the Alps near the Italian frontier twenty-seven soldiers were overwhelmed by an avalanche caused by the earthquake, and that three of the men were seriously hurt.

tachments of infantrymen, engineers, artillerymen and carabinieri have arrived to assist in the rescue work and guard property. The houses in the town have not all been destroyed, but most of these still standing threaten to collapse. The occupants have been turned out by the authorities because of the dangerous conditions of their homes. Up to the present time more than 450 bodies have been taken from the ruins and large numbers of injured persons have also been rescued. The injured are being cared for in booths and tents rigged up outside the town.

Bread and other provisions are being served liberally to the survivors. The military and the communal authorities are directing the work of rescue.

LADIES! DARKEN YOUR GRAY HAIR

Use Grandma's Sage Tea and Sulphur Recipe and Nobody will Know.

The use of Sage and Sulphur for restoring faded, gray hair to its natural color dates back to grandmother's time. She used it to keep her hair beautifully dark, glossy and abundant. Whenever her hair fell out or took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect.

But brewing at home is messy and out-of-date. Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for a 50 cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound" you will get this famous old recipe which can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair and is splendid for dandruff, dry, feverish, itchy scalp and falling hair.

A well-known downtown druggist says it darkens the hair so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, it becomes beautifully dark, glossy and abundant.—Adv.

SAYS ALL MEN HAVE INSTINCT TO PLUNDER

Crime Expert Makes Interesting Analysis of Life on Downward Path.

Los Angeles, Jan. 15.—"There is in every man the instinct to plunder," says Carl May. "To stop crime we must choke out the instinct."

Carl May is a noted criminologist connected with the superior court probation office here. His theory is that the urge to prey on one's fellows is much nearer the surface in some men than in others, but that all possess it. Refined associates and proper environment tend to keep it down, this plundering tendency, believes May, while rough surroundings and evil influences develop and sharpen it. "To lessen crime in the next generation," he asserts, "we must closely watch the children of this generation and bring them up so that they will not come in contact with the things that tend to develop the latent criminal's instinct."

May has divided criminals into two broad classes—the foxes and the wolves. The foxes are the forgers, embezzlers and crooks of the ilk. They are crafty and cowardly. Their crimes are carefully premeditated, with personal danger eliminated as far as possible from their plans.

Selfishness or the desire to make a show in the world often prompts them to crime, robbing the old instinct to prey by stealth.

The wolves are the burglars and highway robbers, possessing courage of a kind that does not shrink from possible grave peril. When the brute suddenly flares up in a man he becomes the wolf type of criminal. He wants something immediately, and has no time to falsify ledgers or copy another man's signature.

The fox type of crook develops so insidiously that it becomes hard to stamp it out. Only a mother, says May, has the power to fight it. By watching her boy she can forestall the rousing of the fox impulses. The wolf type, working more in the open, is easier to curb, according to May.

The wolf must be fought first in the home where as a boy he can be shown the error and the fruitlessness of criminality; secondly, in school where good influences and education tend to bury the wolfish lusts, and, thirdly, in the probation office where the young wolves are trapped, and shown the foolishness of their course, can be diverted to a new life of usefulness through another chance instead of being sent to the penitentiary in company with other human wolves and foxes.

According to statistics compiled by May, the fox type of crook predominates over the wolf type in the proportion of about 30 per cent. to 7 per cent. in every 100 cases.

MARSHALL WILL WALK.

Joins Those Who Take Three-Mile Tramp Each Day.

Washington, Jan. 15.—Vice President Marshall has joined the statesman's pedestrian club, as the group of dignitaries who daily parade Pennsylvania avenue from the treasury to the capitol is called. The vice president has determined to abandon the automobile gradually, according to him by the congress and walk the mile and a half each way every day. His physician told him that he needed exercise in the open air and that the three-mile round trip would just about fit his needs.

The statesman's pedestrian club includes in its somewhat elastic membership such important members of the government family as Chief Justice White, Justice Hughes, Justice Lamar, Senators Lippitt, Harding, Lewis and O'Gorman and Representative Mann.

Clothing for the poor of Fort Wayne will be received at the Sentinel office, on West Wayne street, and distributed to worthy people through the Fort Wayne Mother's club and the various charitable organizations. 11-24-17

LIVING IN WILDS WITH JOLO SAVAGES

cation among the semi-civilized Moro natives of Jolo, the Philippines, where never white woman had ventured before, Mrs. Lorillard Spencer, society leader and philanthropist of New York and Newport, recently arrived here on a short furlough.

Mrs. Spencer has spent more than a year in the mountain strongholds of these Mohammedan warrior people, where she was the protégée of the native chieftain.

Her unique mission was undertaken despite the protests of her friends in high eastern social circles, as well as the warning of American friends in the islands that her venture was fraught with great danger.

"I found the Moros a kindly people, courteous and considerate," she said upon her arrival here, "and not at all the blood-thirsty savages they have been painted. They do not 'hunt heads,' although I will admit that they sometimes decapitate their enemies in battle."

"My propaganda among them did not touch religious life, because they are Mohammedans, and I consider that quite good enough to take them to heaven. I tried to teach personal ambition and the necessity of education, and believe I have succeeded."

To go to the Moro country, Mrs. Spencer, accompanied by her companion, Miss Katherine Buffin, of New York, rode horseback through the jungles for many leagues.

The manifest sincerity of her interest in the natives' welfare carried her safely through districts so notoriously perilous that even United States army officers do not travel alone in them.

The two society women, reared in luxury, were given a thatch hut to live in by the chief who welcomed them. They lived the simple life of the natives, tactfully spreading their propaganda, and soon felt themselves as safe among "their friends" of the island mountains as they would have been on Fifth Avenue or in a Newport ballroom.

Mrs. Spencer plans to return to the Moro village after a short vacation in the East.

CONFERENCE HELD BY CHRISTIAN WORKERS

Dr. Parley Zartman Speaks on the Principles of Evangelism.

An all-day conference of Christian workers and evangelists was held Friday at the tabernacle at Main and Ewing streets, visitors being here from many of the surrounding towns and cities within a radius of fifty miles.

The service started shortly after 10 o'clock with a song and devotional service led by Loren G. Jones. Rev. George P. Stevens, who is conducting a tabernacle meeting at Auburn, spoke on the "Baptism of Fire." He declared that fire is the most potent and powerful element in the material world. Just as it is in the material world so it is in the spiritual world. The preacher should be on fire with enthusiasm and zeal, the churches, many of them now cold storages, should be on fire. Jesus has said that he will come again in a flame of fire.

The only way to fight the devil is with God's fire. The great need of today is fire, he stated. There have been 300 conversions during the last three nights that the invitation has been given. Sixty-three took the stand for Christ on the first night.

Rev. Parley Zartman, D. D., secretary of the association of evangelists, spoke on the principles of evangelism. Evangelism is not a discussion, but a declaration; not a program, but a principle; it is not a method of work, but a motive for all work he declared. Evangelism must have absolute primacy in every church.

Three Things Needed.

There are three things that evangelism does not need, he continued: (1) A new message; (2) a new method; (3) a new motive. If the church is to succeed there are three imperative needs: (1) personal holiness, as Henry Drummond says: "Not more of it, but a better brand of it;" (2) personal service. This was the plan of the Lord in his program for the church and his promise for the world; (3) prevailing prayer. The church lacks power because she does not know how to pray.

Dr. Zartman said that the one great encouragement in evangelistic work is the Lord's promise: "Follow me and I will make you fishers of men."

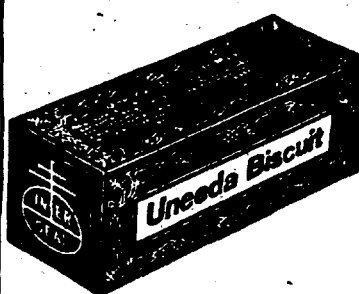

The meeting was resumed at 1:30 o'clock Friday afternoon with a song service. At 2 o'clock a conference and discussion of evangelistic meetings and methods was conducted by Dr. Zartman. This was followed by the regular afternoon service at 2:45 o'clock, Dr. Lyon speaking.

List of Visitors.

AUBURN MAN PRESENTS IT

roduced on the question of how the present registration law should be changed.

More Views on Registration.

He would leave the registration law stand just as it is with respect to all cities of more than 10,000 and in towns and rural districts would still retain the registration but would compel only new voters in a precinct to register. His bill is a sort of compromise measure between those that have already been introduced. He said the method would cost just about the same as the present system but that it would do away with the inconvenience to the voters in small towns and rural districts caused under the present law.

A bill by Senator VanAuken to give the right of appeal where an injunction is denied or the appointment of a receiver is refused, and Senator James R. Fleming's bill to fix a uniform license of $5 for automobiles were the only other measures of general importance introduced. Under the present law a graded license fee is charged on automobiles, varying according to the size and power of the machine. Senator Fleming's bill would also change the present law by giving the counties the benefit of the license money rather than the state.

Brings Out Ridicule.

Steps to make the conduct of business of the 1915 house of the Indiana legislature as economic as possible were ridiculed by members of both the majority and the minority when an effort was made at the session this morning to require members to buy their own postage stamps. The resolution introduced by Representative Sare, of Bloomington, to strike out an appropriation of $100 for the purchase of postage was voted down 72 to 19. The house then adjourned until 2 p. m. Monday.

After Representative Sare had objected to the state buying postage for the members, Representative Rule, of Camden, replied, stating the stamps were to be used in corresponding with constituents, and "therefore an appropriation of $100 for this purpose is no extravagance."

A Scared Atmosphere.

"There is too much of a scared atmosphere prevailing over this body," said Representative Hagerty, of South Bend. "I for one want to serve my constituents and I believe the members of the house need the instruments of war by which to do so," he continued.

"Stupid economy" was the characterization of the proposal made by Representative Judkins, of Wayne county, lone progressive member of the house.

Floor Leader Eschbach, of Warsaw, speaking for the republican side, said "Of all the penny wise legislation in an effort at economy that has ever been attempted on this floor, this is the limit."

Representative Sare jumped to his feet, but was not recognized by the speaker. The axes and hays were taken after Floor Leader Branaman, of the majority, argued for the appropriation, saying "all members of the house are honest and will use the postage for good purposes."

Kinder and Wyss Present Bill.

The present law governing public street or sewer improvements made in municipalities would be amended by Representatives Kinder and Wyss, of Allen county. Mr. Kinder's bill would facilitate the collection of street improvement assessments by the contractors, while that of Mr. Wyss provides for redemption of valuered improvement bonds whenever the property owner wishes to do so by paying interest on the bonds for the following six months, instead of for the remainder of the life of the bonds, as is the present custom.

Sheridan, Ind., Jan. 15.—No trace has been found of Ernest O. Ridgeway, son of Mrs. O. N. Ridgeway, owner of a jewelry store here, who has been missing from his home in this city since New Year's day.

His mother said he left home on the morning of New Year's day, supposedly to open the store. She learned of her son's disappearance that night, she said, and telephoned the fact to the Baldwin-Miller company, of Indianapolis, which operates a wholesale jewelry supply house. The store has been closed because of the son's absence and not because of insolvency.

ORCHESTRA SELECTED FOR THE NEW PALACE

Tony Osterle Will Direct It
and Fred Reineke Gets Back in Game.

Tony Osterle, for the past six months leader of the Temple theatre orchestra, has been selected to conduct the orchestra at the new Palace theatre, and already has selected the musicians in anticipation of the opening January 25. Associated with Mr. Osterle will be Wade Verriere, cello; Howard Townsend, cornet; Harry Parks, clarinet; Earl Ogden, string bass; Harry Sawyer, trombone; Dick Richards, drums; E. R. Schremer, viola, and Fred Reineke, second violin with Mr. Osterle playing first violin and directing.

All the members of the orchestra are Fort Wayne men with the exception of Mr. Schremer, who comes here from Detroit where he now is playing in the Detroit Opera house. The return of Prof. Fred Reineke to active participation in theatre orchestra work is one that will be welcomed by discerning vaudeville patrons as Professor Reineke generally is considered one of the best accompanists for theatrical work that Fort Wayne ever enjoyed. No matter how many liberties the performer takes with the written music he finds Professor Reineke the stipulated distance behind him all the time.

Messrs. Barnett and Stouder did not overlook their portly friends in designing the seats for the palace and a remarkable institution "fat-man's row" has been added to the main floor of the house. On either side of the main floor two rows of seats two inches wide or than any other in the house have been set for the comfort of the well upholstered ones. These chairs are twenty-two inches wide while the others are but twenty-one, an inch wider than theatre seats usually are.

DENSE FOG CAUSES REAR-END COLLISION

As a result of the dense fog Friday morning about 7 o'clock a work car on the Fort Wayne & Northern Indiana traction company's line running at a fairly good rate of speed ran into the rear end of a Robison park car four miles north of the city at stop No. 8, near Penna place, knocking out the rear vestibule of the street car.

The park car had slowed down for a stop when the work car crashed into it from the rear, the motorman on the work car being unable to see any distance before him on account of the dense fog. Although there were several passengers in the park car no one was injured.

in City Court During
Four Months.

Pat O'Connor, a laborer who really labors when he can keep out of jail, is out for the police court record and if he survives and persists he will win, unless Judge Kerr makes good his promise to have Pat imprisoned for a year or two in the "big stir" as an incorrigible offender. O'Connor's greatest weakness is red liquor and his next greatest is conversation. Judge Kerr had a hard time cutting in the muffle on Pat's verbal gearing long enough to tell him what was what. Friday morning's appearance was his seventh engagement in the city court in the period of the last four months. In that time he has served eighty-five days in jail. He was released at 9 o'clock Thursday morning after doing a forty-day bit for drunkenness and before noon he was again in the police pen roaring drunk and trying to sing "It's a Long Way to Tipperary." Two previous convictions were placed against him with the intention of tagging him with a four months' term in jail, but the court changed its mind and put $5 and costs on him, which will hold him for fifteen days.

Thirty Days for Bit of Fiction.

Henry Warner, who says he is a Garrett machinist and came down here Thursday evening by way of Montpelier, Ohio, to attend the boxing show staged by the Moose lodge, drew thirty days for impersonating an officer. He was prowling around the old Washab depot, which is now used for freight storage, and the watchman there wanted to know why. "I'm an officer. See! I'm here to watch you and I'll be busy on the job for awhile," said Warner. The watchman hiked out and found Night Patrolman Bosker and the two discovered Warner where he had stowed himself and mellow sauce for a snooze on a pile of freight. He was sent in. To the court Warner pleaded that he was too drunk to know what he was doing and made the interesting observation that while employed in the Auburn automobile factory he had worked as a machinist on the construction of the Fort Wayne automobile patrol wagon. "I didn't think I'd ever be a sure-enough passenger in it," ruefully said Warner. He was fined $25 and costs.

Other City Court Cases.

Joe Sullivan and Hugh Dickman each in his time appeared at the police station Thursday night to seek lodgings and each was so well saturated that he was booked for intoxication and put in a cell. Judge Kerr let them go.

The cases against Albert Heider and Joe Swain for burglary and Harry Stenger for loitering were continued a week. The trio are accused of burglarizing the Liebhaf restaurant on Main street.

Rafael Bobay, the Yiddish man who is suspected of having stolen a heavy gold watch he pawned here two weeks ago, was continued until January 23. The police have been unable to verify any of Bobay's stories as to his place of residence in Chicago or the fact of a wife in New York.

Bernard Laughlin, the young man who tried to commit suicide in a police cell several days ago after arrest on a loitering charge, was released and then immediately asked the court to lock him up again for a few days, was turned loose Friday morning. He is a stranger in the city and promised to leave town at once.

Burglars Ransack Home on Wayne Street, But Take Nothing.

Burglars who evidently wanted cash and not portable property of any other description broke into the residence at 880 West Wayne street, occupied by Mrs. Lucretia Meyers, Mrs. Anna McCracken and Miss Mary Sibray, Thursday night, during the absence of the ladies at the Lyon revival meeting, and after ransacking the house in thorough fashion left it in wild disorder without having taken anything. Although a gold watch, much silverware and valuable collect articles were lying about free to their hands, nothing so far as can be determined was taken. The burglars jimmied the door on an enclosure of a buffet within which is a small safe, but found nothing in it. Much force was necessary to wrench the heavy wooden door. Entrance was forced by using a jimmy on a kitchen window and cellar door. Neighbors, who knew the ladies of the house were absent, were attracted about 9 o'clock by seeing lights in the house and telephoned the police. Two men were seen to run away from the rear of the house just before the police arrived.

PURSE WAS NOT STOLEN.

A purse containing some small change and a check for $30, the property of Miss Kate Henderson, of New Haven, was found on Court street by George Rieg, 1223 Huffman street, son of Anton Rieg, the contractor, and turned over to the police Friday morning. It had been supposed the purse was stolen Thursday evening from the counter in the business office of the Journal-Gazette, where Miss Henderson was transacting some business.

FIND STOLEN MERCHANDISE.

Half a dozen pairs of tennis shoes, part of the contents of a shipping case that was stolen from a Nickel Plate freight car, Monday night, were found on the banks of the Maumee river, at the foot of Hanna street, Thursday afternoon, by Detective Sergeant Pappert. John Bennett, arrested Tuesday by Detectives Hammel and Russell while he was trying to sell two pairs of tennis shoes, is suspected of the robbery and is held on a vagrancy charge.

LOCAL BUSINESS MEN ARE GUESTS AT DINNER

Woman's Suffrage Advocates Entertain at the Randall Hotel Thursday

Many local business men and men of other professions who are well known in the city were guests at a dinner Thursday evening at the Randall hotel, when they were invited to take part by advocates of woman's suffrage. The sympathizers of this movement believed that some men's hearts could be reached through the medium of their stomachs. Following the dinner, short talks were made indicating the movement of the women and several new members were added to the list.

Prof. Ross F. Lockridge, secretary of the Citizens' League of Indiana, which promoted the move for a new state constitution introduced the speakers of the evening. Rabbi Mayer Lovitch was the first speaker and his address on "Civil Improvements" was well received. Theodore Thieme was the next speaker and his subjects was, "City Charters."

"Woman's Suffrage" was the theme of the address given by Miss Anna Graham who gave a very forceful talk and urged that the women do all they can to bring about the adoption of the suffrage clause in the national constitution. The next speaker, William Dickey, spoke on "Taxation" and the program was closed when Hon. T. E. Ellison gave a talk in which he heartily endorsed the woman's suffrage movement.

TEACHER FINED FOR ASSAULT.

Whipped Physically Deficient Boy with Paddle, He Admits.

Columbus, Ind., Jan. 15.—Charles Goch, a teacher in the school at Garden City, a village in Columbus township, has paid a fine of $10 and costs, amounting to $28, as a result of being found guilty of assault and battery on Oliver Bradley, one of his pupils. Goch, when found guilty by Justice Kinney, announced he would appeal the case to the circuit court, but he has decided not to fight the case.

Evidence was introduced in the trial to show that the Bradley boy is physically deficient, and this is thought to make him deficient in mental work in school. Goch admitted whipping him with a paddle, but said he did not think the whipping was too severe.

NEWS OF FORT WAYNE'S NEIGHBORS

WOULD NOT KNOW HIS WIFE IF HE SAW HER

Young Man Long in Jail for Contracting
Fraudulent Marriage, Paroled
at Huntington.

Huntington, Ind., Jan. 15.—Tearfully
protesting his innocence and passionately avowing that he would not know his girl wife if he should see her, Marion Holcomb, a Markle youth warmly thanked Judge Samuel E. Cook in the circuit court when the judge paroled
him and effected his release from the county jail, where he had served all but one month of a 250-day sentence on conviction of having contracted a marriage to escape prosecution in paternity proceedings. Ever since his arrest six months ago Holcomb has protested his innocence and when summoned before Judge Cook for parole, repeated his vehement assertion that he did not know
the girl and never had had intimate relations with her.

"I would not know the girl if I saw her. I never did know her," said Holcomb and he broke down and wept.

The parole was granted in consideration of his promise to pay his wife $48
in monthly installments of $3 toward the support of the child that is said to
be his.

The Holcomb story is unusual. Holcomb says that the marshal of Markle
and the father of the girl came to his home at night, frightened him with threats of prosecution and induced him
to accompany them to Bluffton, where a marriage ceremony was hastily performed. He never lived with his wife and has maintained throughout that he

SEND HERMIT TO INFIRMARY.
Aged and Independent Character of Waterloo Taken Care Of.

Waterloo, Ind., Jan. 15.—After living for forty years the life of a hermit in a small hut just outside the corporate limits west of Waterloo and pursuing his independence, though no one seems to know how he managed to live, Jacob Hisey, a very old man, consented after much persuasion to go to the county
infirmary for the balance of the winter.
Hisey at first resented the proposal of City Marshal Poorman that he go to the infirmary, but at length yielded,
and the reduce who for two score years had studiously made shifts for himself in where he could be looked after. He was a familiar figure on the streets here.
Bent over, he walked with a cane and
at the same time was always seen pushing a two-wheeled cart in front of him.
The cart was a heavy vehicle, made
from two wheels of an old carriage.
This Mr. Hisey used as a protection to keep people from running into him.
Many a time he would come to town
and go home very late at night. On arrival at home he would enter a cold house and many a time sleep without sufficient heat to keep warm. His advanced age has rendered him almost helpless so far as earning a living, and
how he even existed is a mystery, being so independent that he did not want
to accept help.

SUSPECTED OF ROBBERY.

Bluffton, Ind., Jan. 15.—Contrary to first reports of the attempted robbery of the Frank Conklin and John Mc-Bride stores at the little town of Rockford, northwest of Bluffton, the burglars
did attempt to blow the safe at the McBride store, but evidently did not have a heavy enough charge of explosive and the safe was not damaged. Very careful survey of the two stocks of goods convinced the proprietors that at the Conklin store a package of Duke's Mixture tobacco was taken and at the McBride store a piece of plug tobacco
was taken as the sole plunder of the thieves. One inveterate user of Duke's Mixture tobacco is a member of about
the only family in the community which has not displayed enough curiosity to call and inspect the stores since they
were broken into.

A SURPRISE WEDDING.

Columbia City, Ind., Jan. 15.—One of
the surprise weddings of the first month
of the year was that of Mrs. Carrie D.
Carlin and George O. Clark, both of Union township, which occurred at 2 o'clock Thursday at the M. E. parsonage in this city, with Rev. C. W. Shoemaker officiating. The bride has resided in Union township for a few years and purchased the J. W. Beckman, 180 acre farm and the J. W. Robbins farm adjoining. She will be thirty years old next Wednesday, January 20, and was divorced April 8, 1911, from her first husband. She is a daughter of Peter Kline and wife, both residing at Kentland, Ind. Her husband is two years her senior, and is an energetic young farmer, being the son of Trustee Frank
W. Clark, of Union township.

NEGLECT CASE IS PECULIAR.

Van Wert, O., Jan. 15.—The case of Ora Gilliland, arrested in Fort Wayne
Tuesday by the police of that city and brought back here by Deputy Sheriff
Henry Wilson to answer a charge of neglecting a child, is somewhat out of the ordinary. Two years ago Gilliland's wife ran away with another man, leaving three small children. Gilliland got

a divorce and was given custody of the children, two of which were placed with his parents and the other with a sister
of his former wife, who prefers the charge of non-support. Deputy Wilson has started for Modesto, Cal., where Joseph Wable, another man indicted by
the grand jury for non-support, was arrested on advice from this city, and will bring him back.

CANT GET HORSE INSURANCE.

Hicksville, O., Jan. 15.—Ed Sinn,
owner of Ed S. the fast Hicksville harness racer that broke his leg in a race
at Van Wert, O. this fall, cannot collect on his insurance policy because he consulted sentiment and not sordid
practice. His love for his great racer led him to spend a large sum to have
the broken leg set, although the horse
can never race again, and is practically useless. The live stock insurance company in which he held a policy refuses
to pay because the animal did not die.
Sinn might easily have killed the animal as is done in a vast majority of cases where horses suffer a broken leg.

VAN WERT CORN BOYS WIN.

Van Wert, O., Jan. 15.—Among Van
Wert county boys who were fortunate
in winning prizes at the state corn
show in Columbus this week in the high school exhibit were: Yellow corn variety, Byron Jenkins, first place; Wilbur Bair, second, and Carey Parker,
third place. In the white corn variety,
Dale Stuck won first place, Mack Wilson second and Doyt Poling third place.
John Pugh won first premium in the best ten ears of pop corn while the second premium on the same was topped
by Frank McMillen. The Van Wert high school agriculture class for the second consecutive time won the silver cup awarded at the state corn show.

Auburn, Ind., Jan. 15.—While no
public invitation has as yet been given during the tabernacle revival meetings
by Evangelist Stephens, between seventy and eighty people of Auburn are reported to have acknowledged conversion in the cottage prayer meetings
and through other agencies. The spiritual effect of the revival is said to be apparent in many ways. Some are said to be paying bills that had been long defaulted and the stolen chickens have been returned to the owner.

Huntington, Ind., Jan. 15.—Mrs. Orville Walker, the woman who became violently insane at her home in Roanoke a few days since, is now detained at the county jail here. She was taken into custody at the home of her father-
in-law, Noah Walker, at Zanesville,
yesterday. Sheriff and Mrs. W. E.
Scott have long known Mrs. Walker and hope to be able to give her such attention as will compose her mind. If she shows no improvement soon she will be sent to an institution.

"THE LAST CARD" IN REALITY.

Van Wert, O., Jan. 15.—"The Last Card" troupe, a vaudeville combination that tried to give a performance here
last night, played its last card in reality, when after a meager and disappointed audience had spent an hour
worrying the players, one of them appeared before the curtain and announced the summary ending of the performance and dismissed the small crowd. The troupe is said to be financially on the rocks.

ELOPERS RETURN HOME.

Hartford City, Ind., Jan. 15.—Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Marine, who Sunday evening figured in a clever elopement from
the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Rodgers, living west of the city, have returned home and received parental blessing. Mr. Marine, who is 22 years of age, and his young bride,
who prior to her marriage was Miss Verna Rodgers, 16, went from the Rodgers home Sunday evening to Jackson, Mich., where they were married Monday.

SECRET MARRIAGE REVEALED.

Huntington, Ind., Jan. 15.—Frank Mc-Clelland and Kathleen Kacy were married October 4 at Joliet, Ill. This information leaked out Thursday, when it became known that plans had been made for a party Thursday evening, at which the announcement of the wedding was to be made. Miss Ruth Heavy entertained with a dinner party at her home
on East Market street, at which the news was formally announced to twelve
girl friends of Miss Kacy.

FIGHTING BIG DITCH.

Warsaw, Ind., Jan. 15.—Another remonstrance has been filed against the Orlando Meredith ditch. This makes forty remonstrances against the ditch,
which is to be about twenty-two miles
long and is to extend through sections of Kosciusko, Marshall and Fulton counties; one of the biggest ever constructed in this section. The assessment total $30,000. Over 700 persons are interested in the ditch.

Agriculturist Members of Legislature
Get Together.

Indianapolis, Jan. 15.—Forty-four members of the lower house of the Indian legislature, who are farmers, effected an organization yesterday that has as its object consideration of measures that are introduced which would affect the rural districts. Members of the senate who own farms will be invited to affiliate with the house members.

Representative Frank H. Marshallville was named president of the organization and James H. Hays, of Ellettsburg, was named secretary.

BILL TO MAKE ALABAMA DRY.

Measure is Passed by Both Houses of the Legislature.

Montgomery, Ala., Jan. 15.—A bill to make Alabama a prohibition state after June 30, 1915, was passed yesterday by both houses of the legislature. Should Governor O'Neal disapprove it, prohibition leaders claim it can be passed over his veto. The vote today was 74 to 27 in the house and 26 to 9 in the senate.

Governor O'Neal will be succeeded next Monday by Charles Henderson, an avowed local optionist.

Foley's Honey and Tar Stops those Night Coughs

They Are Weakening, and Disturb the Whole Family.

Coughs and colds usually grow worse at night. Keep a bottle of FOLEY'S HONEY AND TAR COMPOUND at hand. Use it freely. There is nothing in it that can possibly harm you. But it clears the throat of phlegm and mucus, stops the coughing and tickling, and heals the raw inflamed surfaces.

GEO. D. COBBS, Many, La., says: "My wife was troubled with a terrible cough, and we could get nothing to relieve her until I asked Dr. Sell of Hornbeck, who recommended FOLEY'S HONEY AND TAR so strongly that I purchased a 50c bottle. Before the contents of this bottle were used, the cough had entirely disappeared and her health was completely restored."

PHIL DESORMEAUX, Schaffer, Mich., writes: "Last winter I could not sleep at night on account of a bad cough. It did not bother me during the day but stood up at bedtime and kept me from sleeping. I was very weak and in bad shape. I started using FOLEY'S HONEY AND TAR and was greatly pleased to find that the cough left me entirely. My appetite improved, and I slept soundly at night."

Good druggists are glad to sell FOLEY'S HONEY AND TAR COMPOUND because it always satisfies the customer and contains no opiates. Beware substitutes.

PUPILS ARE PLEASED WITH NATURE STUDY

Los Angeles Boys and Girls
Are Eager to Learn
About Sea Life.

Los Angeles, Cal., Jan. 15.—Nature study is an exceedingly popular branch of the public school work in Los Angeles. This was clearly indicated the other morning by the large number of boys and girls who joined Dr. C. L. Edwards' excursion to Los Angeles harbor to study sea life.

No fewer than 2,000 boys and girls from all primary schools of the city gave up their regular school work for the entire day to the study of their favorite subject among the rocks at Point Fermin.

At least one teacher from each building "volunteered" to join the excursion in the interests of science, that they might aid the pupils in their studies. All of the boys and girls were provided with baskets, buckets and packages of lunch, as it was the plan to pass the whole day at the seashore.

The day was chosen by Doctor Edwards, head of the nature study department of the public schools, for the excursion because there was an unusually low tide.

In addition to studying the habits of sea animals at home, it was the plan to gather specimens for the various school collections.

Those in the excursion included pupils in all grades from the fourth to the high school. All who indicated an intention to take the trip were excused from their other school work.

PROFIT SHARING PERMANENT.
Ford Company Makes Public Interest- ing Statistics.

Detroit, Mich., Jan. 15.—The $10,000,000 profit-sharing plan started by the Ford Motor company one year ago will be made permanent. This announcement came from F. L. Klingensmith, secretary of the company. Klingensmith made public interesting statistics showing that each profit-sharing employee of the Ford company is depositing in banks or investing in homes and lots an average of $48.76 a month. Bank deposits of Ford workers during the last year have increased 130 1-2 per cent. a man, Klingensmith's statistics showed.

Frederick L. Hoffman, an insurance statistician, recently told the American Public Health association that cancer is on the increase in this country despite the modern agencies for combating the disease.

TWO WOMEN CLAIM TO BE BABY'S MOTHER

Illinois Judge Must Act in the Role of a Modern Solomon.

Hillsboro, Ill., Jan. 15.—Circuit Judge Thomas M. Jett, a former congressman, in the role of a modern Solomon, a few days ago heard the stories of two women, each claiming to be the mother of the same 4-month-old baby girl.

The case took longer than was expected, and the court went into a night session to hear the testimony of Mrs. Helena Watson, a former St. Louis woman, who now has the baby and who is the defendant in a habeas corpus suit instituted by Mrs. Martinique.

Many witnesses were examined in this novel suit, in which a judge is asked to decide who is the mother of the child. The court room was packed to capacity. Fully one-third of the spectators were women, and of these at least forty were girls 16 years old or younger.

Baby Attends the Trial.
"Edna," the baby in question, was in court, being held in the arms of Mrs. Watson, the defendant, the court having decided that until otherwise directed Mrs. Watson should be considered the proper custodian.

Bodies of Matthews and His Victims Taken to Separate Cemeteries.

Muncie, Ind., Jan. 15.—At the request of his murdered wife's relatives, the body of Webster Matthews was removed from the home of his mother-in-law where it had been taken and placed alongside the bodies of the wife and daughter he had slain before committing suicide and today two funerals were held, one for the woman and child and the other for Matthews, the latter being at a morgue.

The same minister, the Rev. Edwin Lindsey, conducted both services. A crowd of morbid curiosity seekers attended the funerals. The minister took the position that Matthews must have been insane as no sane man, even though he were viciously inclined, would have committed such a crime. At the request of relatives, the bodies of the wife and child were buried in a separate cemetery from that of the husband and father.

PET TERRIER DOG DIGS OWN PRISON

Animal Lived for Several Weeks in a Woodchuck's Hole.

Binghamton, New York, Jan. 15.—
Ned, a pet terrier belonging to Charles Payne, of Bainbridge, Chenango county, disappeared several weeks ago. As he was a pet of the children in the Payne family, search was made for him throughout the surrounding country and advertisements were placed in newspapers, but no trace of him could be found. The last trace of the dog was in tracks leading from the house to the river in the light snow which had fallen in the night the dog disappeared, and it was finally believed that he was drowned.

While Mr. Payne was walking along the bank of the river in the hope of discovering the body of the dog recently, he heard a faint bark. He investigated and discovered a woodchuck's hole. Digging in a distance of five feet he found the dog and a family of five woodchucks.
The dog had begun digging in the hole and the woodchuck was a proper one.
He piled the dirt up behind him until he was unable to get out.

The dog and the woodchucks were living in harmony. All he had eaten during the time of his imprisonment was some of the herbs and roots which the woodchucks had laid by for the winter.

MICHIGAN BREWERS ROUTED.

Give Up Fight Against Plans of Temperance Element.

Detroit, Jan. 15.—Organized opposition by the liquor interests to plans of the Temperance people to make the whole of Michigan "dry" has completely collapsed, the climax coming with the action of the Michigan Brewers' association, the head and front of the "wets" fighting force, in giving up its headquarters and going out of business.

The first intimation of the collapse of the brewers' ring was given last summer, when Julius Stroth, wealthiest of Detroit's beer barons, pulled out of the Detroit Beer Manufacturers' association, alleging that the organization was operating in violation of the Sherman anti-trust law.

Law. About the same time William C. Manchester, attorney for the Michigan brewers' left the employ of the association.

A. E. Gordon, formerly one of the concern's attorneys, refuses to discuss the end of the organized opposition to the "drys," but admits that he is no longer connected with the association.

Wealthy Woman Now a Nurse in France

Then Mrs. Harry Payne Whitney and her family left for New York day before Christmas.

He was in such a happy humor that he agreed to pose on board the Lusitania for this picture—and that was a consolation for Mrs. Whitney.

"Pleased—well I should say so"

EVERYBODY was pleased with the wonderful results of this Carnival of Price Bargains.

"Greatest thing in the history of our business" said the firm. "Never have we sold goods as easily to such well satisfied customers," said many of the tired sales peoples at the close of the day.

Pleased were the thousands, who came and discovered that every statement that I had made was the absolute truth. This proves conclusively that no matter how hard times seem to be, if you have the right kind of goods and want to sell them at a cut price, all you have to do is to tell the people in a frank honest way about them and they will do the rest.

If you have not visited this sale it is not too late to come—your chance is now. There is still a world of good things here at a big saving. Won't you come?

Yours with pleasure,

DEDICATED NEW HALL OF FIREMEN

Volunteer Company at the Electric Works Enjoyed Banquet and Smoker.

The volunteer firemen at the Fort Wayne Electric works dedicated their new headquarters in the basement of the main office building and incidentally had one of the most enjoyable social gatherings of their existence last night. The affair was preceded by a banquet in the assembly hall in the big factory building, where the firemen went direct from their work in the shop and offices. F. G. Duryee presided as toastmaster at the banquet and responses were made by factory superintendent, E. A. Barnes; W. F. Melching, the president of the firemen and the company's employment agent; C. D. Wheeler, head of the advertising department; Fire Chief William Wurtle and C. F. Rogge, foreman of one of the shop departments and prominent in the work of the firemen. At the close of the banquet, the firemen went to their new hall, where they installed the officers and enjoyed a musical and social program which was not completed until midnight. This included an hour's concert by the Electric works band of twenty-four pieces, a cornet by Prof. John L. Verweire, the director of the band; some piano solos by C. D. Wheeler and some numbers of vocalists. There were games of cards and cards and several speeches taken as a whole it was one of the most arranged and most highly appreciated programs gotten up for the occasion. All of the equipment except the billiard table and the lockers for the men has been placed in the new hall and it presents a most inviting and cozy appearance. There will be numerous other entertaining events pulled off in the firemen's hall during the winter and spring months.

TO HAVE OPEN MEETING.

Machinists' Union Will Bring International Officers Here.

Arrangements have been made for an address by Jack Anderson, of Indianapolis, at the open meeting of the International Association of Machinists, at their hall next Monday evening. Mr. Anderson, who is one of the vice presidents of the international association of the machinists, has made frequent visits to Fort Wayne and is quite well known and popular with the machinists and other union men in the city.

UNCLE VICTIM OF ACCIDENT.

W. J. Robinson, assistant engineer on the big derrick, which is a part of the Pennsylvania wreck outfit, received a telegram from Indianapolis this morning stating that his uncle, W. J. Robinson, was fatally injured last night by a car falling upon him and breaking his back. Mr. Robinson left at noon for Indianapolis to attend the funeral. The deceased was also a steam derrick engineer, being a member of the wreck gang on the Panhandle. It is supposed he was killed while at work at a wreck.

ADDING TELEGRAPH OPERATORS

(Bellevue Gazette.) An increase in the force at the Nickel Plate telegraph office here by the addition of one operator is to be made within the next couple of days, at which time J. E. Baker will return to Bellevue and accept a position at the telegraph office in the yards. With this change there will be five keymen employed there.

Mr. Baker has been long in the service of the Nickel Plate and directly prior to the retrenchment of the Nickel Plate some months ago he was employed as manager of the depot telegraph office. Since the depot office has been closed he has been employed as telegrapher at the Kimball station.

Another change announced to become effective at once is the addition of an assistant yard master in the Nickel Plate yards at Fort Wayne.

Duties becoming too heavy for the limited force to handle is the reason set forth for both the change in this city and the one at Fort Wayne.

A. C. Hanger, formerly a yard conductor, is the new assistant yardmaster. The Sentinel mentioned that fact yesterday.

PREPARING FOR FIRE COMPANY.

Chief Warner and Assistant Chief Young, of the volunteer fire company of the Packard Piano works, called at the Fort Wayne Electric works yesterday to examine the equipment of the fire company at that plant and to learn how the electricians' company is organized. A similar company will soon be in operation at the piano works. It was organized several months ago and orders placed for a part of the equipment. Now it is proposed to get more equipment and form a company on lines followed in the organization of the company at the Lights. The Packard company now has only hose carts and hose, but will add a hook and ladder outfit some time this coming spring. They expect to become members of the North-eastern Indiana Volunteer Firemen's association and to take part in the annual tournaments. Messrs. Warner and Young were guests of W. F. Melching while at the Electric works.

BOILER FOR HARTFORD CITY.

A tubular boiler built at the Bass Foundry and Machine works is being loaded today for shipment to Hartford City. It will become a part of the power plant of the Johnson Glass company.

HAVING GOOD TIME IN FLORIDA.

Walter L. Niemeyer, clerk in the Pennsylvania blacksmith shop, received a card from William Linnemeyer, one of the blacksmiths, who is in Tampa, Fla., to stay two or three months. He writes that he is having a good time and that Mrs. Linnemeyer, on account of whose health the sojourn south is being made, is receiving great benefits from it.

Lake Shore Superintendent M. L. Reynolds, of Hillsdale, was in the city yesterday on business for the company.

Ralph Craig, of the Packard works, will be able to resume work early next week. Three weeks ago he had an ankle sprained.

Mr. and Mrs. G. Boschet and two sons will be guests of friends in Toledo over Sunday. Mr. Boschet is employed in the Wabash shops.

Supt. J. C. Sullivan, of the Wabash, who has been sick and off duty three or four months, is improving and will be able to take up active duties again soon.

C. W. Place, district office engineer at St. Louis for the Fort Wayne Electric works, left for that city this morning, after spending two days here consulting the management concerning some business matters.

Russell J. Allyn, the new traveling passenger agent for the New York Central lines, with headquarters in Fort Wayne, arrived yesterday and immediately took up his duties.

W. A. Nunenester, representing the Colonial Steel company, of Pittsburgh, was in the city yesterday on business for the company. Among the patrons of the Colonial Steel company are the railway shops of this city, and Mr. Nunenester called upon the management of each.

Glen Abel, a telegraph operator in the local Wabash office, has received the appointment of station agent at Spencerville, the former agent having resigned to become cashier in the bank in that city.

George Daoust, C. G. T. Lehner and Fred Lenz, employes at the Pennsylvania blacksmith shop, were unable to report for duty this morning on account of sickness. L. J. Schmidt, of the same shop, is off duty on account of the serious illness of his father.

Albert Reinking, formerly of this city, and well known in railroad shop circles, passed away at his home in Decatur, Ill., Thursday evening following a few days' illness. Death was due to pneumonia. While he lived here he was employed in the Wabash shops and at the time of his death was an inspector in one of the departments at the Decatur shops.

CHARGE FRAUD IN MARRIAGE.

Decatur, Ind., Jan. 15.—William F. Cowans, of Hartford township, this county, was arrested in Wells county by Sheriff Green and at once furnished a bond of $500 for his appearance here on a charge of entering into a fraudulent contract of marriage. In the complaint it is alleged that on December 27, 1913, Cowans was married to his wife, Jessie, and lived with her until June 17, 1914, when without cause he abandoned her, making no provision for the support of her and their child. Cowans is accused of entering the marriage contract to escape prosecution on a paternity charge. Mrs. Cowans says her husband had treated her cruelly and falsely accused her of violating her marriage vows.

STRICKEN WHILE SPEAKING.

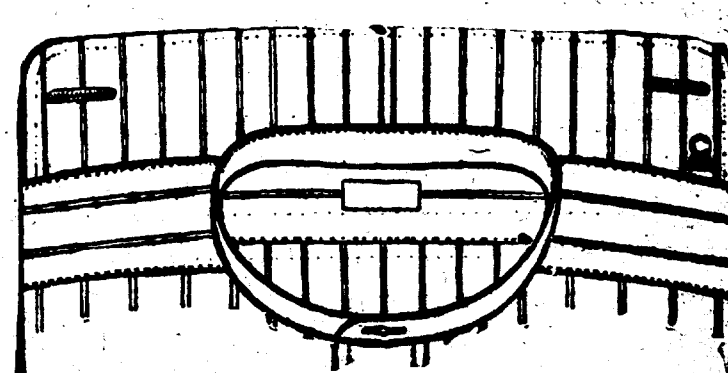

Decatur, Ind., Jan. 15.—Caleb B. Andrews, one of the most widely known men in Adams county and for several years up to the time of his death, attendance officer, was buried at Monroe today, at the age of 49 years. He was stricken while making an address to the pupils of a school near Berne. He suddenly became ill and was removed to the home of George Anniller, a farmer in Wabash township, where he died. He was a son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Andrews, early pioneers of Adams county.

ty. The widow, two sons, one daughter and two stepsons survive him.

Mrs. A. C. Perry, of 2111 Lafayette street, gave a fish supper last evening and in doing so entertained the cottage owners who locate on the south side of Crooked lake every summer. Mrs. Perry owns a cottage in the same vicinity. O.

L. Perry provided the fish from a catch he had just made.

Miss Martha Lukens, of Brewster, N. Y., will pass through Fort Wayne next Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock, and a number of her friends and relatives will be at the Pennsylvania station to see her on her way to Deadwood, S. D., to visit her brother, Ed Lukens and family.

Rhine and her daughter, Mrs. Delight Kuhne, of Lakeside. Study, Mrs. Mary Wiggins and Mrs. Anna Moore were other guests.

Mrs. Catherine Closs, of 723 Walnut street, lady commander of the L. O. T. M. hive No. 6, entertained the ladies at her home Wednesday afternoon from 2 to 5 o'clock. Lorent, Mrs. Al Pepe, Mrs. Helen McCrory and Misses Helen and Geraldine McCrory and Flossie Craig.

Mrs. George Thatcher Guernsey, of Independence, Iowa, arrived in the city this morning and is the guest until tomorrow morning of Mrs. Frances B. Robertson. Mrs. Guernsey was expected in the city yesterday, but she was unavoidably detained in Chicago. As Mrs. Guernsey is a candidate for the office of president-general of the national society of D. A. R., members of the local chapter were much interested in meeting her and responded to Mrs. Robertson's invitation to do so at her home yesterday afternoon. The disappointment about meeting Mrs. Guernsey, however, in no wise prevented the ladies from having a delightfully informal time and the hospitality of the hostess was as cordial as if no plans had gone astray.

AT THE MAJESTIC.

"Potash and Perlmutter" Tonight. Abe Potash and Mawruss Perlmutter scarcely need an introduction to the theater-goers of this city. Montague Glass' stories in the Saturday Evening Post in which these simple, laughable, lovable partners were first brought to the attention of the public won immediate recognition from Jew and Gentile alike because of their sincerity and their quaint humor. They were "heart-interest" stories in the truest sense of the word and it was in conserving this heart interest in the dramatization of the stories that A. H. Woods showed managerial genius, for that is the great secret of the most remarkable stage success of recent years. The Potash and Perlmutter story, as the Majestic tonight direct, from the New York, at the Geo. M. Cohan theater, New York, where it broke all records, is a masterpiece.

publishing in America, has been made into a play by Mr. Wright with the assistance of Elsbury W. Reynolds. It will be seen in this city at the Majestic for two days, commencing Tuesday evening.

It tells a beautiful story of the Ozark mountains, a story that holds the auditor by its thrills from the beginning to the end. It is unique in character-drawing, giving to the stage a somewhat new atmosphere.

AT THE TEMPLE.

Mirth and melody reign supreme at the Temple this week where the Revue of 1915, Henry P. Dixon's fantastic conception of what modern burlesque should be is being presented with a cast of principals that includes the incomparable Harry LeVan, the human ginger jar, Claire DeVine, the lovely prima donna, the graceful eccentric and society dancer Helen (Patsy) Delaney, Sam Drane, Florence Brooks, Charles Saxon, Joe Dixon, Greta Skelley and others, equally as good. Of course there is a chorus, and it is a regular chorus. This show will close tomorrow evening to be succeeded by Simonds and Lake's Auto Girls with a trio of fun-makers in Harry Seymour, James J. Lake and Carol Schroder leading the cast.

AT THE EMPRESS.

With the smell of joss sticks in the air and with Chinese lanterns festooning the entrance to the theater, the Empress is forming a splendid environment for the presentation during the latter half of the week of that unusual act, "Hop Lee's Dream." This is the headline act on the bill for the last half of the week and it is surely a dandy. Another corking good act on this bill is the singing act of Burkhart and White, two young men who come to the Empress direct from a very successful

AT THE LYRIC.

The Lyric has a thrilling story to present tonight. It is a big New York city release in five acts and deals with the story of how William J. Burns frustrated the efforts of the greatest band of high class criminals that ever attempted to balk the United States government. The manner in which Burns, the most celebrated detective of modern times and reputed to be the cleverest logician and reader of men's minds that ever lived, clears up the $5,000,000 counterfeiter's mystery, justly is entitled to the name "the greatest detective story of history." The production was made with Mr. Burns personally directing the photography.

AT THE COLONIAL

EXCELLENT OFFERING.
Colonial Presents Vivian Martin in "The Wishing Ring" Today.

"The Wishing Ring" is the offering at the Colonial today, with an all star company, headed by the charming Vivian Martin. This play tells a very pleasing story, a story of a boy and girl romance in old England. Slight in texture, like all delicate things, it gives a truly first love story with all its June-time sweetness and beauty. The characters, too, are pleasing, for most of them have been pictured in that fairy region where things are scarcely more substantial than dreams.

Cecil Spooner Tomorrow
This popular star is featured in an excellent drama, "The Dancer and the King," with the support of a fine company at the Colonial tomorrow. The photography and settings are exceedingly beautiful and much time and effort have been spent to make the costumes harmonize perfectly with the times. The play tells the story of the romance of a king and a dancer who became famous by her charity work. It shows how she was the influence that improved the conditions of the poorer classes in the kingdom by great self sacrifice.

AT THE JEFFERSON.

Marguerite Clark, the dainty, winsome little actress who scored such a notable success at the Jefferson a few weeks ago while playing in "The Crucible," comes to charm her myriad of admirers anew as the roguish woodland nymph in that delicious romantic idyl, "Wildflower." Owing to the other Paramount engagements which were secured prior to this booking, Miss Clark will be unable to "re-appear" at the Jefferson single day, this first time a matter of much regret to Jefferson patrons. "Wildflower" is an ideal characterization. The scenery is of the most beautiful and the music is of the most melodious.

not the meaning of love until the one who is waiting for her in all the world, proves to her that love is something more than pure desire and selfishness. From the melting pot of the many heartaches that have scourged her, "Wildflower" emerges with the wonderful lesson learned, and at last finds happiness in the true love of a good man. Supporting Miss Clark in "Wildflower" are dramatically known personages whose success in former plays will assure them a proportionate success in this lovely film idyl.

Dr. Lyon's Sermon Thursday Evening

THE GREAT ESSENTIAL.

John 3:7—Ye must be born again.

During the Napoleon wars there met one night on a raft in the middle of a German river the emperors of France and Russia for a conference, the result of which was to change the map of Europe. But centuries before, there was a far greater conference. It was between Nicodemus, a ruler of the Jews, and Jesus Christ, the Son of God.

The result of this conference was to change the fate of countless thousands. It was no mere accident that the kind of a man that he was, came to Jesus by night; it was no mere accident that Nicodemus, Jesus should speak that significant sentence, "Ye must be born again." Nicodemus was a member of the Jewish national congress; he was a man of wealth and rank, of influence and culture. He was moreover a man of undoubted uprightness and purity of character. He was, perhaps, the equal or superior of any of us. If a man ignorant and obscure had come to Jesus, and if to him the Master had said, "Ye must be born again," then a man of culture and influence might have had some reason in saying, "I can understand why that kind of a man would need a new life in order to be saved, but I do not belong to that class." Or if it had been to one wicked and vicious that Jesus had spoken these words, then the man conscious of honesty and uprightness, might have had an excuse for saying, "It is evident that a man who is wicked and impure, would need something additional in order to be saved. But that does not include me." But if to a man like Nicodemus Jesus should say, "Ye must be born again," if such a man needed regeneration in order to obtain everlasting life, so do you and I need it.

Now before we go on to consider what regeneration is, let us stop for a moment to discuss what it is not. The first place, regeneration is not merely reformation. Reformation is, as evidenced by the word itself, a reforming or remoulding of what you already have. But regeneration is the bringing in of a new power and life which you did not before possess. Supposing a man starts to reform, he has tried that before. All he has to help him are his own powers, which are weak and insufficient. It would be like a trolley car trying to run without contact with a live wire. Merely turning over a new leaf is not regeneration.

In the next place, regeneration is not simply culture. Some seem to think that all a man needs to do is to keep getting a little better and better, until finally he gets good enough to be saved. This idea has no warrant in the Scripture. Supposing a farmer should start out in the spring and plow his field and then cross-plow it, harrow it and then cross-harrow it, keeping up this process all summer. You come to him and say, "What are you doing there?" He replies, "I have advanced ideas of agriculture," so he keeps on cultivating all summer, but in the fall his field is as bare as this platform. There has been plenty of cultivation, but there was nothing to cultivate. Here is the marked difference between the religions of the world and the gospel of Christ. The world says a man is good enough as he is; all that is needed is to educate, to draw out, what is already within him. The gospel of Christ, on the other hand, declares the need of obtaining a new life, a new power from above, which he did not before possess. You can grow in grace, but you cannot grow into grace. If you have but an embryo apple tree, you may hope to develop a full grown tree in time. But by no process of cultivation can you develop a willow into an apple tree, or an eucalyptus into an orange tree. Spiritual birth must precede spiritual growth, fruitage and maturity.

Becoming a Christian, being born again, is not merely joining the church. Many people have joined the church as they would have joined a literary society or lodge. If there was an electric light bulb that gave no light, it would do no good to connect it to the plug, or to the platform, or to the trolley; it must in some way be put into touch with the central dynamo. Many young people have come into the church from the Sunday school. They have passed the ecclesiastical examination, answering the questions just as they would pass from the eighth grade into the high school. They have been ground out like cobs out of a corn sheller. They have had no change of heart, no spiritual experience. Many have gone through the forms, the rites, the ceremonies; they have attended church and given of their money, yet all this has not brought salvation. Belonging to church does not make a Christian of you any more than going to a stable makes a horse of you, or going to a garage makes an automobile of you. Yet on the other hand, when you do become a Christian, you will take to the church as naturally as a fish takes to water.

There are many things that are important for a person's welfare and development that are not essential. For example, education is important, yet many ignorant people have done a great work for the world. Friends are important, yet many who have had little influence and few acquaintances have done great good. Money is important. While it is more difficult for a rich man to be a Christian than it is for a poor man, yet if he is a Christian he can do more for the world than a poor man can do. All of these things are important, but they are not essential. But there is one thing absolutely necessary. It is what the lawyer would call a "sine qua non," without which nothing.

A sculptor spent months in carving a statue of physical perfection. When he had completed his work, he invited in a friend to view his finished product. Removing the veil from the statue he said with an air of pride, "Is not that perfect?" "No, it is not," replied the friend. "It lacks one thing." "What is that?" asked the sculptor, evidently disappointed. "Life," answered the friend. You may have everything else, education, money, friends, and yet if you have not spiritual life you have nothing. Salvation is not a matter merely of good or bad, or of good or better; it is a matter of life or death. It is not so much a question of losing salvation; it is a question of getting something that you did not before possess. Let me illustrate this. An Irishman was the principal of a boarding school in a western state. He had been greatly annoyed by some of the boys coming late to their meals. He decided to settle this matter once for all. At one meal time when all the students were present, he arose and said, "I have an important announcement to make. If any of you hereafter come late to dinner, you will not lose your dinner." The boarders looked from one to the other, with a smile evidencing they were well pleased. A day or two afterwards, a number of the boys went out into the country for a long walk and did not return until long after meal time, they went down into the dining room and found the table cleared off. They marched into the kitchen, and said, indignantly to the cook, "Where is our dinner?" She said, "It is too late for dinner; you can get nothing to eat now." But the principal said, "We came late, but we would not lose our dinner." "You will have to see him about that." They went up to the principal's office and demanded that they have some dinner. Said the principal, "Did you not tell us just yesterday," said the leader, "that if we came late we would not lose our dinner?" "Yes," replied the principal, "but you cannot lose something you never had."

Regeneration is essential not only for salvation, but also for effectual spiritual service. There are many Sunday school teachers who can impart intellectual instruction to the pupils, but they have no power to develop their spiritual life. It is impossible for anyone to give to others that which they do not possess themselves. There are teachers that can describe minutely the route from Jerusalem to Galilee, but they cannot point the way from earth to heaven. There are many church members who are interested in the material side of church work, regarding the finances, the equipment of the building, the social activities, etc., but they have no interest in soul winning. They say they do not believe in revivals; that can be easily explained: How can you expect a person to believe in something about which he knows nothing? Many ask me why I do not speak more against dancing, liquor drinking, card playing and the like. My answer is, "When a person is born again these things will not trouble him."

There are many that celebrate their physical birthdays that have little or no interest in their spiritual birthdays. Certainly the time that you were born of the Spirit was a more important time than when you were born of the flesh. I was born physically on the 10th day of February. I was born spiritually on the 30th day of May. The 30th of May is to me a far greater anniversary than the 10th of February. If you are born but once you will die twice, but if you are born twice you will die but once. The first death is the death of the body, the second death is the death of the soul. Over those who have been born again the second death has no power.

Someone says, "Explain to me all about the second birth." It cannot be done," I answer. Explain all about the first birth if you please. You cannot do it. The whole subject of life and its creation is a mystery. Various psychologists have recently written books upon the psychology of conversion. They are attempting the impossible. Jesus said you cannot explain spiritual birth. You might as well put a lark upon the dissecting table and tear it apart to pieces to find its song. You might as well take a great painting from the brush of a talented artist and analyze in the chemist's laboratory, the pigments of oil and color to try to find the secret of the painter's talent. Regeneration is something that cannot be explained, it must be experienced.

Jesus said that while you could not observe the process of the regeneration of the soul, yet you can discern its results. "The wind blows where it will, and you hear the sound of it, but you cannot tell where it comes from, nor whither it goes; so it is with the Spirit." There are many things that are important for a person's welfare and development that are not essential. For example, education is important, yet many ignorant people have done a great work for the world. Friends are important, yet many who have had little influence and few acquaintances have done great good. Money is important. While it is more difficult for a rich man to be a Christian than it is for a poor man, yet if he is a Christian he can do more for the world than a poor man can do. All of these things are important, but they are not essential. But there is one thing absolutely necessary. It is what the lawyer would call a "sine qua non," without which nothing.

the sound of the wind, it is the birth of the Spirit. Here is a lady that before was frivolous and superficial, caring only for social follies and amusements; but now her life has been enriched and broadened and heightened and deepened. She has a love for the word of God, for prayer, for Christian work. Every one notices the change. What caused it? The birth of the Spirit.

A drayman who had been a very wicked and profane man was converted in a meeting recently. Some nights afterward he came up to me at the close of the service and shook my hand very earnestly. "Oh," said he, "this being a Christian is great! Even my own horses know that I am saved. Formerly when I hitched them up and one would get his foot over the wagon tongue or step on the neck-yoke, I would strike and kick him and swear. But I don't do it any more, and they look up at me so surprised and pleased. What is that? That is the sound of the Spirit, the result of regeneration."

But let everyone of you seek to have his own experience. Do not expect that you will have the same experience that somebody else has. I've sometimes thought that the conversion of Saul of Tarsus has been almost a detriment to some otherwise good people. They have expected to have an experience just like Paul had. They are waiting for some great and wonderful light to burst upon their path. They think until they do, they cannot be saved. I never had any great light burst upon me, and I know that I am saved. These people make me think of a little girl who came home late from church one Sunday. Her mother said, "Daughter, why are you so late this morning?" "It was because I stayed to class meeting," she replied. "What did you do there?" the mother asked. "Just the same as the rest of them," she answered. "When my turn came, I got up and said, 'I have been serving the Lord for forty years, and I hope you will all pray for me.'"

Do not think that this is the only way by which a person may gain everlasting life. There was a farmer who lived out of town a few miles—a very wicked and profane man who attended the special meetings night after night, and became very angry. After each service he would declare he would not return, but the next evening would find him there again. After one service he became especially angry and declared that he certainly would never go back. He went home and went to bed, but he could not sleep. At last he arose and paced up and down the house all night. It was early in the fall, at corn cutting time, and as soon as it was daylight he got his corn knife and started out in the field, but he could not even cut corn. At last he dropped on his knees by a corn shock and asked God to forgive his sins and save him. The Lord spoke peace to his soul and he went to the service that night rejoicing.

There was no difficulty about his going to the front that night and publicly confessing his faith. When you hear a person quibbling and saying, "Cannot I become a Christian without coming to the front and making a public confession?" you know there is one who is long distance away from salvation. Whenever a person means business and sincerely wants to be saved, he will do anything and go anywhere to show his loyalty and love for Jesus Christ.

This man had a daughter about sixteen, who had been away from home on a visit. Upon her return she came to the meeting and the first evening she was there when the invitation was given she lifted her hand expressing her purpose of becoming a Christian, and when opportunity was offered she walked down the aisle and gave the leader her hand, and gave her heart to Christ. She went away rejoicing in the assurance of salvation. On the way home that evening the father said to her, "Daughter, you do not think that you are saved, do you?" "Why, yes, papa, I received Christ and I know He saved me." "Oh, nothing of the kind," replied the father, "don't you think that for a moment." The next evening he came to the evangelist, saying, "I want you to talk with my daughter." "Why," said the leader, "I thought your daughter became a Christian last night." "That's what she thinks, but I know she didn't. She could not have been a Christian last night because that was the first night she was at the meeting. I attended for three weeks and got mad every night, while she didn't get mad at all. Oh, no, she is not saved." It took fifteen minutes for the evangelist to get that mistaken notion out of his head. He had often the idea that for anyone to be really saved that one must have an experience just like his. He must kneel by a corn shock at 4 o'clock in the morning.

I hear someone interpose, "Do you not believe it is possible for a person to approach the Christian life so gradually that he cannot look back to the time the definite moment, when he accepted Christ?" Yes, I believe that is possible. For example, I do not care how you came into this city—whether you came on foot or on horseback; whether you came in an automobile or on a limited train. What I really feel, know is, are you here? But I really feel sorry for those who cannot look back to the definite time of their conversion. A religion that you can get without knowing it, you are apt to lose without knowing it.

If you meet the conditions for regeneration, you may be sure that God will give the results. The first condition is, forsaking sin. Prepare the soil of your heart for the reception of the seed. I have heard of a wealthy man in France who owned vast estates. One summer he went down in the Pyrenees mountains, between France and Spain, for a vacation. There, for the first time, he heard the singing of nightingales. He was enraptured by their music and greatly wished that he might have such birds in his own garden. But he never asked some folks, "Are you a Christian?" and they will reply, "I do not know until there is that definite acknowledgment. In a great audience one evening I asked everyone to repeat with me the great word 'Jesus'—the greatest word ever spoken by lips, human or divine. Then at a given signal, I asked them to add the personal pronoun 'My'—saying 'My Jesus.' Do you see the difference? A bachelor, for example, might say 'Wife,' but to say 'My Wife' makes it personal. Immediately there was a line of cleavage drawn through that audience, separating often husband and wife, parent and child. But many, for the first time, said, 'My Jesus' and meant it. They received Christ and a new life began."

My friend, have you ever had a spiritual birthday? If you never had one before, receive Christ now. Say from your heart, "My Jesus." Confess Him as your Savior. Then God will do His part, and you will be born into the kingdom of heaven.

KONDON MED. CO. Minneapolis, Minn.

Have you never, in going out into the country in the summer, noticed the corn just tasseling? You saw also the ears had begun to form, upon the end of which were the silks. These silks are tiny tubes, each one connected with an embryo kernel on the cob. From the tassels there falls upon the silks a powdery, seed substance, called pollen. If these silks are receptive, this pollen flows down the tiny tubes into the embryo ear. It is fertilized, vitalized and develops into a full grown ear. But if, on the other hand, the silks are unresponsive and dry, this pollen is blown off and the ear shrivels and dies. Now apply this scientific truth to spiritual affairs. Jesus says, "Behold, I stand at the door and knock, if any man hear My voice and open the door I will come in." The process of becoming a Christian is like the palm of your hand; as God looks at it from above He calls it, "being born again." As we look at it from beneath, it is obedience to Christ.

And in the last place, not only receive Jesus, but confess Him as your personal Savior. A young man may have believed in a young woman for years, but she does not become his wife until there is that definite acknowledgment. In a great audience one evening I asked everyone to repeat with me the great word "Jesus"—the greatest word ever spoken by lips, human or divine. Then at a given signal, I asked them to add the personal pronoun "My" —saying "My Jesus." Do you see the difference? A bachelor, for example, might say "Wife," but to say "My Wife" makes it personal. Immediately there was a line of cleavage drawn through that audience, separating often husband and wife, parent and child. But many, for the first time, said, "My Jesus" and meant it. They received Christ and a new life began."

My friend, have you ever had a spiritual birthday? If you never had one before, receive Christ now. Say from your heart, "My Jesus." Confess Him as your Savior. Then God will do His part, and you will be born into the kingdom of heaven.

MEAT CAUSE OF KIDNEY TROUBLE

Take Salts to flush Kidneys if Back hurts or Bladder bothers.

To neutralize these irritating acids, to cleanse the kidneys and flush out the body's urinous waste get four ounces of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People, or any pharmacy here; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of lemons and lemon juice, combined with other salts, and has been used for generations to cleanse the blood, strengthen the kidneys, and relieve the uric acid, which causes rheumatism, kidney trouble, and other ailments. It is a most effective remedy for all these conditions, and is entirely harmless.

DRINK HOT TEA FOR A BAD COLD

Get a small package of Hamburg Great Tea, or as the German folks call it, "Hamburger Brust Tee," at any pharmacy. Take a tablespoonful of the tea, put a cup of boiling water upon it, pour through a sieve and drink a tea-cup full at any time. It is the most effective remedy for colds, coughs, and other ailments of the throat and chest. It is entirely harmless and can be used by all ages.

THE MARKETS

PACKERS CAUSE DROP OF 25 CENTS ON HOGS

Hog speculators again started the market Thursday on a higher basis but packers refused to follow the advance and as a result the average price on hogs in the larger cities fell from 20c to 20c a hundred. The local markets have out over 25c per hundred on their prices and are only offering $5.50 for the best. The price remained steady for several weeks but the drop did not come unexpectedly as it was predicted that the price would fall.

May wheat went to a new high level Thursday at the big markets, the day's gain being 2 1/2c, and as a result one mill raised its price 2 cents on the bushel and the remaining price in the city today is $1.32, while yesterday most of the grain sold at $1.30. It is thought that the price will go up tomorrow for the demand for wheat on the markets Friday in Chicago was great and buyers bought all that they could lay their hands on. However, nothing definite can be said about the direction in which the price will go as the market is very wild.

The oats market, which has been hovering around 50c for the past few weeks, is expected to go up soon as prices are reported as having moved up 1 cent at the Chicago exchange markets. Rye, which is now selling for $1.00 a bushel, is expected to go still higher.

The corn market remained steady as did all other Friday. Fresh eggs were in great demand and retailed at 42c to 45c a dozen. It is reported that the price will begin to get lower as farmers state that the hens which have been on the strike during the winter have decided to go to work again.

CHICAGO GRAIN AND PROVISIONS.

Chicago, Jan. 15.—Urgency of European demand despite record breaking prices, drove the wheat market today higher and higher. Temporarily selling by one of the largest houses in the trade carried quotations back to about last night's level, but then a new wave of buying resulted in a much steeper advance. After opening at 1/2c to 3/4c higher, prices receded moderately all around and then jumped to 1 1/4c for May, as against 1 1/4c, the top yesterday.

The close was nervous at 1 1/4c to 1 1/2c 2 1/2c net advance.

Export call brought a rise in corn as well as in wheat. A reaction, which ensued was not of a slanting sort. The opening, which varied from 1/4c to 1/2c higher, was followed by a good general rally.

The close was strong at 3 1/4c to 3 1/2c above last night.

Oats swung with other grain. The bears were in a decided minority.

THE DAY ON WALL STREET.

New York, Jan. 15.—The feature of today's early stock market was the decline to lowest prices of the week of some of the most active issues, notably U. S. Steel, Baltimore and Ohio was a conspicuous exception, adding a material fraction to yesterday's rise, but reacting later. A thirteen point advance in Lockport Tobacco rose 1 1/2 points. London pursued its usual course of a lower range for our securities, Canadian Pacific being the striking exception to the average decline. Except for further declines in the speculative leaders and a few additional gains among the specialties the market showed no pronounced change from its opening tendencies. Steel and Amalgamated failed to better their early positions. Among specialties American Linsed common and preferred and some Motor shares were up one to two and a half, while Virginia-Carolina Chemical preferred gained 1/2. U. S. Steel, Baltimore and Ohio, and Canadian Pacific were down 1/2 to 1 point. Bonds were strong, with a good demand for convertible issues.

Low prices specialties were conspicuous in the final hour. Gains of 1 to 3 1/2 points were made in this class. Missouri Pacific being most active. The closing was strong.

Thousands Yet Buried Alive

Toll of Dead and Injured in Italian Disaster is Mounting Up to Appalling Figure.

Rome, Jan. 15.—Constantly shifting estimates based on reports that continue to trickle in, now place the death toll from Wednesday's earthquake at 20,000 and the injured at a number in excess of 355,000.

Hundreds, possibly thousands, of victims are still buried alive, imprisoned by the wreckage of their homes, while rescuers from every walk of life struggle desperately to dig them out.

King Aids in Work.

King Victor Emmanuel, who returned to Rome from Avezzano last night, personally supervised the release of a number of such unfortunate.

The king reached the capital in his private car, to which were attached three coaches bearing forty wounded. These, like the other hundreds who are slowly reaching Rome, were distributed about the hospitals, regular and extraordinary, in the city.

Pope Benedict this morning offered to the mayor of Rome the use of the hospital of Santa Maria, which he visited yesterday. The offer was gratefully accepted, and its 300 beds serve as a relief of the difficult situation.

Populations Wiped Out.

The principal loss of life and probably the chief property damage, appears to have been in Avezzano and the town of Sora, fifteen miles away. Both these municipalities were destroyed and their populations virtually wiped out. The latest reports place the number of dead in Avezzano at 10,000 and in Sora at 4,000. In at least sixty other towns affected more than 8,000 have been killed. From these towns come the majority of the injured. In Avezzano and Sora almost every one was killed.

The situation in Avezzano is increasingly grave because of the destruction of the aqueduct system and the consequent shutting off of the water supply. Communication is slowly being re-established and two hastily improvised hospitals and one refuge camp have been set up.

United States Embassy Helps.

The refugee forces have been augmented by the staff of the United States embassy at Rome, dispatched to Avezzano in automobiles by Ambassador Page. The secretaries and attaches carried supplies of clothing and provisions for the sufferers.

Reports from Switzerland show that the quake was felt among the Alps and caused destructive avalanches there.

As in the Messina catastrophe it is believed that it will be weeks before the loss of life can be known or the property losses accurately compiled. The work of recovering bodies is proceeding slowly.

Confirms Gravity of Situation.

King Victor Emmanuel returned to Rome last night. To Premier Salandra he confirmed the gravity of the disaster and expressed admiration for the efficiency work of the Italian soldiers. More troops have been ordered into the earthquake zone.

Minister of Public Works Giuffrè is in Avezzano where he has organized the work of rescue. He spent last night in a railroad car at the station. Today he began a tour of investigation to ascertain actual conditions in the country around Avezzano.

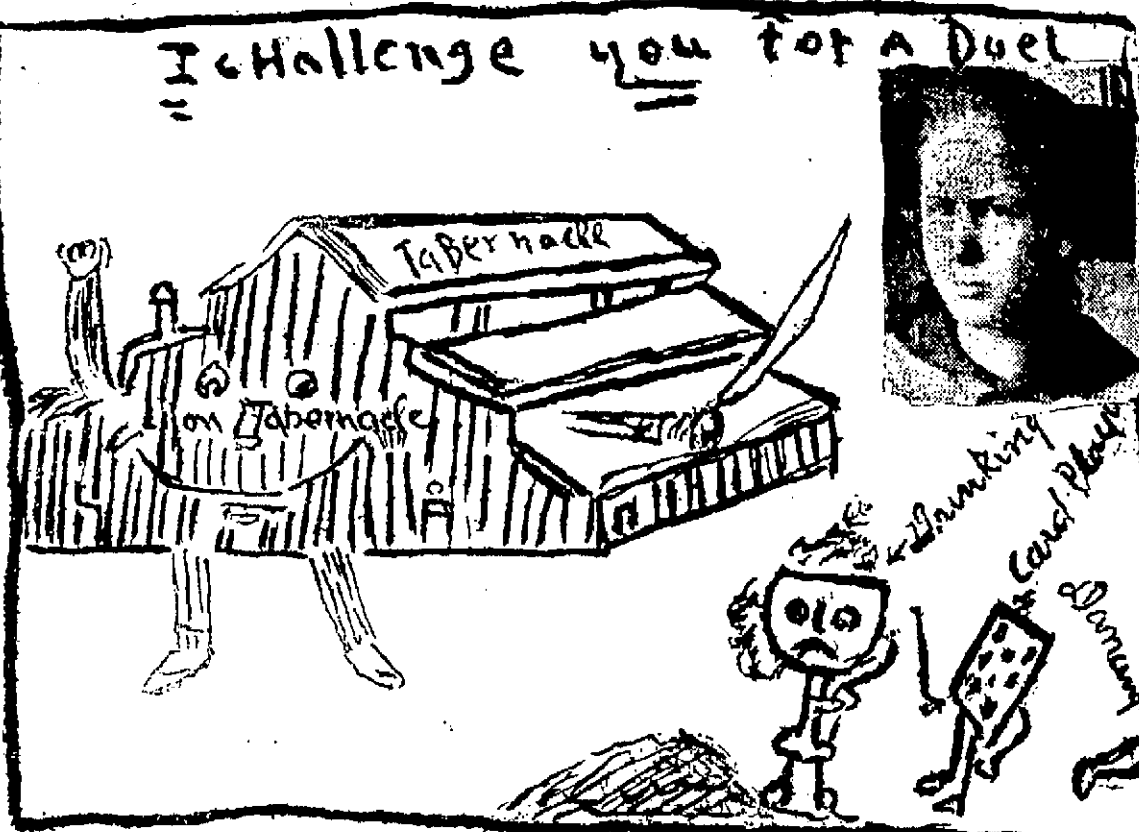

When the king was in Avezzano yesterday he was indefatigable in his efforts to encourage and help his people. He climbed over the ruins and gave words of praise to the rescuers. On several different occasions he urged the people to repress anything like an ovation for himself, he spoke to the wounded and promised them assistance. He witnessed the extraction of a young girl still alive, gave directions for her removal and the next moment was sending telegraphic orders for the dispatch of further help and provisions to Avezzano.

Describes His Sensations.

Some of the survivors at Avezzano have not even yet sufficiently recovered from the shock of their experience to tell a connected story of the visitation. One man who was taken yesterday

FORCED BACK ACROSS RIVER

Germans Under Von Kluck Drive French to Shelter Beyond Aisne.

FLOODS AND SNOW HAMPER FIGHTING
Activity North of Soissons is First Since Last September.

London, Jan. 15.—The violent German attack to the north of Soissons under the direction of General von Kluck which, coupled with a flood stage of the river has forced the French back across the Aisne, is the most striking news of the last 24 hours from the seat of war. The Germans have been gaining in this locality for several days, but they had not recovered all of the ground lost by them. This engagement north of Soissons is the first notable fighting in the vicinity since last September, when the British army, which subsequently was transferred to Belgium, was successful in crossing the Aisne.

Snow in the Vosges mountains and floods in Flanders still prevent any extensive operations on the eastern or western wings and to British observers appears as though the Soissons district had been selected for the point where, with reinforcements and first line troops, the Germans are planning to display once more the hammering tactics so familiar during the autumn. On the other hand some war experts argue that the operations at Soissons may be undertaken to compel the allies to lessen the pressure in Alsace.

The British claim to have won a marked success several days ago near La Bassée when they drove the Germans from strongly entrenched positions, gaining one mile in distance and inflicting severe losses on their antagonists.

There has been no change of importance in the eastern arena of the war. Italy has been momentarily distracted from thoughts of war by the devastating earthquake of January 13. The assertion is still being made in London that the allies confidently expect Italy to join them in due course.

OCCUPY SIX VILLAGES.

Berlin Reports on German Successes in France.

Berlin, Jan. 15.—(By Wireless to London).—The German official statement on the progress of the war, in its reference today to the engagements north of Soissons in France says the north bank of the river Aisne, in this vicinity has been cleared of French troops, and it mentions six villages north and northeast of Soissons which have been occupied by German troops. The French suffered heavily and retired to the south of the Aisne under the fire of the German heavy artillery.

At other points French attacks were repulsed but near Ecurie the Germans lost a trench.

In Poland west of the Vistula the German attacks are described as progressing slowly.

Says Defense of Country is Imperfect, Unbalanced and Deficient.

Washington, Jan. 15.—In urging upon the senate the need of a commission to report upon the military preparedness, or for a permanent council of national defense, Senator Lodge today declared that the defense of the country "is not only imperfect and unbalanced but that it has grave and in some instances fatal deficiencies." He designated what he termed many of the defects and said they were "almost wholly due to congress."

An adequate national defense, the senator said, could be obtained without additional expenditure. "Cut off your needless army posts, navy yards and stations," he advised the senate. "Lay aside for a few years appropriations for public building and river and harbor improvements where they are not needed. Drop all the expenditures which are designed for spots where votes are lying thick and you will have money enough to provide for a sufficient army and an adequate navy without adding to the burden of taxation."

He warned that the ocean barrier that defended the country in 1774 and in 1812 had been destroyed by steam and electricity. Unarmed, unready, undefended, the nation stands an invitation to aggression and attack, he said. Senator Lodge asserted that not only the regular army but the militia was highly defective, adding that the Panama canal was "miserably and most inadequately protected" against being blown up and blocked for months by a bomb or spics of a hostile nation. He said the recommendation of Secretary Garrison for a 25,000 increase in men was very moderate.

CABINET WILL HOLD NIGHT MEETINGS NOW

Washington, Jan. 15.—President Wilson has broken another precedent and will hold night cabinet meetings. Beginning tonight the cabinet will meet in the president's study every Friday at 9 p. m. for informal discussion of the government's business.

After the adjournment of the last session of congress the president abandoned the custom of holding two cabinet meetings each week and the cabinet assembled only on Tuesday morning. It has now decided, however, that it will be advantageous for the cabinet members to meet informally once a week and take up department business and general policies.

It was said at the white house that there was no other significance to this arrangement.

OPPONENTS ARE HEARD.

Moss Grain Inspection Bill Draws Fire from Many Quarters.

Washington, Jan. 15.—Opponents of the Moss grain inspection bill were heard today by the senate agricultural committee. The speakers included Charles Elmquist and O. P. R. Jacobson, of the Minnesota railroad and warehouse commission; F. W. Evar, chief inspector of Minnesota, and representatives of the New York produce exchange and the Philadelphia commercial exchange.

AUBURN MAN PRESENTS IT

Another Would Repeal Lake County Salary Raise Measure.

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 15.—The appearance of the administration's anti-lobby bill prepared by Senator Glenn VanAnken, of Auburn, and the introduction of a bill by Democratic Leader Vannoy to follow the governor's recommendation and repeal the Lake county salary increase bill, which was responsible for the legislative investigation into the proceedings of the 1913 grand assembly by the Marion county general jury were the more important of seven measures introduced into the upper house today before adjournment was taken until Monday afternoon.

The anti-lobby bill which has been promised all week was rushed along this morning so that it could get into the hands of the committee before the senate would adjourn until next week. Senator VanAnken had not yet completed the draft when the roll call for the introduction of bills was called for and was given unanimous consent to introduce it just before the senate adjourned.

What It Provides.

The bill is a lengthy one and follows very closely the recommendations of the governor in his message on the subject. The bill provides for the registration with the secretary of state of any person, firm or corporation employed as a "legislative counsel," "legislative agent" or lobbyist. The bill lobbyist would be issued a card of identification giving his name, nature of his employment and the matters of legislation in which he is interested upon the payment of a registration fee of two dollars. A statement containing a record of all expenses paid or incurred is required to be filed thirty days after the close of the session by the secretary of state.

Foreign corporations would be compelled to give a $1,000 bond with the secretary of state before they would be issued a lobby permit. The bill further provides that it shall be unlawful for any public official, either elective or appointive, to receive any compensation for lobbying. This same rule would apply to newspaper men and other parties having access to the floor of the senate.

A fine of not less than $200 or more than $1,000 and a prison sentence of not less than three months or more than one year are provided as penalties of the act.

An anti-lobby bill was introduced in the senate two years ago but was given little attention. It is expected, however, that VanAnken's bill will be passed by both houses since it has the active support of the governor and senate leaders.

Senator Edward Elmer, of Seymour, has even different ideas from the several that have been expressed in bills introduced.

SOME FLASHES FROM DR. LYON'S SERMONS

Real salvation is not simply in going to church.

Religion never saved anybody. A man might be as religious as the devil and go where the devil goes.

Many things are important that are not essential.

Going to church doesn't any more make you a Christian than going to a stable makes you a horse or going to a garage makes you an automobile.

Many folks have joined church just the same as they join a club or lodge.

Whenever a person is born again the after-going won't bother them.

If you are born but once you will die twice, but if you are born twice you will die but once.

Regeneration cannot be explained or must be experienced.

When a person means business let go anywhere or do anything that's reasonable to show his faith in Jesus.

The kind of religion you can get without knowing it, you are apt to lose without knowing it.

Many folks don't seem to know whether they are saved or not. When a man gets really in love he knows it.

Friends meet the conditions and then trust to Jesus Christ for the result.

LAST MINUTE NEWS

SAYS MAGNITUDE OF
DISASTER INCREASES

London, Jan. 15.—(4:32 p. m.)—The Exchange Telegraph company has received a message from its Rome correspondent, who says that the magnitude of the Italian disaster increases as further news from the devastated area is received. The casualties at Magliano-Di-Marsie, are estimated at 1,300 out of a population of 1,500. At Pozzoni, 4,000 persons are reported killed, and the number dead at San Benedetto is given as 3,000.

11,000 BURIED IN RUINS OF ONE CITY

Paris, Jan. 15.—(3:15 p. m.)—A dispatch to the Havas agency from Rome, quotes the Messagero as saying that the number of dead at Avezzano is larger than has been believed. According to this paper, 11,000 persons lie buried beneath the ruins of that city.

MORE PRISONERS TO WORK ON PENAL FARM

Greencastle, Ind., Jan. 15.—Charles E. Talking, superintendent of the Indiana penal farm, went to Jeffersonville, last night where he will get twelve prisoners from the reformatory to work on the penal farm. Mr. Talking obtained the consent of the trustees at the meeting Wednesday to get more prisoners for the farm. The twenty-four men now on the farm are from the state prison at Michigan City.

The work of erecting buildings is progressing, the trustees report, and with the help of additional men the farm will probably be ready to receive the jail prisoners the latter part of February or the first of March.

TESTIMONY IS TAKEN IN SEVERAL CASES

Hearing is Held Before Representative of Inter-State Commission.

Royal T. McKenna, of Washington, D. C., a representative of the interstate commerce commission, heard the testimony in a number of cases in the court room at the federal building, Friday.

"The interstate commerce commission is giving Fort Wayne and surrounding territory more attention than ever before," Mr. McKenna stated. "This is the second hearing we have held here within a month." Mr. McKenna is a nephew of Justice Joseph McKenna, of the United States supreme court.

Among the cases heard was one brought by the Miller Manufacturing company against the Baltimore & Ohio Railway company, the Baltimore & Ohio Southwestern Railway company and the St. Louis Merchants' Bridge Terminal Railway company. The case involves six earload shipments of wooden tent pins from Hicksville, Ohio, to St. Louis for the transportation of which charges appear to have been collected at the fifth class rate of 17 cents per 100 pounds. The complaint charges the tent pins are entitled to lumber rating.

Testimony in the case brought by the Union City Hoop and Lumber company against the Cleveland, Cincinnati, Chicago and St. Louis Railway company, involving shipments of logs from Rockford, Ohio, to Union City was heard. The case brought by the Crook Son & Co., the allegations being similar to those in the case brought by the Miller Manufacturing company, also was heard.

The two had been sent out to kill a mad dog. The animal made a lunge at Anderson, who jumped just as Stone fired his revolver. The bullet entered the right side of Anderson's back, and passed through his stomach.

FURTHER CLEAN OUT COMING SAYS ROBERTS

Mayor M. Roberts announced today that there was soon to be a further cleaning out of the city hall, involving all the city employees indicted by the federal grand jury who pleaded guilty when arraigned last week.

Among those slated to go, according to the mayor, who is himself under indictment, are Robert Lloyd, patrolman; Harry Forbeck, engineer's office; Enno Harms, city hall custodian, and Claude Patton, cemetery superintendent. It is understood that the pay checks of the men have been made out up to the day of arraignment and that unless they resign they will be removed.

A committee composed of Charles L. Biederwolf, Guy Oberick and Maurice Nixson called on the Governor Friday, personally, and extended the invitation to him to speak at the opening of the new playhouse.

Dr. Lyon Pleased.

Dr. Lyon smiled from ear to ear and was immensely pleased. Such demonstrations are seldom seen. The evangelist had a word for each delegation. After the yelling Mr. Jones had the audience to sing "The Old Time Religion."

The parade of the men of the Presbyterian and Grace Reformed churches, extended for three blocks. Students of the International Business college sang alone. "Jesus Will Sustain You." Suddenly the students of the high school burst forth with a yell something like this: "Hail, hail the gang's all here. Hurrah for Dr. Lyon." This was repeated a number of times.

Pointing to Morton Williams as he was directing the yell Dr. Lyon said: "That fellow ought to be an evangelist." All the senior boys wore red flannel shirts and white neckties, red and white being their class colors.

The Great Essential.

Dr. Lyon spoke Thursday night on "The Great Essential," declared by many to be the greatest sermon he has delivered. He spoke from the text: "Ye Must Be Born Again," which he characterized as the great essential.

Many folks join the church, he continued, just as they join a club or lodge. The evangelist advocated the celebration of the spiritual birthday as well as the physical birthday. As a matter of fact, the spiritual birthday is of much more importance.

"If you are born but once you will die twice, but if you are born twice you will die but once," he said.

Dr. Lyon declared he could no more explain the second birth than he could the first. The whole thing is a mystery.

"You quibble about the new birth, why don't you quibble about electricity?" he asked.

Every person must have their own experience in being born again. "Regeneration cannot be explained, it must be experienced," he said. "If you meet the conditions for regeneration, you may be sure that God will give the results."

If a person will do what he thinks a Christian ought to do he'll not have to wait very long to have the assurance that he is a Christian, according to Dr. Lyon.

When a man gets really in love he knows it, Dr. Lyon said. He declared the same was true in religion.

The evangelist said he had found that being a church member in Fort Wayne doesn't mean anything.

At the close of his sermon he asked all who knew they are saved to hold up their hands. Several hands were extended. Then he asked all who believed in Jesus Christ as the Son of God, to hold up their hands. More hands were extended than on the first proposition.

Wonderful Prayer.

Before beginning his sermon Thursday night Dr. Lyon offered a most wonderful prayer. He did not forget anybody. He prayed for the doctors, not to look upon the human body as a mere piece of meat, the students, lawyers, editors, bankers, barbers, railroad men, mail clerks, telephone girls, teachers, pastors, reporters, members of the chorus and others.

National W. C. T. U. day was observed at the tabernacle. Dr. Lyon said there were three things that keep the liquor business alive as follows: Avarice, appetite and apathy.

"God speed the day when we'll have this nation free of the blight and curse of the liquor business," he said.

In speaking to the high school students Dr. Lyon said: "If these young people were consecrated to Christ we could trim this city upside down or right side up."

He said it always makes him glad to have the students come. He likes the enthusiasm they cause.

Christians Should Be Happy.

Mr. Jones sang as a solo: "Jesus."

The song service was necessarily cut short on account of the yelling. Mr. Jones led one song with his trap and drums.

When Dr. Lyon gave his own college yell the students applauded for some time.

At the close of the service a meeting of the secretaries appointed by the pastors was held on the platform. On Friday night the evangelist will speak on the "Wages of Sin," which is regarded as one of his masterpieces.

A gathering of boys and girls will be held Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the tabernacle. A choir of high school students will furnish special music. The men of the churches of Fort Wayne and men of the churches of Christ will march to the tabernacle in a body Friday night. All the men belonging to those churches

PLANS TO WED BY PROXY.

Colorado Girl to Become Bride of Resident of Java.

Colorado Springs, Jan. 15.—Miss Eugenia Campbell, daughter of Mary J. Campbell, of Colorado Springs, and Jan Pieter Scholossen, of Sewerang, Java, will be married by proxy Wednesday. The father of the groom to be is a wealthy oil magnate in Java. In September, 1913, Miss Campbell was thrown unceremoniously into Scholossen's lap when a train came to a sudden stop. Apologies and an engagement followed. The proxy wedding was set for last September, but was postponed because of the war. A ring for 200 years an heirloom in the Scholossen family, will be used in the ceremony here.

Dr. Q. Van Hummel, head of the Columbia Canceratorium, on Spy Run avenue, has announced that he will not contest the petition for the revoking of his license, which will be taken up at the next meeting of the state board of medical examination and registration. Charges against him were filed by Dr. Miles F. Porter, sr., who alleged that he had made promises to patients that he would cure them. Dr. Van Hummel has notified the board that he will surrender his license, having quit the practice of medicine the first of the year.

Thin men and women who would like to increase their weight with 10 or 15 pounds of healthy "stay there" fat should try eating a little Sargol with their meals for a while and note results. Here is a good test worth trying. First weigh yourself and measure yourself. Then take Sargol—one tablet with every meal—for two weeks. Then weigh and measure again. It isn't a question of how you look or feel or what your friends say and think. The scales and the tape measure will tell their own story, and most any thin man or woman can easily add from five to eight pounds in the first fourteen days by following this simple direction. And best of all, the new flesh stays put.

Sargol does not of itself make fat, but mixing with your food, it turns the fats, sugars and starches of what you have eaten, into rich, ripe fat producing nourishment for the tissues and blood—preparing it in an easily assimilated form which the blood can readily accept. All this nourishment now passes from your body as waste. But Sargol stops the waste and does it quickly and makes the fat producing contents of the very same meals you are eating now. A dozen pounds and pounds of healthy flesh between your skin and bones. Sargol is safe, pleasant, efficient and inexpensive. Myers Bros. Drug Co., Oster Drug Co., D. & Pharmacy and other leading druggists in Fort Wayne and vicinity sell it in large boxes—forty tablets in a package—on a guarantee of weight increase or money back.

WARD OF HOWARD COUNTY.

Attorney General's Opinion as to Baby Born at Girls' School.

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 15.—A child born while the mother is an inmate of a state institution is a ward of the county where the mother had her legal residence before commitment, according to an opinion by Attorney General Milburn. The ruling was in the case of a baby born in the girls' reform school in Indianapolis, to which the mother was committed from Howard county. The child is in the Marion County Orphan's home.

Mr. Milburn rules that the child should be a ward of the Howard county court, and that on application of officials of the reform school the court must provide for the child's maintenance.

Dr. Kenosha Sessions, head of the reform school, asked the attorney general for a ruling in the case, saying that Marion county in the past has been called on to provide for children born under similar circumstances. Several children have been committed to Marion county institutions who properly belong in other county institutions, it is said, and the ruling will clear the way for the children to be placed under the jurisdiction of courts which properly have responsibility for their maintenance.

SISTER RUTH CALLS COLONY LIFE PURE

Wife Comes to Defense of Accused Benton Harbor Leader.

Irving Smith and Sister Ruth, his wife, carry on the evangel of the House of David here.

"We simply live as brothers and sisters," explained Sister Ruth, married to Irving Smith under strange rites. "We agreed before marriage to live that sort of a life, since we know that there is nothing that even tends toward immorality."

"I have lived in the same house with Mary and Benjamin for the past eight years, and I personally know that there is nothing that even tends toward immorality."

"Those women," she said, referring to those who have made charges against Benjamin and some of his followers, "say people of our faith are forced to live apart after marriage. That is agreed to before marriage, a life of celibacy."

"The true believers," added Irving Smith, "will be chosen from the world's population, and they will know the secret of life eternal in the flesh."

Portland, Ore., Jan. 15.—"There never was a worse lie told. Benjamin of the Isrealite House of David is pure as the driven snow. He is the Seventh Angel as predicted in the Scriptures."

HOTEL SHERMAN COMPANY

Writer Pictures Scene as Germans Shell French Aeroplane.

London, Jan. 15.—An English officer at the front writes home the following interesting letter about war in the air:

The prettiest thing of the whole lot to watch, if you aren't an aviator, is the Germans shelling one of our aeroplanes. They have a special anti-aeroplane gun, which must, I think, be mounted on a motor carriage, as it is very mobile, and which obviously can be fired at any angle from the horizontal to straight up in the air.

It must work on the skyrocket principle, as it lets go a regular string of shells, and considering the tremendous difficulties of the target, the Germans are amazingly skillful with it.

They use a fuse which can be set to burst at a fixed height above the ground. When they spot an aeroplane they first burst three or four shells with different lengths of fuse, to discover its height.

THE SENTINEL'S DAILY SCRIPTURE READING.

Psalm 15:1-5.

- 1 Lord, who shall abide in thy tabernacle? who shall dwell in thy holy hill?
- 2 He that walketh uprightly, and worketh righteousness, and speaketh the truth in his heart.
- 3 He that backbiteth not with his tongue, nor doeth evil to his neighbour, nor taketh up a reproach against his neighbour.
- 4 In whose eyes a vile person is contemned; but he honoureth them that fear the Lord. He that sweareth to his own hurt, and changeth not.
- 5 He that putteth not out his money to usury, nor taketh reward against the innocent. He that doeth these things shall never be moved.

Uncle Sam Behind It.

That the government of the United States is really behind the inquiry into alleged election frauds at Terre Haute, and similar action which is to be taken regarding charges from Evansville, Indianapolis and Danville, Ill., is now definitely known.

"When the federal law is violated, the violators must be punished." This sentence is taken from the letter written by the department of justice to United States District Attorney Dailey, at Indianapolis. It also appears in a letter from the department to United States District Attorney Karch, at Danville, Ill.

It is the administration's slogan with respect to frauds committed at elections at which candidates for United States senator and representative in the congress were voted for. The meaning of the declaration is, according to the department of justice, that the department will stand behind the United States district attorneys who undertake the ferreting out of election frauds and the prosecution of violators of the law.

The public is to be congratulated on the fact that the federal department of justice has so promptly and so definitely gotten behind the effort to purify elections.

The board of public safety has ordered the drafting for passage by the city council of an ordinance that will empower the city authorities to put a stop to theatrical performances of an indecent or immoral character in Fort Wayne. It is an ordinance that cannot be made too strong or enforced too rigidly. In many cities good results are being secured through the appointment of a board of censorship which is empowered to at any time close any theatrical performance or any moving picture presentation which is calculated to either give offense or exert a harmful influence upon those who may patronize it.

One of the cases on trial in the local courts during the present week offered another opportunity for the rallying of the particular species of human degenerate that feasts on salacious details of frailty and misdoing, and they packed the room where the hearing was held, eagerly drinking in every word of the off-color and malodorous mess. It is not only striking evidence of depravity but requires brazen effrontery of the monumental sort to flock to an affair of this kind. After all, however, there's no accounting for tastes.

A most interesting advance step in education has been taken at the Jefferson school, where pupils maintain a miniature grocery at which they are taught the modus operandi of correct buying, making the computation for their purchases, study food values, the sources of foods and economy in making their money do the greatest amount of service. The fact that the work is made "play" for them in no wise detracts from its value, and we think the departure is intensely practical and wholly commendable.

Those who have entertained the belief that it would be impossible to awaken positive and general interest in a union evangelistic movement in Fort Wayne should pay a visit to the Lyon tabernacle prepared to make a quick and decisive change of opinion, for they will change it without a doubt. With the great building literally packed each evening, hundreds unable to gain admission nightly, and the effort still in but its second week, it is clearly evident that Fort Wayne wanted the evangelistic campaign.

Dr. J. N. Hurty, secretary of the state board of health, is coming to Fort Wayne again next Monday evening to discuss the prolongation of life through public health agencies. You may not always agree with Dr. Hurty, but it must be admitted that his speeches have in them to a very marked degree that which has come to be known as "the punch." He is always worth hearing.

ANOTHER ROUSING MEETING FOR MEN

Dr. Lyon Speaks on Subject of "A Noble Desire" at the Court House.

Another rousing meeting was held at 12:30 o'clock Friday in the assembly room of the court house, the room being too small to accommodate those desiring to hear Dr. Lyon. A special number was rendered by the Haydn quartet and the audience sang "Showers of Blessings" and "When the Roll is Called Up Yonder." Prayer was offered by Rev. Shushall.

Dr. Lyon spoke on the subject, "A Noble Desire," taking his text from the 12th chapter of John and the twenty-

first verse, "Sir, we would see Jesus." From the incident as recorded in John's gospel of the Greeks coming up to the temple to worship, the evangelist applied some practical lessons.

"The chief reason that so many get no blessing when they go to the house of God is that they do not go after blessing," Dr. Lyon declared. The one reason that keeps so many from seeking Jesus is sin.

"How is the world to see Jesus?" Dr. Lyon asked. "Largely through you and me, if they ever see Him at all. Comparatively few people read the Bible, but they do read our lives. Folks do not so much doubt the historic Christ, as they doubt the representation of Him in the lives of His professed followers."

Makes Dramatic Close.

In closing Dr. Lyon said: "There are those over in Heaven that some of us are anxious to see. Earth has been poorer and heaven richer since they left us. At times it seems we can almost hear the angels' voices calling and behold their beckoning hands, but above all we want to see Jesus. The glory of his face will give us joy throughout eternity, but unless you see Jesus here by the eye of faith, you never will see Him hereafter."

The next noon-day meeting for men will be held at the court house, Tuesday.

Mrs. Amanda Elizabeth Dailey, widow of Thomas Dailey, who died in 1875, died Friday morning at the St. Joseph hospital where she was removed three days ago after she had suffered a stroke of apoplexy at her home at 722 West DeWald street. Death came at the age of 75 years.

Mrs. Dailey was a life-long resident of Fort Wayne and was born in the house that stood in the middle of the Apple Orchard, which was located where Lakeside now stands. Gustave Doege, the new minister of the Trinity German Lutheran church, arrived in the city Friday afternoon at 3:45 o'clock over the Pennsylvania and was met at the depot by a committee from the church of which Herman Witte was chairman and accompanied the pastor and his family to their new home in Bloomingdale.

The congregation had made all preparations for his arrival and all that the minister and his family had to do was to enter the house and make themselves at home. Members of the congregation, upon the arrival of the car a few days ago which contained all of Rev. Doege's household furniture began at once to move them into the parsonage.

GIRLS! LOTS OF BEAUTIFUL HAIR NO DANDRUFF--25 CENT DANDERINE

Hair coming out? If dry, thin, faded, bring back its color and lustre.

Within ten minutes after an application of Danderine you cannot find a single trace of dandruff or falling hair and your scalp will not itch, but what will please you most will be after a few weeks' use, when you are new hair, fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair—growing all over the scalp.

A little Danderine immediately doubles the beauty of your hair. No difference how dull, faded, brittle and scrappy, just moisten a cloth with Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. The effect is amazing—your hair will be light, fluffy and wavy, and have in appearance of abundance; an incomparable lustre, softness and luxuriance.

Get a 25 cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter, and prove that your hair is as pretty and soft as any—that it has been neglected or injured by careless treatment—that's all—you surely can have beautiful hair and lots of it if you will just try a little Danderine.—Adv.

AREA DEVASTATED BY EARTHQUAKE

THE ABOVE MAP SHOWS THE STRICKEN REGION OF CENTRAL ITALY WHICH SUFFERED MOST FROM THE EARTHQUAKE. THE RUINED TOWNS ARE ALL GROUDED IN A CIRCULAR REGION AROUND ROME, MANY ONLY A FEW MILES' DISTANT.

day from a ruins said: "I had a sensation as though some one was forcing me to dance. Then I was thrown to the ground, and the roof and the walls fell upon my head. Even after I was half buried the earth seemed to heave and grow hot."

A priest was saying mass in a church when he felt the first shock. He rushed under an arch of the building and this saved his life. His acolytes were struck down and killed. The shocks destroyed the aqueduct system of Avezzano and there is today no water in the town.

It is reported that a statue of the virgin Mary forty feet high which stood on the shore of Lake Fucino, has been thrown into the water. There is considerable danger that the drained land in this vicinity will be flooded.

Boy Gave First News.

A wagoner's apprentice, a boy of 13 years, was the first person to give the news of Avezzano to the outside world. He succeeded in getting back into the town a few minutes after the first shock. He found a railroad employee and persuaded this man, with his help to rig up a telegraph instrument in a freight car and connect it with a wire that was still intact. On the instrument the railroad man, who is an operator, soon got Rome. The two together then sent the first news of the disaster.

The pope offered to the mayor of Rome the use of the hospital of Santa Marta, with 300 beds. The mayor accepted this offer at once.

Automobiles Carry Relief.

There has been organized in Rome a private expedition to send out automobiles loaded with relief. Over 300 machines already have left for Avezzano. They carried blankets, medicines, food and cordials. Among the members of the Italian nobility active in relief work are Prince Borghese, Prince Colonna, Prince Altieri and Prince Potenzi.

The pope is anxious about the fate of Monsignor Jannotta, bishop of Sorso, from whom nothing has been heard.

Recent reports of casualties set forth that there were seventy victims of the earthquake at Castelliri; 37 dead and 170 wounded at Isola and ten dead at Capolacchio. At this last mentioned place the casualties are almost all among the relatives of the local priest.

NEWS IS COMING SLOWLY,

But New Disaster Will Closely Approach That at Messina.

Rome, Jan. 15.—News from the earthquake stricken districts of Italy still comes in slowly but enough is known to show that the disaster closely approaches that which befell Messina six years ago. Estimates of the killed and injured vary from 25,000 to 50,000 and it probably will be days before exact figures are available.

Avezzano, sixty miles east of Rome and Sorso, fifteen miles south of Avezzano were the worst sufferers, so far as loss of life is concerned but about sixty towns and villages in all suffered either total demolition or serious damage.

Reports today from the north say the shock was felt as far as the Swiss frontier and that in the Alps in that region there were numerous avalanches, the result of the earthquake. This would make it appear that the earthquake extended throughout the entire length of Italy with the exception of the extreme southern end.

The Italian government and people have quickly responded to the call for help from the stricken people. Thousands of troops have been sent to the scene and the work of rescue and relief is going on night and day. Supplies of food, clothing, blankets and medicines have been dispatched by train where possible and by motor cars where the railroads are blocked. The central committee of the Red Cross was quick to act, having ordered all of its members to join in the relief work at the scene of the disaster. Troops have been sent by the government wherever needed and they were ordered to assist in excavating the ruins, to build wooden huts for survivors, transport the injured and guard property. King Victor Emmanuel, according to advices reaching here, is tireless in his endeavors in the rescue work.

Messages reaching here from along the line from Rome to Tivoli, Carcoli and Avezzano say that everywhere the king passes the people rush to greet him to express their gratitude. The king, it is stated, asked all to abandon unnecessary formalities and desist from inappropriate demonstrations. His only wish, he says, is to visit the wounded and express to them his sympathy and to ascertain what is possible to be done to relieve so much misery.

Having heard that means of transportation are still lacking the king has ordered that all the automobiles at the royal palace be immediately dispatched for use in the stricken districts. In his travels, whenever he reaches a telegraph station, the king sends messages to Queen Helena, who wishes to hear all details of the disaster.

Pope Deeply Grieved.

Pope Benedict is deeply grieved over the misfortune which has befallen the Italian people. He showed his deep interest and sympathy by an unusual visit to the Santa Marta hospital, where forty-one persons, injured during the earthquake, are receiving treatment.

His holiness spoke to each single one of the patients, asking for particulars of the disaster and inquiring about their families. He consoled them by saying that he would entrust to the clergy the task of seeking their relatives and by imparting to all the apostolic benediction.

The American ambassador, Thomas N. Page, called at the ministry of the interior yesterday to express the sympathy of America over the disaster which has befallen Italy. He intimated a desire to send members of the embassy to the earthquake district to give such aid as they could, if there was no objection. He was informed that the Italian government would much appreciate such sympathetic initiative and soon thereafter the ambassador dispatched an automobile with Second Secretary Norval Richardson, Lieutenant Commander Charles Train, the naval attaché, and Private Secretaries John Harrison and Marion Sims Wyeth. They started for the Avezzano district with supplies, especially blankets, which they will distribute. The party expects to return to Rome by Friday night.

Avezzano presents a scene of wreck and desolation, according to advices received from that place. Practically every building in the town is in ruins and nearly all its people are dead or injured. Many are still alive, buried under the debris, and the rescuers are working night and day in an endeavor to reach them.

Late advices say that about five hundred bodies have been recovered and that hundreds of injured have been taken from the ruins. Nearly all the civil officials of Avezzano, including the mayor, lost their lives.

Similar conditions exist in the towns and villages around Avezzano, Magliano, to the north and Pescara, to the east, are practically in ruins. Among the missing in the last named place is Monsignor Bagnoli, the bishop of Pescara. Cold and snow are adding to the sufferings of the survivors. The lamentations of the people, according to correspondents who have passed through the disaster, are pitiful and they are begging to be taken to places where it is possible to care for them.

CLEAR TO SWISS FRONTIER.

Genoa, Jan. 15.—(Via Paris, 1:35 a. m.)—News which has reached here from Genoa and Chiasso indicates that the earthquake was felt in the Italian valleys clear to the Swiss frontier. Telegraph and telephone lines were generally down in that district, but it has been ascertained that no loss of life is reported there. Little news that has come through from the frontier reports that the Alps trembled during the shock and detached numerous avalanches, as the snow on the summits was very deep. From Courmayeur, Italy, through the mountains, an avalanche was seen falling from Mount Blanc. A party of Italian troops who returned to Aosta, report that they felt the shock and saw avalanches fall from Mount Rosa.

tachments of infantrymen, engineers, artillerymen and carabinieri have arrived to assist in the rescue work and guard property. The houses in the town have not all been destroyed, but most of these still standing threaten to collapse. The occupants have been turned out by the authorities because of the dangerous conditions of their homes. Up to the present time more than 450 bodies have been taken from the ruins and large numbers of injured persons have also been rescued. The injured are being cared for in booksh and tents rigged up outside the town. Bread and other provisions are being served liberally to the survivors. The military and the communal authorities are directing the work of rescue.

LADIES! DARKEN YOUR GRAY HAIR

Use Grandma's Sage Tea and Sulphur Recipe and Nobody will Know.

The use of Sage and Sulphur for restoring faded, gray hair to its natural color dates back to grandmother's time. She used it to keep her hair beautifully dark, glossy and abundant. Whenever her hair fell out or took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect.

But brewing at home is messy and out-of-date. Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for a 50 cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound" you will get this famous old recipe, which can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair and is splendid for dandruff, dry, feverish, itchy scalp and falling hair. A well-known downtown druggist says it darkens the hair so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, it becomes beautifully dark, glossy and abundant.—Adv.

SAYS ALL MEN HAVE INSTINCT TO PLUNDER

Crime Expert Makes Interesting Analysis of Life on Downward Path.

Carl May is a noted criminologist, connected with the superior court probation office here. His theory is that the urge to prey on one's fellows is much nearer the surface in some men than in others, but that all possess it. Refined associates and proper environment tend to keep it down, this plundering tendency, believes May, while rough surroundings and evil influences develop and sharpen it.

"To lessen crime in the next generation," he asserts, "we must closely watch the children of this generation and bring them up so that they will not come in contact with the things that tend to develop the latent criminal's instinct."

May has divided criminals into two broad classes—the foxes and the wolves. The foxes are the forgers, embezzlers and crooks of that ilk. They are crafty and cowardly. Their crimes are carefully premeditated, with personal danger eliminated as far as possible from their plans.

Selfishness or the desire to make a show in the world often prompts them to crime, rousing the old instinct to prey by stealth.

"The wolves are the burglars and highway robbers, possessing courage of a kind that does not shrink from possible grave peril. When the brute suddenly flares up in a man he becomes the wolf type of criminal. He wants something immediately, and has no time to falsify ledgers or copy another man's signature.

The fox type of crook develops so insidiously that it becomes hard to stamp it out. Only a mother, says May, has the power to fight it. By watching her boy she can forestall the rousing of the fox impulses. The wolf type, working more for the moment, is easier to curb, according to May.

According to statistics compiled by May, the fox type of crook predominates over the wolf type in the proportion of about 30 per cent. to 7 per cent. in every 100 cases.

MARSHALL WILL WALK.

Joins Those Who Take Three-Mile Tramp Each Day.

Washington, Jan. 15.—Vice President Marshall has joined the statesmen's pedestrian club, as the group of dignitaries who daily parade Pennsylvania avenue from the treasury to the capitol is called. The vice president has determined to abandon the automobile gradually, according to him by the congress and walk the mile and a half each way every day. His physician told him that he needed exercise in the open air and that the three-mile round trip would just about fit his needs.

The statesmen's pedestrian club includes in its somewhat elastic membership such important members of the government family as Chief Justice White, Justice Hughes, Justice Lamar, Senators Lippitt, Martine, Lewis and O'Gorman and Representative Mann.

LIVING IN WILDS WITH JOLO SAVAGES

Mrs. Spencer Ventures
Where White Women Had Never Gone Before.

San Francisco, Cal., Jan. 15.—Disciple of personal ambition, cleanliness and edu-

Mrs. Lorillard Spencer.

ation among the semi-civilized Moro natives of Jolo, the Philippines, where never white woman had ventured before, Mrs. Lorillard Spencer, society leader and philanthropist of New York and Newport, recently arrived here on a short tour.

Mrs. Spencer has spent more than a year in the mountain strongholds of these Mohammedan warrior people, where she was the protégé of the native chieftain.

Her unique mission was undertaken despite the protests of her friends in high eastern social circles, as well as the warning of American friends in the islands that her venture was fraught with great danger.

"I found the Moros a kindly people, courteous and considerate," she said upon her arrival here, "and not at all the blood-thirsty savages they have been painted. They do not 'hunt heads,' although I will admit that they sometimes decapitate their enemies in battle."

"My propaganda among them did not touch religious life, because they are Mohammedans, and I consider that quite good enough to take them to heaven. I tried to teach personal ambition and the necessity of education, and believe I have succeeded."

To get to the Moro country, Mrs. Spencer, accompanied by her companion, Miss Katherine Bullin, of New York, rode horseback through the jungles for many leagues.

The manifest sincerity of her interest in the natives' welfare carried her safely through districts so notoriously perilous that even United States army officers do not travel alone in them.

The two society women, reared in luxury, were given a thatch hut to live in by the chief who welcomed them. They lived the simple life of the natives, tactfully spreading their propaganda, and soon felt themselves as safe among "their friends" of the island mountains as they would have been on Fifth Avenue or in a Newport ballroom.

Mrs. Spencer plans to return to the Moro village after a short vacation in the East.

Dr. Parley Zartman Speaks on the Principles of Evangelism.

An all-day conference of Christian Workers and evangelists was held Friday at the tabernacle at Main and Irving streets, visitors being here from many of the surrounding towns and cities within a radius of fifty miles.

The service started shortly after 9 o'clock with a song and devotional service led by Loren G. Jones. Rev. George P. Stevens, who is conducting a tabernacle meeting at Auburn, spoke on the "Baptism of Fire." He declared that fire is the most potent and powerful element in the material world. Just as it is in the material world so it is in the spiritual world. The preacher should be on fire with enthusiasm and zeal, the churches, many of them now cold storages, should be on fire. Jesus has said that he will come again in a flame of fire.

The only way to fight the devil is with God's fire. The great need of today is fire, he stated. There have been 200 conversions during the last three nights that the invitation has been given. Sixty-three took the stand for Christ on the first night.

Rev. Parley Zartman, D. D., secretary of the association of evangelists, spoke on the principles of evangelism. Evangelism is not a discussion, but a declaration; not a program, but a principle; it is not a method of work, but a motive for all work he declared. Evangelism must have absolute primacy in every church.

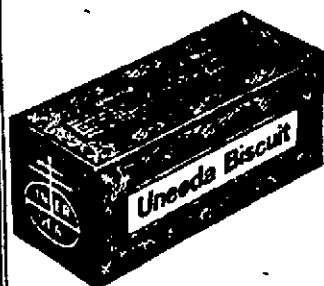

Three Things Needed.
There are three things that evangelism does not need, he continued: (1) A new message; (2) a new method; (3) a new motive. If the church is to succeed there are three imperative needs: (1) personal holiness, as Henry Drummond says: "Not more of it, but a better brand of it;" (2) personal service. This was the plan of the Lord in his program for the church and his promise for the world; (3) prevailing prayer. The church lacks power because she does not know how to pray.

Dr. Zartman said that the one great encouragement in evangelistic work is the Lord's promise: "Follow me and I will make you fishermen of men." The meeting was resumed at 1:30 o'clock Friday afternoon with a song service. At 2 o'clock a conference and discussion of evangelistic meetings and methods was conducted by Dr. Zartman. This was followed by the regular afternoon service at 2:45 o'clock, Dr. Lyon speaking.

List of Visitors.
Those here from a distance to attend the conference were the following: Mrs. A. H. Backus, Butler; George VanHouten, Arcola; Walfrid Lindstrom, Pleasant Lake; Rev. W. H. Chase, Auburn; Rev. Conde A. roduced on the question of how the present registration law should be changed.

More Views on Registration.
He would leave the registration law stand just as it is with respect to all cities of more than 10,000 and in towns and rural districts would still retain the registration but would compel only new voters in a precinct to register. His bill is a sort of compromise measure between those that have already been introduced. He said the method would cost just about the same as the present system but that it would do away with the inconvenience to the voters in small towns and rural districts caused under the present law.

A bill by Senator VanAuken to give the right of appeal where an injunction is denied or the appointment of a receiver is refused, and Senator James R. Fleming's bill to fix a uniform license of $5 for automobiles were the only other measures of general importance introduced. Under the present law a graded license fee is charged on automobiles varying according to the size and power of the machine. Senator Fleming's bill would also change the present law by giving the counties the benefit of the license money rather than the state.

Brings Out Ridicule.

Steps to make the conduct of business of the 1916 house of the Indiana legislature as economic as possible were ridiculed by members of both the majority and the minority when an effort was made at the session this morning to require members to buy their own postage stamps. The resolution introduced by Representative Sare, of Bloomington, to strike out an appropriation of $100 for the purchase of postage was voted down 72 to 19. The house then adjourned until 2 p. m. Monday.

After Representative Sare had objected to the state buying postage for the members, Representative Rule, of Camden, replied, stating the stamps were to be used in corresponding with constituents, and "therefore an appropriation of $100 for this purpose is no extravagance."

A Scared Atmosphere.

"There is too much of a scared atmosphere prevailing over this body," said Representative Hagerty, of South Bend. "I for one want to serve my constituents and I believe the members of the house need the instruments of war by which to do so," he continued.

"Stupid economy" was the characterization of the proposal made by Representative Juddins, of Wayne county, lone progressive member of the house.

Floor Leader Eschbach, of Warsaw, speaking for the republican side, said "Of all the penny-wise legislation in an effort at economy that has ever been attempted on this floor, this is the limit."

Representative Sare jumped to his feet, but was not recognized by the speaker. The axes and nays were taken after Floor Leader Brannaman, of the majority, argued for the appropriation, saying "all members of the house are honest and will use the postage for good purposes."

Kinder and Wyss Present Bill.

The present law governing public street or sewer improvements made in municipalities would be amended by Representatives Kinder and Wyss, of Allen county. Mr. Kinder's bill would facilitate the collection of street improvement assessments by the contractors, while that of Mr. Wyss provides for redemption of waived improvement bonds whenever the property owner wishes to do so by paying interest on the bonds for the following six months, instead of for the remainder of the life of the bonds, as is the present custom.

SHERIDAN MAN MISSING.

Mother Says E. O. Ridgeway Left Home New Year's Day.

Sheridan, Ind., Jan. 15.—No trace has been found of Ernest O. Ridgeway, son of Mrs. O. N. Ridgeway, owner of a jewelry store here, who has been missing from his home in this city since New Year's day.

His mother said he left home on the morning of New Year's day, supposedly to open the store. She learned of her son's disappearance that night, she said, and telephoned the fact to the Baldwin-Miller company, of Indianapolis, which operates a wholesale jewelry supply house. The store has been closed because of the son's absence and not because of insolvency.

ORCHESTRA SELECTED FOR THE NEW PALACE

Tony Oesterle Will Direct It
Back in Game.

"Tony" Oesterle, for the past six months leader of the Temple theatre orchestra has been selected to conduct the orchestra at the new Palace theatre, and already has selected the musicians in anticipation of the opening January 25. Associated with Mr. Oesterle will be Wade Warvere, cello; Howard Townsend, cornet; Harry Parks, clarinet; Earl Ogden, string bass; Harvey Sawyer, trombone; Dick Richards, drums; E. R. Schremer, violin, and Fred Reineke, second violin with Mr. Oesterle playing first violin and directing.

All the members of the orchestra are Fort Wayne men with the exception of Mr. Schremer, who comes here from Detroit where he now is playing in the Detroit Opera house. The return of Prof. Fred Reineke to active participation in the theatre orchestra work is one that will be welcomed by discerning vaudeville patrons as Professor Reineke generally is considered one of the best accompanists for theatrical work that Fort Wayne ever enjoyed. No matter how many liberties the performer takes with the written music he finds Professor Reineke the stipulated distance behind him all the time.

Messrs. Barnett and Slinger did not overlook their party friends in designating the seats for the palace and a remarkable institution "fat-man's row" has been added to the main floor of the house. On either side of the main floor two rows of seats two inches wider than any other chairs in the house have been set for the comfort of the well upholstered ones. These chairs are twenty-two inches wide while the others are but twenty-one, an inch wider than theatre seats usually are.

DEEP FOG CAUSES REAR-END COLLISION

As a result of the dense fog Friday morning about 7 o'clock a work car on the Fort Wayne & Northern Indiana Traction company's line running at a fairly good rate of speed ran into the rear end of a Robinson park car four miles north of the city at stop No. 1, near Penn place, knocking out the rear vestibule of the street car.

The park car had slowed down for a stop when the work car crashed into it from the rear, the motorman on the work car being unable to see any distance before him on account of the dense fog. Although there were several passengers on the park car no one was injured.

PAT O'CONNOR OUT FOR JAIL RECORD

Makes Seventh Appearance
Four Months.

Pat O'Connor, a laborer who really labors when he can keep out of jail, is out for the police court record and it is believed he will win, unless Judge Kerr makes good his promise to have Pat imprisoned for a year or two in the "big stir" as an incorrigible offender. O'Connor's greatest weakness is red liquor and his next greatest is conversation. Judge Kerr had a hard time cutting in the muffle on Pat's verbal gearing long enough to tell him what was what. Friday morning's appearance was his seventh engagement in the city court in the period of the last four months. In that time he has been released at 9 o'clock Thursday morning after doing a forty-day bit for drunkenness and before noon he was again in the police pen roaring drunk and trying to sing "It's a Long Way to Tipperary." Two previous convictions were placed against him with the intention of tagging him with a four months' term in jail, but the court changed its mind and put $5 and costs on him, which will hold him for fifteen days.

Thirty Days for Bit of Fiction.
Henry Warner, who says he is a Garrett machinist and came down here Thursday evening by way of Montpelier, Ohio, to attend the boxing show staged by the Moose lodge, drew thirty days for impersonating an officer. He was prowling around the old Wabash depot, which is now used for freight storage, and the watchman there wanted to know why. "I'm an officer. See I'm here to watch you and I'll be busy on the job for awhile," said Warner. The watchman hiked out and found Night Patrolman Boscher and the two discovered Warner where he had stowed himself and mellowed some for a snooze on a pile of freight. He was sent in. To the court Warner pleaded that he was too drunk to know what he was doing and made the interesting observation that while employed in the Auburn automobile factory he had worked as a machinist on the construction of the Fort Wayne automobile patrol wagon.

"I didn't think then I'd ever be a sure-footed passenger in it," ruefully said Warner. He was fined $25 and costs.
Other City Court Cases.
Joe Sullivan and Hugh Dickenson each in his time appeared at the police station Thursday night to seek lodgings and each was so well saturated that he was booked for intoxication and put in a cell. Judge Kerr let them go.

The cases against Albert Heider and Joe Swain for burglary and Harry Stenger for loitering were continued a week. The trio are accused of burglarizing the Liebhenguth restaurant on Main street. Rafael Bobay, the Yiddish man who is suspected of having stolen a heavy gold watch he pawned here two weeks ago, was continued until January 23. The police have been unable to verify any of Bobay's stories as to his place of residence in Chicago or the fact of a wife in New York.

Bernard Laughlin, the young man who tried to commit suicide in a police cell several days ago after arrest on a loitering charge, was released and then immediately asked the court to lock him up again for a few days. He was turned loose Friday morning. He is a stranger in the city and promised to leave town at once.

Burglars Ransack Home on Wayne Street, But Take Nothing.
Burglars who evidently wanted cash and not portable property of any other description broke into the residence at 880 West Wayne street, occupied by Mrs. Lucetta Meyers, Mrs. Anna McCracken and Miss Mary Sibray, Thursday night, during the absence of the ladies at the Lyon revival meeting, and after ransacking the house in thorough fashion left it in wild disorder without having taken anything. Although a gold watch, much silverware and valuable toilet articles were lying about free to their hands, nothing so far as can be determined was taken. The burglars jammed the door on an enclosure of a buffet within which is a small safe, but found nothing in it. Much force was necessary to wrench the heavy wooden door. Entrance was forced by

Woman's Suffrage Advocates Entertain at the Randall Hotel Thursday

Many local business men and men of other profession who are well known in the city were guests at a dinner Thursday evening, at the Randall hotel, when they were invited to take part by advocates of woman's suffrage. The sympathizers of this movement believed that some men's hearts could be reached through the medium of their stomachs. Following the dinner, short talks were made endorsing the movement of the women and several new members were added to the list.
Prof. Ross F. Lockridge, secretary of the Citizen's League of Indiana, which promoted the move for a new state constitution introduced the speakers of the evening. Rabbi Meyer Lovitch was the first speaker and his address on "Civic Improvements" was well received. Theodore Thieme was the next speaker and his subjects was, "City Charters." "Woman's Suffrage" was the theme of the address given by Miss Anna Graham who gave a very forceful talk and urged that the women do all they can to bring about the adoption of the suffrage clause in the national constitution. The next speaker, William Dickey, spoke on "Taxation" and the program was closed when Hon. T. E. Ellison gave a talk in which he heartily endorsed the woman's suffrage movement.

TEACHER FINED FOR ASSAULT.

Whipped Physically Deficient Boy with Paddle, He Admits.

Columbus, Ind., Jan. 15.—Charles Gosh, a teacher in the school at Garden City, a village in Columbus township, has paid a fine of $10 and costs, amounting to $28, as a result of being found guilty of assault and battery on Oliver Bradley, one of his pupils. Gosh, when found guilty by Justice Kinney, announced he would appeal the case to the circuit court, but he has decided not to fight the case.

Evidence was introduced in the trial to show that the Bradley boy is physically deficient, and this is thought to make him deficient in mental work in school. Gosh admitted whipping him with a paddle, but said he did not think the whipping was too severe.

"BAY WINDOW" LENSES

A man said to me the other day, "Looking out of my Toric Lenses is just like looking out of a bay window compared with an ordinary flat window."

That expresses it! It costs a bit more to build a bay window and it costs more to design and build Toric Lenses than it does to buy the ordinary flat kind that are turned out by the ton in the big factories, but—and this interests you for your eyes are invaluable—Toric lenses are worth much more; more in comfort, in optical effectiveness, and in that they become you better, for each pair is designed for your particular needs.

FLOOD PREVENTION PLAN THAT IS EASY

Mayor Proposes Measures to Give Immediate Relief to Two Sections.

Some flood prevention measures that will prove easy of achievement, may be immediately set about and give relief to two sections of the city, are proposed by Mayor Hoesy. One is to cut a channel under Clinton street and down past the rear of the city works to drain the region north of Superior street and afford relief to points farther west, and the other is to open a channel along Herbert street from the Coombs street bridge east to enter the Maumee at a point a considerable distance east. This would relieve conditions in a wide region and give protection to the Wayne Oil Tank works. The territory in this region lies much below the banks of the Maumee, which aggravates conditions when the river goes to flood stage. Neither improvement would involve engineering difficulties or great expense.

TO CHANGE SMOKE ORDINANCE.

Some practical changes will be urged in the proposed new smoke ordinance next week when the technical committee of the Fort Wayne Civic Improvement association meets in conference with the council committee on rules, regulations and ordinances. The design of the technical committee, of which O. N. Guldin is chairman, is to render the measure less drastic and more practicable, to the end that every manufacturing, business, hotel, office building and residence in Fort Wayne may yield a practical compliance with the provisions of the measure. The technical committee believes that the ordinance should be fairly liberal at the beginning and strict compliance enforced.

TO GET THE BAD SHOWS.

At the regular meeting of the board of safety, Friday evening, Mayor Hoesy and Chief of Police Lenz will submit a proposal that the theater ordinance be so amended as to incorporate in it the provisions of an ordinance regulating public entertainments so that it will be possible to revoke a theater's license if an indecent or offensive show is presented. The present theater ordinance merely provides for licensing theaters at $150 annually, but there is no provision for revoking the permit because bad shows are staged. The new measure is proposed in order to meet lately developed conditions in one or two theaters, where recent performances have provoked considerable indignation.

EX-COMPTROLLER SCHMIDT HERE.

August M. Schmidt, former clerk of the board of works, city clerk and city comptroller, and in 1909 democratic candidate for mayor, has returned to this city to spend six weeks with his family, after a long absence in the far northwest. He is connected with the Carboliteum Wood Preservative company, with headquarters in Portland, Ore. This is his first visit to Fort Wayne since leaving, several years ago.

BOARD OF WORKS MEETING.

The board of works at Thursday night's meeting ordered plans for a sewer in the first alley west of Thompson avenue, from Huels to the Wabash tracks, and received petitions for the pavement of Rockhill street, Jefferson to Lavinia, and for the construction of a cement sidewalk on the north side of Elm street, from Cherry to Center.

TWO APPOINTMENTS TO MAKE.

Board of Safety to Name Desk Sergeant and Patrolman.

The board of safety at Friday night's session will appoint a night desk sergeant to succeed the vacancy created by the promotion of Sergeant Harry Gilmie to lieutenant of police a week ago, and will advance a patrolman to the sergeant's rank. This will necessitate the appointment of a new patrolman. Half a score of patrolmen are spoken of for the night sergeant's position among them Officers Barr, Gallentine, Madden, Brandt, Brown and others. It is said that Anthony L. Novitsky, a Polish-American, who resides on Gay street, and is employed at the Bass foundry, is slated for appointment as the new patrolman, as a recognition of the large Polish element in the city's population and because it is believed his services will have peculiar value to the police department.

NOW READY FOR HIGH WATER.

Lakeside Sewer Pump Will be in Operation Before Flood Can Come.

Lakeside and Forest park residents may now feel secure that the next high water in the Maumee river will not cause them inconvenience and damage from arrested sewage when floods force a closing of the gates of the Morton and Tecumseh streets sewers. The Indiana Engineering and Construction company by Saturday night will have the pumps installed, the motor installed and the pumping plant ready for wiring. Early in the coming week the entire installation will be in working order and ready to lift sewage over the Maumee river dike into the river. A flood cannot arrive ahead of complete readiness to deal with it. The completion of this improvement meets a demand that Lakeside and Forest park residents have been strenuously making for a long time and it has been effected at a cost of about $8,000, for which the entire region benefited will be assessed. The pumps are more than ample in capacity to lift all the sewage that may come to them.

CITY GETS AID GRATIS.

Lake Shore and Traction Companies Furnish Cars and Power.

To enable the city to more rapidly and conveniently move the broken cement from its place of storage to the Spy Run avenue retaining wall, where it will be used for filling, the Lake Shore railroad has donated to the board of works the use of two flat cars and the traction company will furnish the tracks and power for them without cost. The city will be put to no expense for this work except what must be paid to Street Superintendent Herman Strode's gang of shovellers. The removal of the concrete, which was given to the city by the traction company when the Wallace street tracks were rebuilt, will now proceed rapidly. Contractor Tapp has not yet been able to make additional progress on the uncompleted portion of the wall since high water interrupted the work.

LONG MISSING AUTO TRUCK COMES BACK

A big auto truck, valued at $1,750, for which the police have conducted a prolonged search, was located by the efforts of Detective Sergeants Charles Spillner and Peter Junk and is expected to reach Fort Wayne from Bairdstown, Ohio, Friday night or Saturday morning.

The truck was purchased from M. F. Jones, manager of the Ideal Auto Truck sales agency in this city, by C. E. Baird, 632 Third street. At the same time another truck valued at $1,250 was sold to Baird. The installment plan ruled the deal and Baird fell down on his payments after a time. The company took possession of the smaller one and then went later after the other. Baird said the truck had been taken some time previously from his barn and he supposed the Ideal people had seized it. Manager Jones went to the police and submitted the case. Baird was questioned, but denied knowing anything about the truck. The truck disappeared October 8 and nothing was heard of it until a few days ago when it was located in the care of William Hollinger at Bairdstown, Ohio, with whom it was left October 10 by Baird. The officers have secured from Hollinger a letter written January 5 by Baird to Hollinger enclosing $3 for storage for three months. The Ideal company had no mortgage on the truck and probably no legal action can be against Baird save a civil suit for damages.

TO FORECLOSE ON MASONIC TEMPLE

Friendly Suit by Masonic Lodges to Acquire Title to Property.

A friendly suit that marks a step of the Masonic bodies of Fort Wayne to acquire title in their own name to the Masonic temple, corner of Wayne and Clinton streets, was filed in the superior court, Friday, by the Tri-State Loan & Trust company, as trustee for the bondholders, to foreclose a trust mortgage on the property, demanding $90,000. The suit was filed at the instance of the Masonic lodges that hold the bonds of the Masonic Temple association, nominal owner of the property. There are no bonds held by any except the Masonic lodges and the only interest of the Tri-State company in the suit is as trustee for these bondholders. The Masonic temple was built and is nominally owned by the Masonic Temple association. A plan is under way by which the property shall be taken over by a new holding company representing the Masonic bodies of the city and shall be in their name. The bonds upon which the foreclosure suit is based are second mortgage bonds issued in 1908 and drawing 4 per cent. interest payable semi-annually.

Injunction Against Wife.

William Fredericks has resorted to the unusual process of obtaining an injunction to restrain his wife, Elita Fredericks, from molesting him at his boarding and lodging places or at his place of employment. He wants a divorce and alleges that she treated him cruelly, striking and cursing him, calling him vile names and finally compelling him to leave home. He says she has compelled him to leave two or three boarding places by visiting him and causing disturbance. He also charges her with associating with other men. He asks the custody of an 11-year-old daughter. They were married in 1902 and separated last April.

Convicted in Jig Time.

After deliberating twelve minutes, a jury in the circuit court, Thursday afternoon, reached, prepared and delivered a verdict finding Walter Wells guilty of criminal assault on Susie Fisher, a 15-year-old girl. Judge Eggeman sentenced Wells to two to twenty-one years in the state reformatory at Jeffersonville. Wells received the verdict and the subsequent penalty jauntily and when presented for sentence said he had nothing to say. While Deputy Prosecutor Callahan was preparing the commitment Wells remarked to him, "Make it for life; I don't care."

Notes of the Courts.

John S. McCombs, as administrator de bonis non with the will annexed of the estate of the late James McCombs, has begun suit in the circuit court against Robert S. McCombs and others in a petition to sell real estate. Arthur Rauner has brought suit in the circuit court against John Weber and Noah J. Weber for $250 on a contract. He alleges that he paid the defendant $156 for a horse that was guaranteed to be sound, but that crumpled up next day and has since been worthless. The plaintiff resides near Roanoke.

In the circuit court Jason D. Branstator has sued George McAngus for possession of real estate and $300 damages.

Catherine E. Sutherland has brought suit in the circuit court against Benjamin Sutherland to quiet title and for the sale of real estate.

Lena F. Edwards sues William C. Edwards in the superior court for divorce, alleging he has given her no support for the past two years. They were married in November, 1909, and separated last May.

In the superior court Judge Yaple has issued an order citing John Sprang, receiver for the Sprang Clay Products company, to appear January 20 and show cause for failure to convert the assets of the company into cash and make a distribution to creditors.

The last will and testament of John J. Cortwright has been filed for probate. The estate is left to the widow, Louise Cortwright, who is named as executrix.

Wilhelmina Deich has filed in the superior court a verified petition for modification of the court's order in the divorce case of Carl Herfort vs. Ethel Herfort, praying custody of two minor children of the couple, of which she is the grandmother. She alleges that Carl Herfort is morally unfit to have charge of them and is threatening to take them away from her home, 430 Baker street. Final report has been filed by the receiver in the suit of G. M. H. Wagner against Abscheiman & Co., in the superior court.

The suit of Eva Myslivce vs. Joe Shwiderki and the suit of Walter Bourman vs. Jacob Feichter have been dismissed from the superior court.

The will of the late William C. Bishop has been filed for probate and it divides his entire estate, real and personal, to his widow for life. Mrs. Bishop is named executrix.

AFTER TOBACCO DEALERS.

Truancy Officer Rudy C. Reinwald has taken up with Prosecuting Attorney Harry H. Hilleman the question of prosecuting tobacco dealers who have been selling cigarettes and cigar "makings" to young school boys in violation of a state law which makes the offense a misdemeanor that can be punished with severity. Truancy Officer Reinwald says he has made some investigations and find that law is being violated with much flagrancy. The principal of a south side school called him in to report that many small boys of that school were smoking cigarettes. The names of eight boys were given to Reinwald and he questioned them, finding they had bought tobacco and cigar papers at various stores on the south side. The boys ranged in age from 8 to 12 years. Some of the boys stated that they had been sold tobacco without question. Mr. Reinwald is also investigating reports that a number of places have penny slot machines which young schoolboys are allowed to play.

The Square and Compass club will have a dance at Minnet hall tonight.

Mrs. Huber, of Hoagland, is visiting her brother, Dr. C. H. English and wife, of South Webster street, for two or three days.

The Past Chiefs' association of Pythian Sisters will meet tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in K. of P. hall, Washington boulevard west.

Mrs. J. Well, who had been visiting her sister in Terre Haute, has returned home, and was accompanied by her sister, Mrs. Emil Myers and their brother, J. H. Huchchild. During her visit in Terre Haute Mrs. Well was ill for three weeks.

The N. T. club of the Clay school held its first meeting yesterday at the home of Miss Lora Cohen, 1008 Columbia avenue. Officers elected are: President, Myrl Hagman; vice president, Beryl Streibig; secretary, Gertrude Sonnenburg, and treasurer, Irene Johnson. A fine luncheon was served after the business. Margaret Furthmiller will be the next hostess.

A party at the home of Miss Mabel Grubb given by the A-Kio-Ya club to the younger members of the Eastern Star, was a jolly affair. Players to make six school garden results in children's work tables enjoyed a game until late and then served a supper. Judge Eggeman talked about juvenile delinquency and made were in star shape. Clusters of stars hung in the parlor and large stars adorned the doors and archways. Ices served by Miss Tapp, Miss Monroe and Miss Long. Miss Wilbur invited the parents to attend a lecture on gardening to be given in the high school auditorium about the middle of February.

Miss Mario Landenberger is visiting Miss Augusta Sailer, of St. Louis, Mo., for several weeks.

NEWS OF FORT WAYNE'S NEIGHBORS

WOULD NOT KNOW HIS WIFE IF HE SAW HER

Young Man Long in Jail for Contracting
Fraudulent Marriage, Paroled
at Huntington.

Huntington, Ind., Jan. 15.—Tearfully
protesting his innocence and passionately avowing that he would not know his girl wife if he should see her, Martion Holcomb, a Markle youth warmly thanked Judge Samuel L. Cook in the circuit court when the judge paroled
him and effected his release from the
one month of a 250-day sentence on conviction of having contracted a marriage to escape prosecution in paternity
proceedings. Ever since his arrest six months ago Holcomb has protested his innocence and when summoned before Judge Cook for parole, repeated his vehement assertion that he did not know
the girl and never had had intimate relations with her.

"I would not know the girl if I saw
her. I never did know her," said Holcomb and he broke down and wept.

The parole was granted in consideration of his promise to pay his wife $48
in monthly installments of $3 toward
the support of the child that is said to
be his.

The Holcomb story is unusual. Holcomb says that the marshal of Markle
and the father of the girl came to his home at night, frightened him with threats of prosecution and induced him
to accompany them to Bluffton, where
a marriage ceremony was hastily performed. He never lived with his wife
and has maintained throughout that he
was innocent of betraying her.

SEND HERMIT TO INFIRMARY.

Aged and Independent Character of Waterloo Taken Care Of.

Waterloo, Ind., Jan. 15.—After living for forty years the life of a hermit in a small hut just outside the corporate limits west of Waterloo and pursuing his independence, though no one seems
Hisey, a very old man, consented after much persuasion to go to the county
infirmary for the balance of the winter.

Hisey at first resisted the proposal of City Marshal Doorman that he go to
the infirmary, but at length yielded,
and the recluse who for two score years had stubbornly made shift for himself in where he can be looked after. He was a familiar figure on the streets here.
Bent over, he walked with a cane and
at the same time was always seen pushing a two-wheeled cart in front of him.
The cart was a heavy vehicle, made
from two wheels of an old carriage.
This Mr. Hisey used as a protection to
keep people from running into him.
Many a time he would come to town
and go home very late at night. On arrival at home he would enter a cold
house and many a time sleep without sufficient heat to keep warm. His advanced age has rendered him almost helpless so far as earning a living, and
how he even existed is a mystery, being so independent that he did not want
to accept help.

SUSPECTED OF ROBBERY.

Bluffton, Ind., Jan. 15.—Contrary to first reports of the attempted robbery of the Frank Conklin and John Mc-Bride stores at the little town of Rockford, northwest of Bluffton, the burglars
did attempt to blow the safe at the McBride store, but evidently did not
have a heavy enough charge of explosive
and the safe was not damaged. Very careful survey of the two stocks of
goods convinced the proprietors that at
the Conklin store a package of Duke's Mixture tobacco was taken and at the McBride store a piece of plug tobacco
was taken as the sole plunder of the thefts. One inveterate user of Duke's Mixture tobacco is a member of about
the only family in the community which
has not displayed enough curiosity to
call and inspect the stores since they
were broken into.

Columbia City, Ind., Jan. 15.—One of
the surprise weddings of the first month
of the year was that of Mrs. Carrie D.
Carlin and George G. Clark, both of Union township, which occurred at 2 o'clock Thursday at the M. E. parsonage in this city, with Rev. C. W. Sheumaker officiating. The bride has resided in Union township for a few years and purchased the J. W. Barkman 100 acre farm and the Wm. Robbins farm adjoining. She will be thirty years old next Wednesday, January 20, and was divorced April 8, 1911, from her first husband. She is a daughter of Peter Kline and wife, both residing at Kendall, Ind. Her husband is two years her senior, and is an energetic young farmer, being the son of Trustee Frank
W. Clark, of Union township.

NEGLECT CASE IS PECULIAR.

Van Wert, O., Jan. 15.—The case of
Ora Gilliland, arrested in Fort Wayne
Tuesday by the police of that city and
brought back here by Deputy Sheriff
Henry Wilson to answer a charge of neglecting a child, is somewhat out of
the ordinary. Two years ago Gilliland's
wife ran away with another man, leaving three small children. Gilliland got

a divorce and was given custody of the
children, two of which were placed with
his parents and the other with a sister
of his former wife, who prefers the charge of non-support. Deputy Wilson has started for Modesto, Cal., where Joseph Wable, another man indicted by
the grand jury for non-support, was arrested on advice from this city, and
will bring him back.

CAN'T GET HORSE INSURANCE.

Hicksville, O., Jan. 15.—Ed Sinn,
owner of Ed S., the fast Hicksville harness racer that broke his leg in a race
at Van Wert, O. this fall, cannot collect on his insurance policy because he consulted sentiment and not sordid
practice. His love for his great racer
led him to spend a large sum to have
the broken leg set, although the horse
can never race again, and is practically
useless. The live stock insurance company in which he held a policy refuses
to pay because the animal did not die.
Sinn might easily have killed the animal as is done in a vast majority of cases where horses suffer a broken leg.

Van Wert, O., Jan. 15.—Among Van
Wert county boys who were fortunate
in winning prizes at the state corn
show in Columbus this week in the high school exhibit were: Yellow corn variety, Byron Jenkins, first place; Wilbur Bair, second, and Carey Parker,
third place. In the white corn variety,
Dale Stuck won first place, Mack Wilson second and Doyt Poling third place.
John Pugh won first premium in the best ton cura of pop corn while the second premium on the same was copied
by Frank McMillen. The Van Wert high school agricultural class for the second consecutive time won the silver
cup awarded at the state corn show.

Auburn, Ind., Jan. 15.—While no
public invitation has as yet been given
during the tabernacle revival meetings
by Evangelist Stephens, between six hundred and eighty people of Auburn are reported to have acknowledged conversion in the cottage prayer meetings
and through other agencies. The spiritual effect of the revival is said to be apparent in many ways. Some are said
to be paying bills that had been long defaulted and some stolen chickens
have been returned to the owner.

Huntington, Ind., Jan. 15.—Mrs. Orville Walker, the woman who became violently insane at her home in Ros-enoke a few days since, is now detained at the county jail here. She was taken into custody at the home of her father-
in-law, Noah Walker, at Zanesville,
Ohio, yesterday. Sheriff and Mrs. W. V.
Scott have long known Mrs. Walker
and hope to be able to give her such attention as will compose her mind. If
she shows no improvement soon she
will be sent to an institution.

"THE LAST CARD" IN REALITY.

Van Wert, O., Jan. 15.—"The Last
Card" troupe, a vaudeville combination
that tried to give a performance here
last night, played its last card in reality, when after a meager and disappointed audience had spent an hour
worrying the players, one of them appeared before the curtain and announced the summary ending of the performance and dismissed the small crowd. The troupe is said to be financially on the rocks.

Hartford City, Ind., Jan. 15.—Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Marine, who Sunday morning figured in a clever elopement from
the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Rodgers, living west of the city, have returned and have received parental blessing. Mr. Marine, who is 22 years of age, and his young bride,
who prior to her marriage was Miss Verna Rodgers, 18, went from the Rodgers home Sunday evening to Jackson, Mich., where they were married Monday.

SECRET MARRIAGE REVEALED.

Huntington, Ind., Jan. 16.—Frank Mc-Clelland and Kathleen Kacy were married October 4 at Joliet, Ill. This information leaked out Thursday, when it became known that plans had been made
for a party Thursday evening, at which
the announcement of the wedding was
to be made. Miss Ruth Heavy entertained with a dinner party at her home
on East Market street, at which the
news was formally announced to twelve
girl friends of Miss Kacy.

FIGHTING BIG DITCH.

Warsaw, Ind., Jan. 15.—Another remonstrance has been filed against the Orlando Meredith ditch. This makes
forty remonstrances against the ditch,
which is to be about twenty-two miles
long and is to extend through sections of Kosciusko, Marshall and Fulton counties, one of the biggest ever constructed in this section. The assessments total $50,000. Over 700 persons are interested in the ditch.

Agriculturist Members of Legislature
Get Together.

Indianapolis, Jan. 15.—Forty-four members of the lower house of the Indiana legislature, who are farmers, effected an organization yesterday that has as its object consideration of measures that are introduced which would affect the rural districts. Members of the senate who own farms, will be invited to affiliate with the house members.

Representative Deck, of Martinsville, was chosen president of the organization and Representative Harris, of Daviess county, secretary. Mason J. Niblack, of Vincennes, is a member of the program committee.

BILL TO MAKE ALABAMA DRY.

Measure is Passed by Both Houses of the Legislature.

Montgomery, Ala., Jan. 15.—A bill to make Alabama a prohibition state after June 30, 1915, was passed yesterday by both houses of the legislature. Should Governor O'Neal disapprove it, prohibition leaders claim it can be passed over his veto. The vote today was 74 to 27 in the house and 26 to 9 in the senate.

Governor O'Neal will be succeeded next Monday by Charles Henderson, an avowed local optionist.

They Are Weakening, and Disturb the Whole Family.

Coughs and colds usually grow worse at nightfall. Keep a bottle of FOLEY'S HONEY AND TAR COMPOUND at hand. Use it freely—there is nothing in it that can possibly harm you. But it clears the throat of phlegm and mucus, stops the coughing and choking, and heals the raw inflamed surfaces.

GEO. D. COBBES, Many, La., says: "My wife was troubled with a terrible cough, and we could get nothing to relieve her until I asked Dr. Belf of Hornbeck, who recommended FOLEY'S HONEY AND TAR so strongly that I purchased a 50c bottle. Before the contents of this bottle were used, the cough had entirely disappeared and her health was completely restored."

PHIL DESORMIER, U. S. Schaffer, Mich., writes: "Last winter I could not sleep at night on account of a bad cough. It did not bother me during the day, but started up at bedtime and kept me from sleeping. I was very weak and in bad shape. I started using FOLEY'S HONEY AND TAR and was greatly pleased to find that the cough left me entirely. My appetite improved, and I slept soundly at night."

Good druggists are glad to sell FOLEY'S HONEY AND TAR COMPOUND because it always satisfies the customer and contains no opiates. Refuse substitutes.

PUPILS ARE PLEASED WITH NATURE STUDY

Los Angeles Boys and Girls

Are Eager to Learn
About Sea Life.

Los Angeles, Cal., Jan. 15. Nature study is an exceedingly popular branch of the public school work in Los Angeles. This was clearly indicated the other morning by the large number of boys and girls who joined Dr. C. L. Edwards' excursion to Los Angeles harbor to study sea life.

No fewer than 2,000 boys and girls from all primary schools of the city gave up their regular school work for the entire day to the study of their favorite subject among the rocks at Point Fermin.

At least one teacher from each building "volunteered" to join the excursion in the interests of science, that they might aid the pupils in their studies.

All of the boys and girls were provided with baskets, buckets and pails of lunch, as it was the plan to pass the whole day at the seashore.

The day was chosen by Doctor Edwards, head of the nature study department of the public schools, for the excursion because there was an unusually low tide.

In addition to studying the habits of sea animals at home, it was the plan to gather specimens for the various school collections.

Those in the excursion included pupils in all grades from the fourth to the high school. All who indicated an intention to take the trip were excused from their other school work.

Tenderfoot: Then why isn't it afraid of me?

Ford Company Makes Public Interest- ing Statistics.

Detroit, Mich., Jan. 15.—The $10,000,000 profit-sharing plan started by the Ford Motor company one year ago will be made permanent. This announcement came from F. L. Klingensmith, secretary of the company. Klingensmith made public interesting statistics showing that each profit-sharing employee of the Ford company is depositing in banks or investing in homes and lots an average of $48.76 a month. Bank deposits of Ford workers during the last year have increased 130 1-2 per cent, a man, Klingensmith's statistics showed.

Frederick L. Hoffman, an insurance statistician, recently told the American Public Health association that cancer is on the increase in this country despite the modern agencies for combating the disease.

Crown Princess Cecilie of Germany no longer claims as her chum her cousin, Grand Duchess Olga of Russia or as her little friend her cousin, Princess Mary of England. War has severed the ties that bound in friendship most of the royal folk of Europe.

TWO WOMEN CLAIM TO BE BABY'S MOTHER

Illinois Judge Must Act in the Role of a Modern Solomon.

Jillboro, Ill., Jan. 15.—Circuit Judge Thomas M. Jett, a former congressman, in the role of a modern Solomon, a few days ago heard the stories of two women, each claiming to be the mother of the same 4-month-old baby girl.

The case took longer than was expected, and the court went into a night session to hear the testimony of Mrs. Helena Watson, a former St. Louis woman, who now has the baby and who is the defendant in a habeas corpus suit instituted by Mrs. Martinique.

Many witnesses were examined in this novel suit, in which a judge is asked to decide who is the mother of the child. The court room was packed to capacity. Fully one-third of the spectators were women, and of these at least forty were girls 16 years old or younger.

Baby Attends the Trial.
"Edna," the baby in question, was in court, being held in the arms of Mrs. Watson, the defendant, the court having decided that until otherwise directed Mrs. Watson should be considered the proper custodian.

In 1901 there were 87,000 domestic gardeners, and in 1911 there were 118,739 in England and Wales.

Bodies of Matthews and His Victims Taken to Separate Cemeteries.

Muncie, Ind., Jan. 15.—At the request of his murdered wife's relatives, the body of Webster Matthews was removed from the home of his mother-in-law where it had been taken and placed alongside the bodies of the wife and daughter he had slain before committing suicide and today two funerals were held, one for the woman and child and the other for Matthews, the latter being at a morgue.

The same minister, the Rev. Edwin Lindsey, conducted both services. A crowd of morbid curiosity seekers attended the funerals. The minister took the position that Matthews must have been insane as no sane man, even though he were viciously inclined, would have committed such a crime. At the request of relatives, the bodies of the wife and child were buried in a separate cemetery from that of the husband and father.

PET TERRIER DOG DIGS OWN PRISON

Animal Lived for Several Weeks in a Woodchuck's Hole.

Binghamton, New York, Jan. 15.—Ned, a pet terrier belonging to Charles Payne, of Bainbridge, Chenango county, disappeared several weeks ago. As he was a pet of the children in the Payne family, search was made for him throughout the surrounding country and advertisements were placed in newspapers, but no trace of him could be found. The last trace of the dog was in tracks leading from the house to the river, in the light snow which had fallen in the night the dog disappeared, and it was finally believed that he was drowned.

While Mr. Payne was walking along the bank of the river in the hope of discovering the body of the dog recently, he heard a faint bark. He investigated and discovered a woodchuck's hole. Digging in a distance of five feet he found the dog and a family of five woodchucks. The dog had begun digging in the hole in search of prey and as he progressed he piled the dirt up behind him until he was unable to get out.

The dog and the woodchucks were living in harmony. All he had eaten during the time of his imprisonment was some of the herbs and roots which the woodchucks had laid by for the winter.

MICHIGAN BREWERS ROUTED.

Give Up Fight Against Plans of Temperance Element.

Detroit, Jan. 12.—Organized opposition by the liquor interests to plans of the temperance people to make the whole of Michigan "dry" has completely collapsed, the climax coming with the action of the Michigan Brewers' association, the head and front of the "wets" fighting force, in giving up its headquarters and going out of business.

The first intimation of the collapse of the brewers' ring was given last summer, when Julius Stroh, wealthy owner of Detroit's beer barons, pulled out of the Detroit Brewers' association, alleging that the organization was operating in violation of the Sherman anti-trust law.

About the same time William Manchester, attorney for the Michigan brewers' left the employ of the association.

A. E. Gordon, formerly ope of t concern's attorneys, refuses to discu the end of the organized opposition the "drye," but admits that he is longer connected with the association.

"Pleased—well I should say so"

EVERYBODY was pleased with the wonderful results of this Carnival of Price Bargains.

"Greatest thing in the history of our business" said the firm. "Never have we sold goods as easily to such well satisfied customers," said many of the tired sales peoples at the close of the day.

Pleased were the thousands, who came and discovered that every statement that I had made was the absolute truth. This proves conclusively that no matter how hard times seem to be, if you have the right kind of goods and want to sell them at a cut price, all you have to do is to tell the people in a frank honest way about them and they will do the rest.

If you have not visited this sale it is not too late to come—your chance is now. There is still a world of good things here at a big saving. Won't you come?
Yours with pleasure,

Volunteer Company at the Electric Works Enjoyed Banquet and Smoker.

The volunteer firemen at the Fort Wayne Electric works dedicated their headquarters in the basement of the main office building and incidentally one of the most enjoyable social affairs of their existence last night. The affair was preceded by a banquet in the assembly hall in the big factory building, where the firemen went direct in their work in the shop and offices. G. Duryee presided as toastmaster. He banquet and responses were made by factory superintendent, E. A. Ames; W. F. Melching, the president of the firemen and the company's employment agent; C. D. Wheeler, foreman of one of the shop departments and prominent in the work of the firemen; the close of the banquet, the firemen met at their new hall, where they inlaid the officers and enjoyed a musical and social program which was not completed until midnight. This included a concert by the Electric works band of twenty-four pieces, a corner by Prof. John L. Verweire, the director of the band; some piano solos by C. D. Wheeler and some numbers of solo music. There were games of pool, and cards and several speeches taken as a whole it was one of the best arranged and most highly appreciated programs gotten up for the men. All of the equipment except the billiard table and the lockers for men has been placed in the new hall and it presents a most inviting and cozy appearance. There will be numerous other entertaining events pulled off in the firemen's hall during the winter and spring months.

TO HAVE OPEN MEETING.

Machinists' Union Will Bring International Officers Here.

Arrangements have been made for an address by Jack Anderson, of Indianapolis, at the open meeting of the International Association of Machinists, at their hall next Monday evening. Mr. Anderson, who is one of the vice presidents of the international association of the machinists, has made frequent visits to Fort Wayne and is quite well known and popular with the machinists and other union men in the city.

UNCLE VICTIM OF ACCIDENT.

Robinson, was fatally injured last night by a car falling upon him and breaking his back. Mr. Robinson left at noon for Indianapolis to attend the funeral. The deceased was also a steam derrick engineer, being a member of the wreck gang on the Panhandle. It is supposed he was killed while at work at a wreck.

ADDING TELEGRAPH OPERATORS

(Bellevue Gazette.) An increase in the force at the Nickel Plate telegraph office here by the addition of one operator is to be made within the next couple of days, at which time J. E. Baker will return to Bellevue and accept a position at the telegraph office in the yards. With this change there will be five keymen employed there.

Mr. Baker has been long in the service of the Nickel Plate and directly prior to the retirement of the Nickel Plate some months ago he was employed as manager of the depot telegraph office. Since the depot office has been closed he has been employed as telegrapher at the Kimball station.

ice of the Nickel Plate and directly prior to the retirement of the Nickel Plate some months ago he was employed as manager of the depot telegraph office. Since the depot office has been closed he has been employed as telegrapher at the Kimball station.

Another change announced to become effective at once is the addition of an assistant yard master in the Nickel Plate yards at Fort Wayne.

Duties becoming too heavy for the limited force to handle is the reason set forth for both the change in this city and the one at Fort Wayne.

A. C. Hanger, formerly a yard conductor, is the new assistant yardmaster. The Sentinel mentioned that fact yesterday.

PREPARING FOR FIRE COMPANY.

Chief Warner and Assistant Chief Young, of the volunteer fire company of the Packard Piano works, called at the Fort Wayne Electric works yesterday to examine the equipment of the fire company at that plant and to learn how the electricians' company is organized.

A similar company will soon be in operation at the piano works. It was organized several months ago and orders placed for a part of the equipment. Now it is proposed to get more equipment and form a company on lines followed in the organization of the company at the Lights. The Packard company now has only hose carts and hose, but will add a hook and ladder outfit some time this coming spring. They expect to become members of the Northwestern Indiana Volunteer Firemen's association and to take part in the annual tournaments. Messrs. Warner and Young were guests of W. F. Melching while at the Electric works.

CHARGE FRAUD IN MARRIAGE.

Decatur, Ind., Jan. 15.—William F. Cowans, of Hartford township, this county, was arrested in Wells county by Sheriff Green and at once furnished a bond of $500 for his appearance here on a charge of entering into a fraudulent contract of marriage. In the complaint it is alleged that on December 27, 1913, Cowans was married to his wife, Jessie, and lived with her until June 17, 1914, when without cause he abandoned her, making no provision for the support of her and their child. Cowans is accused of entering the marriage contract to escape prosecution on a paternity charge. Mrs. Cowans says her husband had treated her cruelly and falsely accused her of violating her marriage vows.

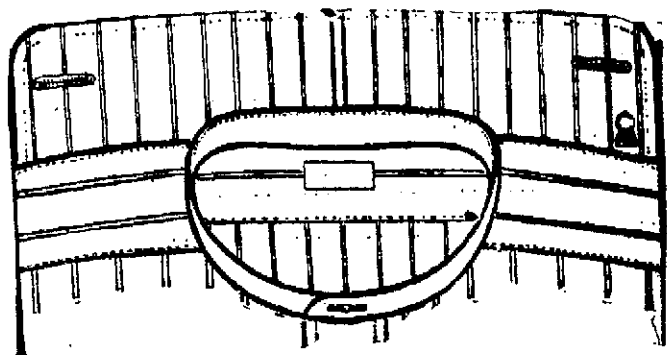

STRICKEN WHILE SPEAKING.

Decatur, Ind., Jan. 15.—Caleb, B. Andrews, one of the most widely known men in Adams county and for several years up to the time of his death, attendance officer, was buried at Monroe today, at the age of 49 years. He was stricken while making an address to the pupils of a school near Berne. He suddenly became ill and was removed to the home of George Amiller, a farmer in Wabash township, where he died. He was a son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Andrews, early pioneers of Adams county.

R., members of the local chapter were much interested in meeting her and responded to Mrs. Robertson's invitation to do so at her home yesterday afternoon. The disappointment about meeting Mrs. Guernsey, however, in no wise prevented the ladies from having a delightfully informal time and the hospitality of the hostess was as cordial as if no plans had gone astray.

Neugor, of Gary, Ind.; and Miss Florence Barrett, who lives with her parents. Covers for fifteen will be laid at the dinner.

AT THE MAJESTIC.

"Potash and Perlmutter" Tonight. Also Potash and Perlmutter tonight need an introduction to the theater-goers of this city. Montague House stories in the Saturday Evening Post in which these simple, laughable, lovable partners were first brought to the attention of the public won immediate recognition from Jew and Gentile alike because of their sincerity and their quaint humor. They were "heart-interest" stories in the truest sense of the word and it was in conserving this heart interest in the dramatization of the stories that A. H. Woods showed managerial genius, for that is the great secret of the most remarkable stage success of recent years. "Potash and Perlmutter" comes to the Majestic tonight direct from its second year at the Geo. M. Cohan theater, New York, where it broke all records for attendance.

"The Shepherd of the Hills" Coming. "The Shepherd of the Hills," Harold Bell Wright's novel, which has been accorded the largest sale in the history of publishing in America, has been made into a play by Mr. Wright with the assistance of Elsbeth W. Reynolds. It will be seen in this city at the Majestic for two days, commencing Tuesday evening.

It tells a beautiful story of the Ozark mountains, a story that holds the auditor by its thrills from the beginning to the end. It is unique in character, drawing, giving to the stage a somewhat new atmosphere.

AT THE TEMPLE.

Mirth and melody reign supreme at the Temple this week where the Revue of 1915, Henry P. Dixon's fantastic conception of what modern burlesque should be is being presented with a cast of principals that includes the incomparable Harry LeVan, the human ginger-jar, Claire DeVine, the lovely prima donna, the graceful eccentric and society dancer Helen (Patsy) Delaney, Sam Dams, Florence Brooks, Charles Saxon, Joe Dixon, Greta Skelley and others, equally as good. Of course there is a chorus, and it is a regular chorus. This show will close tomorrow evening to be succeeded by Simonds and Lake's Auto Girls with a trio of fun-makers in Harry Seymour, James J. Lake and Carol Schroder leading the cast.

AT THE EMPRESS.

With the smell of "joss sticks" in the air and with Chinese lanterns festooning the entrance to the theater, the Empress is forming a splendid environment for the presentation during the latter half of the week of that unusual act, "Hop Lee's Dream." This is the headline act on the bill for the last half of the week and it is surely a dandy. Another corking good act on this bill is the singing act of Burkhardt and White, two young men who come to the Empress direct from a very successful not the meaning of love until the one who is waiting for her in all the world, proves to her that love is something more than pure desire and selfishness. AT THE LYRIC.

The Lyric has a thrilling story to present tonight. It is a big New York city release in five acts and deals with the story of how William J. Burns frustrated the efforts of the greatest band of high class criminals that ever attempted to balk the United States government. The manner in which Burns, the most celebrated detective of modern times and reputed to be the cleverest logician and reader of men's minds that ever lived, clears up the $5,000,000 counterfeiter's mystery, justly is entitled to the name "the greatest detective story of history." The production was made with Mr. Burns personally directing the photography.

AT THE COLONIAL

Colonial Presents Vivian Martin in "The Wishing Ring" Today.

"The Wishing Ring" is the offering at the Colonial today, with an all star company, headed by the charming Vivian Martin. This play tells a very pleasing story, a story of a boy and girl romance in old England. Blight in texture, like all delicate things, it gives a truly first-love story with all its June-time sweetness and beauty. The characters, too, are pleasing, for most of them have been pictured in that fairy region where things are scarcely more substantial than dreams.

Cecil Spooner Tomorrow. This popular star is featured in an excellent drama, "The Dancer and the King," with the support of a fine company at the Colonial tomorrow. The photography and settings are exceedingly beautiful and much time and effort have been spent to make the costumes harmonize perfectly with the times. The play tells the story of the romance of a king and a dancer who became famous by her charity work. It shows how she was the influence that improved the conditions of the poorer classes in the kingdom by great self sacrifice.

AT THE JEFFERSON.

Marguerite Clark, the dainty, winsome little actress who scored such a notable success at the Jefferson a few weeks ago while playing in "The Crucible," comes to charm her myriad of admirers anew as the roguish woodland nymph in that delicious romantic idyl, "Wildflower." Owing to the other Paramount engagements which were secured prior to this booking, Miss Clark will be unable to remain for more than the single day, this fact being a matter of much regret to Jefferson patrons. "Wildflower" is an ideal characterization, constructed for just such a star as Miss Clark. The story is a drama of the lights and shadows of the sun-kissed forest, and the depths and shadows of human life. "Wildflower" is painted as a child of nature, who knows

Dr. Lyon's Sermon Thursday Evening

THE GREAT ESSENTIAL.

John 3:7—Ye must be born again.

During the Napoleon wars there met one night on a raft in the middle of a German river the emperors of France and Russia for a conference, the result of which was to change the map of Europe. But centuries before, there was a far greater conference. It was between Nicodemus, a ruler of the Jews, and Jesus Christ, the Son of God.

The result of this conference was to change the fate of countless thousands. It was no mere accident that the kind of a man that was, came to Jesus by night; it was no mere accident that Nicodemus, Jesus should speak that significant sentence, "Ye must be born again." Nicodemus was a member of the Jewish national congress; he was a man of wealth and rank, of influence and culture. He was moreover a man of undoubted uprightness and purity of character. He was, perhaps, the equal or superior of any of us. If a man ignorant and obscure had come to Jesus, and if to him the Master had said, "Ye must be born again," then a man of culture and influence might have had some reason in saying, "I can understand why that kind of a man would need a new life in order to be saved, but I do not belong to that class." Or if it had been to one wicked and vicious that Jesus had spoken these words, then the man conscious of honesty and uprightness, might have had an excuse for saying, "It is evident that a man who is wicked and impure, would need something additional in order to be saved. But that does not include me." But if to a man like Nicodemus Jesus should say, "Ye must be born again," if such a man needed regeneration in order to obtain everlasting life, so do you and I need it.

Now before we go on to consider what regeneration is, let us stop for a moment to discuss what it is not. In the first place, regeneration is not mere reformation. Reformation is, as evidenced by the word itself, a reforming or remoulding of what you already have. But regeneration is the bringing in of a new power and life which you did not before possess. Supposing a man starts to reform, he has tried that before. All he has to help him are his own powers, which are weak and insufficient. It would be like a trolley car trying to run without contact with a live wire. Merely turning over a new leaf is not salvation.

In the next place, regeneration is not simply culture. Some seem to think that all a man needs to do to keep getting a little better and better, until finally he gets good enough to be saved. This idea was no warrant in the Scripture. Supposing a farmer should start out in the spring and plow his field and then cross-plow it, harrow it and then cross-harrow it, keeping up this process all summer. You come to him and say, "What are you doing there?" He replies, "I have advanced ideas of agriculture," so he keeps on cultivating all summer, but in the fall his field is as bare as this platform. There has been plenty of cultivation, but there was nothing to cultivate. Here is the marked difference between the religions of the world and the gospel of Christ. The world says a man is good enough as he is; all that is needed is to educate, to draw out, what is already within him. The gospel of Christ, on the other hand, declares the necessity of obtaining a new life, a new power, from above which he did not before possess. You can grow in grace, but you cannot grow into grace. If you have but an embryo apple tree, you may hope to develop a full grown tree in time. But by no process of cultivation can you change willow into an apple tree, or an eucalyptus into an orange tree. Spiritual birth must precede spiritual growth, fruitage and maturity.

Moreover, regeneration is not simply being religious. A man might be as religious as Satan, and yet go where Satan goes. Religion never saved anybody.

The world has many religions, all of which are absolutely impotent to bring salvation. There is but one gospel of Jesus Christ.

Becoming a Christian, being born again, is not merely joining the church. Many people have joined the church as they would have joined a literary society or lodge. If there was an electric light bulb that gave no light, it would do no good to connect it to the pulpit, or to the platform, or to the piano; it must in some way be put into touch with the central dynamo. Many young people have come into the church from the Sunday school. They have passed the ecclesiastical examination, answering the questions just as they would pass from the eighth grade into the high school. They have been ground out like cobs out of a corn sheller. They have had no change of heart, no spiritual experience. Many have gone through the forms, the rites, the ceremonies; they have attended church and given of their money, yet all this has not brought salvation. Belonging to church does not make a Christian of you any more than going to a stable makes a horse of you or going to a garage makes an automobile of you. Yet on the other hand, when you do become a Christian, you will take to the church as naturally as a fish takes to water.

There are many things that are important for a person's welfare and development that are not essential. For example, education is important, yet many ignorant people have done a great work for the world. Friends are important, yet many who have had little influence and few acquaintances have done great good. Money is important. While it is more difficult for a rich man to be a Christian than it is for a poor man, yet if he is a Christian he can do more for the world than a poor man can do. All of these things are important, but they are not essential. But there is one thing absolutely necessary. It is what the lawyer would call a "sine qua non," without which nothing.

It is not so much a question of losing salvation; it is a question of getting something that you did not before possess. Let me illustrate this. An Irishman was the principal of a boarding school in a western state. He had been greatly annoyed by some of the boys coming late to their meals. He decided to settle this matter once for all. At one meal time when all the students were present, he arose and said, "I have an important announcement to make. If any of you hereafter come late to dinner, you will not lose your dinner." The boarders looked from one to the other, with a smile evidencing they were well pleased. A day or two later, a number of the boys went out into the country for a long walk and did not return until long after meal time, they went down into the dining room and found the table cleared off. They marched into the kitchen, and said, indignantly to the cook: "Where is our dinner?" She said, "It is too late for dinner; you can get nothing to eat now." "But the principal said if we came late we would not lose our dinner." "You will have to see him about that." They went up to the principal's office and demanded that they have some dinner. Said the principal, "You cannot have any dinner now." "Did you not tell us just yesterday," said the leader, "that if we came late we would not lose our dinner?" "Yes," replied the principal, "but you cannot lose something you never had."

Regeneration is essential not only for salvation, but also for effectual spiritual service. There are many Sunday school teachers who can impart intellectual instruction to the pupils, but they have no power to develop their spiritual life. It is impossible for anyone to give to others that which they do not possess themselves. There are teachers that can describe minutely the route from Jerusalem to Galilee, but they cannot point the way from earth to heaven. There are many church members who are interested in the material side of church work, regarding the finances, the equipment of the building, the social activities, etc., but they have no interest in soul winning. They say they do not believe in revivals; that can be easily explained: How can you expect a person to believe in something about which he knows nothing? Many ask me why I do not drink, card playing and dancing, liquor. My answer is, "When a person is born again these things will not trouble him."

There are many that celebrate their physical birthdays that have little or no interest in their spiritual birthdays. Certainly the time that you were born of the Spirit was a more important time than when you were born of the flesh. I was born physically on the 10th day of February. I was born spiritually on the 30th day of May. The 30th of May is to me a far greater anniversary than the 10th of February.

If you are born but once you will die twice, but if you are born twice you will die but once. The first death is the death of the body, the second death is the death of the soul. Over those who have been born again the second death has no power.

Someone says, "Explain to me all about the second birth." It cannot be done. I answer, "Explain all about the first birth if you please. You cannot do it. The whole subject of life and its creation is a mystery. Various psychologists have recently written books upon the psychology of conversion. They are attempting the impossible. Jesus said you cannot explain spiritual birth. You might as well put a mark upon the dissecting table and tear its little throat to pieces to find its song. You might as well take a great painting from the brush of a talented artist and analyze in the chemical laboratory, the pigments of oil and color to try to find the secret of the painter's talent. Regeneration is something that cannot be explained. It must be experienced."

Jesus said that while you could not observe the process of the regeneration of the soul, yet you can discern its results. "The wind bloweth where it listeth, and thou hearest the sound thereof." There is a young man that was formerly careless and thoughtless, with low ambitions and ideals. Now his life is transformed. What is that? It is the result of regeneration. Like the sound of the wind, it is the birth of the Spirit. Here is a lady that before was frivolous and superficial, caring only for social follies and amusements; but now her life has been enriched and broadened and heightened and deepened. She has a love for the word of God, for prayer, for Christian work. Every note the change. What caused it? The birth of the Spirit.

A dryman who had been a very wicked and profane man was converted in a meeting recently. Some nights afterward he came up to me at the close of the service and shook my hand very earnestly. "Oh," said he, "this being a Christian is great! Even my own horses know that I am saved. Formerly when I hitched them up and one would get his foot over the wagon tongue or step on the neck-yoke, I would strike and kick him and swear. But I don't do it any more, and they look up at me so surprised and pleased." What is that? That is the sound of the Spirit, the result of regeneration.

But let everyone of you seek to have his own experience. Do not expect that you will have the same experience that somebody else has. I've sometimes thought that the conversion of Saul of Tarsus has been almost a detriment to some otherwise good people. They have expected to have an experience just like Paul had. They are waiting for some great and wonderful light to burst upon their path. They think until they do, they cannot be saved. I never had any great light burst upon me, and I know that I am saved. These people make me think of a little girl who came home late from church one Sunday. Her mother said, "Daughter, why are you so late this morning?" "It was because I stayed to class meeting," she replied. "What did you do there?" the mother asked. "Just the same as the rest of them," she answered. "When my turn came, I got up and said, 'I have been serving the Lord for forty years, and I hope you will all pray for me.'"

Do not think that this is the only way by which a person may gain everlasting life. There was a farmer who lived out of town a few miles—a very wicked and profane man who attended the special meetings night after night, and became very angry. After each service he would declare he would not return, but the next evening would find him there again. After one service he became especially angry and declared that he certainly would never go back. He went home and went to bed, but he could not sleep. At last he arose and paced up and down the house all night. It was early in the fall, at corn cutting time, and as soon as it was daylight he got his corn knife and started out in the field, but he could not even cut corn. At last he dropped on his knees by a corn shock and asked God to forgive his sins and save him. The Lord spoke peace to his soul and he went to the service that night rejoicing.

There was no difficulty about his going to the front that night and publicly confessing his faith. When you hear a person quibbling and saying, "Cannot I become a Christian without coming to the front and making a public confession?" you know there is one who is a long distance away from salvation. Whenever a person means business and sincerely wants to be saved, he will do anything and go anywhere to show his loyalty and love for Jesus Christ.

This man had a daughter about sixteen, who had been away from home on a visit. Upon her return she came to the meeting and the first evening she was there when the invitation was given she lifted her hand expressing her purpose of becoming a Christian, and when opportunity was offered she walked down the aisle and gave the leader her hand, and gave her heart to Christ. She went away rejoicing in the assurance of salvation. On the way home that evening the father said to her, "Daughter, you do not think that you are saved, do you?" "Why, yes, papa, I received Christ and I know He saved me." "Oh, nothing of the kind," replied the father, "don't you think that for a moment." The next evening he came to the evangelist, saying, "I want you to talk with my daughter." "Why," said the leader, "I thought your daughter became a Christian last night." "That's what she thinks, but I know she didn't. She could not have become a Christian last night because that was the first night she was at the meeting. I attended for three weeks and got mad every night, while she didn't rest a moment at all. Oh, no, she is not saved." It took fifteen minutes for the evangelist to get that mistaken notion out of his head. He had often the idea that for anyone to be really saved that one must have an experience just like his. He must kneel by a corn shock at 4 o'clock in the morning.

I hear someone interpose. "Do you not believe it is possible for a person to approach the Christian life so gradually that he cannot look back to the time, the definite moment, when he accepted Christ?" Yes, I believe that is possible. For example, I do not care how you came into this city—whether you came on foot or on horseback; whether you came in an automobile or on a limited train. What I want to know is, are you here? But I really feel sorry for those who cannot look back to the definite time of their conversion. A religion that you can get without knowing it, you are apt to lose without knowing it.

If you meet the conditions for regeneration, you may be sure that God will give the results. The first condition is, forsaking sin. Prepare the soil of your heart for the reception of the seed. I have heard of a wealthy man in France who owned vast estates. One summer he went down in the Pyrenees mountains, between France and Spain, for a vacation. There, for the first time, he heard the singing of nightingales. He was enraptured by their music and greatly wished that he might have such birds in his own forest, but never had a nightingale been seen there. When he returned home he began to study about nightingales. He found their nest box and became an expert in care and breeding of them. He had everything asked from his estates which would be an enemy to nightingales. He found also that these birds feed upon a certain form of earthworm. He had patches of these earthworms planted all through his forests. Everything else that would be conducive to the nightingales he made right. Then he waited, but he did not have long to wait. One evening, just at twilight, he heard the sweet singing of a nightingale. This was but the herald of a whole host of birds. From long his estates became known far and wide as the "Forests of the Nightingales."

So banish from your heart everything that will be hostile to the love of God. Woo the presence of the Holy Spirit as a youth would woo the affection of a maiden. Begin this night to do what you believe a Christian ought to do and you will not have to wait very long until you have the assurance that you are a Christian.

In the next place, definitely receive Jesus as your personal Savior. This is as distinct an act as matrimony. You ask some folks, "Are you a Christian?" and they will reply, "I do not know until there is that definite acknowledgment. In a great audience one evening I asked everyone to repeat with me the great word 'Jesus'—the greatest word ever spoken by lips, human or divine. Then at a given signal, I asked them to add the personal pronoun 'My'—saying 'My Jesus.' Do you see the difference? A bachelor, for example, might say 'Wife,' but to say 'My Wife' makes it personal. Immediately there was a line of cleavage drawn through that audience, separating often husband and wife, parent and child. But many, for the first time, said, 'My Jesus' and meant it. They received Christ and a new life began."

My friend, have you ever had a spiritual birthday? If you never had one before, receive Christ now. Say from your heart, "My Jesus." Confess Him as your Savior. "Then God will do His part, and you will be born into the kingdom of heaven."

"But," says someone, "can you become a Christian in a moment?" Yes. A man may have been a bachelor all his life and at last he stands with a lady by his side in front of a minister, who puts this question to him, "Will thou receive this woman as thy lawfully wedded wife?" and to her, "Will thou receive this man as thy lawfully wedded husband?" They both reply, "I will." Before that when he signed a deed there was needed but one name on the deed, but after that two names are needed. "What," says someone, "do you mean to say that in a moment all his entire life was changed?" Yes; so when you receive Jesus as your personal Savior and say to Him, "I will," God for Christ's sake receives you and you are born again.

Have you never, in going out into the country in the summer, noticed the corn just tasseling? You saw also the ears had begun to form, upon the end of which were the silks. These silks are tiny tubes, each one connected with an embryo kernel on the cob. From the tassels there falls upon the silks a powdery, seed substance, called pollen. If these silks are receptive, this pollen flows down the tiny tubes into the embryo ear. It is fertilized, vitalized and develops into a full grown ear. But if, on the other hand, the silks are unresponsive and dry, this pollen is blown off and the ear shrivels and dies. Now apply this scientific truth to spiritual affairs. Jesus says, "Behold, I stand at the door and knock. If any man hear My voice and open the door I will come in." The process of becoming a Christian is like the palm of your hand; as God looks at it from above He calls it, "being born again." As we look at it from beneath, it is obedience to Christ.

And in the last place, not only receive Jesus, but confess Him as your personal Savior. A young man may

MEAT CAUSE OF KIDNEY TROUBLE

Take Salts to flush Kidneys if Back hurts or Bladder bothers.

If you must have your meat every day, eat it, but flush your kidneys with salts occasionally, says a noted authority who tells us that meat forms uric acid which almost paralyzes the kidneys in their efforts to expel it from the blood. They become sluggish and weaken, then you suffer with a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, your stomach sour, tongue is coated and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine gets cloudy, full of sediment, the channels often get sore and irritated, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night.

To neutralize these irritating acids, to cleanse the kidneys and flush off the body's urinous waste get four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy here; take a tablespoonful for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize the acids in urine, so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure, and makes a delightful, effervescent lithia-water drink.—Adv.

DRINK HOT TEA FOR A BAD COLD

Get a small package of Hamburg Breast Tea, or as the German folks call it, "Hamburger Brust Thee," at any pharmacy. Take a tablespoonful of the tea, put a cup of boiling water upon it, pour through a sieve and drink a teaspoon full at any time. It is the most effective way to break a cold and cure grip, as it opens the pores, relieving congestion. Also loosens the bowels, thus breaking a cold at once.

It is inexpensive and entirely vegetable, therefore harmless.—Adv.

PLAYERS READY TO STAGE FAST COMBAT

Saints and the Concordians Have Trained Hard for Opening Tilt.

From the camps of St. Mary's Athletic and the Concordia college basketball camps comes the word that players on both clubs are ready for an opening contest in the opening number of the Fort Wayne city series to be played at St. Paul's auditorium on Friday night.

Clubs representing these two factions have met many times in the history of basketball here and there has grown out of these meetings a strong rivalry and there is nothing like this rivalry to stimulate the players to action.

For several years the Saints have been training youngsters to take places vacated by the older members of the athletic club who have retired from active duty and will present three new men in the city series in "Gene Hoffman" at center, App and Ehrman forwards, with Mike Hoffman and Clem Eckrich in the defense.

On the college team Luersten will play center with Dasher and Helm at forward and Schiff and Roessler doing guard duty. Captains of both clubs are full of confidence and the game promises to be one fast battle from whistle to whistle.

Practically the same formations are used by both clubs and each depends upon its speed and accuracy in passing. This means basketball of the kind that the fans like, as neither is given to roughing it and clean sport is bound to result from this element.

On paper the clubs look pretty evenly matched and this will serve to increase the interest in the contest and to make it worth while. Kennedy will be the referee and the preliminary game will be started promptly at 8 o'clock.

TURNERS PREPARED FOR BIG STRUGGLE

Members of the Active Turner basketball team are prepared for a hard struggle in the Friday night contest looked with the Bluffton Maroons. This Bluffton team has made a reputation for itself and is looking for bigger games.

If it can show that it is of sufficient strength to demand bookies with the first string teams of Fort Wayne there will be no difficulty in getting them as Everett Scott is an attraction that most of the local managers would like to have on their schedules.

Although the showing made by the Turners in their games so far this year has not been satisfactory to the members of the team all of them have refused to become discouraged and are going into the game tonight certain that they have evolved a better system of team work and that they are in better shape than ever to put into practice the plays learned in their preliminary workouts.

IF YOU WILL CLIMB A TREE EVERY DAY IT WILL SERVE TO STRAIGHTEN YOUR SPINE.

(By Charles Cutler, World's Champion Wrestler.)

Scientists have a logical explanation of the cause of tuberculosis. Their theory is that the mind gives life to the body through the nerves and if the connection of the nerves with any vital organ is hampered it will cause that organ to become paralyzed and decay.

This decay affords a fertile field for disease germs. The best known treatment is to straighten the backbone, which is the pathway of the nerves that connect with all organs. If the vertebrae get out of place and close the small apertures from which the nerves branch out from the main stem it will cause an unnatural pressure upon them.

Nature has made the vertebrae with sockets and they will readily fall back into place without artificial adjustment if properly exercised.

Centuries ago before stairways came into general use and man was a hairy animal who found his abode in trees, it was quite the proper thing to grasp a limb and swing up into the branches to sleep.

And today this same plan will work wonders for anyone!

It will relieve the backbone momentarily and all the rigidity of any luxation of the spinal column. It will also make a person breathe hard enough to fill the remote cells of the lungs—cells that lay dormant in the ordinary man for months and do not get the purifying effect of fresh air.

The benefits of this system—one that is a large part of my regular exercising—cannot be overestimated.

If you cannot find the tree try it in your own home or club gymnasium. Even though you do not intend to take regular exercise, suspending the body by the arms for a moment two or three times a week will do much for you. You owe it to yourself to try it.

Field goals—Kinley, 1; E. Vonderharr, 6; O. Vonderharr, 5; B. Hueber, 2; C. Hueber, 1.

The Pioneers defeated the Cardinals 39 to 15.

The Agendas of Grace Reformed church won from the Exodas of St. John's Reformed church by a score of 35 to 15.

The Lyceum Braves challenge the Panthers for a game to be played next Friday evening at the Lyceum. Telephone 1409 'blue' during the noon hour today.

FEDERALS TO WEAR FINE NEW TOGGERY

The Lyceum Federals will appear in their game against the Winona Aggies Saturday night in new uniforms which will be purple and gold as are as showy as Joseph's coat of many colors. A line-up similar to the one playing the last game, with the exception of Blee, who will be replaced by DeWald at least for part of the game, will be used. The men have worked hard this week, putting in four practices, and they fully intend to beat the farmers from Winona if stiff workouts will do it.

The local club will have a much tougher proposition on its hands Saturday night than it did in the game with Corby hall. Louis Scott is coaching the Aggies, and in a communication to Manager Lennart, of the Feds, says that "he will bring a bunch of basketball players with him when he comes to Fort Wayne," with the accent on "basketball." The Winona team seems to have cornered the Prior team of last season, inasmuch as they are captained by Stroup, another whirlwind, who played such sensational ball here with the Prior organization.

Always Someone to Fill Star's Shoes in Baseball

St. Louis, Mo., Jan. 15.—The game will never see another shortstop like of Hans Wagner," was the remark made the other day by a young man who is a close student of the great American outdoor pastime, and he fully believed that he was making a prediction that would not be disputed.

However, if one goes back over the pages of the history of the national game he will soon conclude that there is every chance of a player the equal of Wagner appearing on the short field in years to come, and almost as much a possibility of this player being a member of the Pittsburgh club, for the records are full of processions of stars. It seems there is always as good a man to take one's place no matter how good one is.

Perhaps there is no more striking example of this rule than the second base position on the Philadelphia Athletics. The procession of stars around the pivot point on the Athletic infield dates back to the earliest days of the game, when the Philadelphia National association club was known as the Athletics.

For years Philadelphia raved about the second base play by A. J. Reach, the baseball and sport goods manufacturer, who formerly was a bright star in the baseball arena. He was a wonderful hitter and a grand fielder. But when Larry Lajoie joined Philadelphia and was stationed at the pivot sack, the Quaker city fans forgot all about Reach. Lajoie was pronounced the greatest ever. And he was for many years but in time Philadelphia developed another second sacker who displaced him from the throne. The player in question is Eddie Collins, who has been bought by the Chicago White Sox.

Left field on the Philadelphia Nationals is another position that has had one star after another. First came McMullin, a great hitter and fielder, and next the wonderful Billy Hamilton, who was replaced by the mighty Ed Delahanty. Of late Sherwood Magee, who was traded last week to Boston, has been the star in left field.

The New York club has always been fortunate in the pitching box. It has never been without a single star there. Perhaps every other position was weak, but the pitchers' mound could always be rolled upon to give cause for joy to the Manhattan rooters.

In the old days it was Timothy Lincecum who won two flags and also a pair of world's championships in 1888-89. Then came the wonderful Amos Russett with his dazzling speed and brilliant curves, who in turn made way for the mighty Christy Mathewson.

Behind the bat New York was also rather fortunate, having one after another such crack receivers as Buck Ewing, Roger Bresnahan and Chief Meyers.

Boston is another city that produced great pitchers and catchers. Its batteries are famous wherever baseball is known. At present Joe Wood and Carrigan are the Hub's star battery, when right in the early days it was Spalding, Tom Bond, Whitney and Clarkson, who were the crack pitchers, while the catchers were Snyder and King Kelly. In between such stars as Jack Siveets, "Kid" Nichols and Charley Bennett appeared, and of late years "Cy" Young, Bill Dineen and Lou Criger were the darlings of the Hub gods.

Chicago also produced some wonderful pitchers and catchers. In the box appeared Spalding, Corcoran, Clarkson, Reulbach, Miner Brown, Lavender and Cheney, while the catchers are Flint, "King" Kelly, Kling, Archer and Bresnahan.

Right field has always been Detroit's strong point, that team having such star guardians in that position as Sam Thompson, Sam Crawford and Ty Cobb. Second base on Chicago has had some wonders in Ross Barnes and Evers, while first base on the same team has been Anson and Chance.

In St. Louis left field and shortstop have always been the strong places. Such sluggers as Tip O'Neil, Jesse Burkett and George Stone played in left for the Mound city, while its star shortstops were Forde, Gleason, Glasscock and Wallace.

Boston in center has had such stars as Hugh Duffy, Brodie "Home Run" Charles Jones, Billy Hamilton, "Chick" Stahl and Tris Speaker, while on third cowered some wonderful players in Ezra Sutton, Billy Nash, Jimmy Collins, Lord and Hertog.

THE MARKETS

Hog speculators again started the market Thursday on a higher basis but packers refused to follow the advance and as a result the average price on hogs in the larger cities fell from 20c to 30c a hundred. The local markets have cut over 25c per hundred on their prices and are only offering $9.50 for the best. The price remained steady for several weeks but the drop did not come unexpectedly as it was predicted that it would fall.

May wheat went to a new high level Thursday at the big markets, the day's gain being 2 1/2c, and as a result one mill raised its price 2 cents on the bushel and the remaining price in the city today is $1.32, while yesterday most of the grain sold at $1.30. It is thought that the price will go up tomorrow for the demand for wheat on the markets Friday in Chicago was great and buyers bought all that they could lay their hands on. However, nothing definite can be said about the direction in which the price will go as the market is very wild.

The corn market, which has been hovering around 50c for the past few weeks on the Fort Wayne markets, is expected to go up soon as prices are reported as having moved up 1 cent at the Chicago exchange markets. Rye, which is now selling for $1.00 a bushel, is expected to go still higher.

The corn market remained steady as did all others Friday. Fresh eggs were in great demand and retailed at 43c to 46c a dozen. It is reported that the prices will soon begin to get lower as farmers state that the hens which have been on the strike during the winter have decided to go to work again.

CHICAGO GRAIN AND PROVISIONS.

Chicago, Jan. 15.—Urgency of European demand despite record breaking prices, drove the wheat market today higher and higher. Temporarily selling by the day, the largest houses in the trade carried quotations back to about last night's level, but then a new wave of buying resulted in a much steeper advance. After opening at 1 1/4c off to 3/4c higher, prices rallied to 1 1/4c for May, as against 1 1/4c, the top yesterday.

The close was nervous at 1 1/4c to 2 1/4c 2 1/2c net advance.

Export call brought about a rise in corn as well as in wheat. A reaction which ensued was not of a slanting sort. The opening, which varied from 1/4c to 1/2c higher, was followed by a good general rally.

The close was strong at 3 1/4c to 4 1/4c above last night.

Oats swung with other grain. The bears were in a decided minority.

THE DAY ON WALL STREET.

New York, Jan. 15.—The feature of today's early stock market was the decline to lowest prices of the week of some of the most active issues, notably U. S. Steel, Baltimore and Ohio was a conspicuous exception, adding a material fraction to yesterday's rise, but reacting later. A thirteen point advance in Lackawanna on one transaction attracted some attention. Among specialties, American Tobacco rose 1 1/4 points. London pursued its usual course of a lower range for our securities, Canadian Pacific being the striking exception to the average decline.

Except for further declines in the speculative leaders and a few additional gains among the specialties the market showed no pronounced change from its opening tendencies. Steel and Amalgamated failed to better their early positions. Among specialties American Linseed common and preferred and some Motor shares were up one to two and a half, while Virginia-Carolina Chemical preferred gained five. Western Union made a favorable response to its statement of earnings.

Bonds were strong, with a good demand for convertible issues.

Low price specialties were conspicuous in the final hour. Gains of 1 to 3 1/4 points were made in this class, Missouri Pacific being most active. The closing was strong.

BODIES OF TWO MEN RIDDLED BY BULLETS

Italians Held After Find Near Guinness Farm at Laporte.

Laporte, Ind., Jan. 15.—Two bullet-riddled bodies were found yesterday with a stone's throw of the Belle Guinness farm, following a report to the police from two Italians that they had heard shooting in the Fox memorial park. One victim, a young Italian, had a bullet in the back of his head and another in his back. In a clump of bushes 200 feet away the police came across a second body, that of another young Italian. He had nine wounds, seven made by revolver bullets and two by shotguns. The men were identified as Joseph Mirisenna and Salvatore Cuneo, unmarried, ice workers, who lived at the boarding house of John Sash. The men who reported hearing the shooting were Sash and a boarder, Tony Toubie. They were arrested but stoutly deny having any knowledge of the murders. No weapons were found near the bodies but in the Sash house the police found a revolver from which six shots had been discharged. A loaded revolver and a quantity of cartridge wads for a shotgun, said to be identical with some found near the bodies, also were found in the house. The two dead men and Toubie came to Laporte within the last few months from Cleveland, O. Toubie and Cuneo are said to have known each other in Italy.

The police are working on several theories, one being that Cuneo and Mirisenna were either shot down as the result of an Italian vendetta or are victims of the Black Hand.

PRISONER LEAPS OFF TRAIN AND ESCAPES

Kokomo, Ind., Jan. 15.—Bert Thatcher, arrested Sunday afternoon in Winnipeg, Manitoba, on information from here, charged with forging checks amounting to $700, escaped from a train at Staples, Minn., yesterday while being returned to this city, according to a message received by the local police.

Following the arrest Barney Kelley, Kokomo chief of police, went to Winnipeg to get Thatcher and Miss Blanche Lamoreaux, with whom he had eloped, and bring them back. Thatcher waived extradition.

On the return trip Thatcher complained that the handcuffs hurt his hands and persuaded the police chief to slip them off for a short time. As the train slackened speed to go through Staples, Thatcher slipped from his seat and ran from the moving train. Kelley had the train stopped as soon as possible, but has been unable to locate the alleged forger.

Thatcher has a wife and several children here. The girl with whom he eloped is returning to the home of her parents in this city.
